CAPITAL GROUP ON JOBLESS TO UNIFY PROGRAM

Will Form Clearing House for All Involved in Relief Campaign.

DULUTH PLAN ELICITS PRAISE OF WOODS' AID

$43,943 IN CONTRACTS AWARDED BY NAVY

Phillips and Lucey Named to Direct Drives in New England and West.

First concrete action toward the solution of the District's unemployment situation was taken yesterday at a meeting of the executive committee of the Washington Organization on Employment Stabilization and Relief when it was decided that a central clearing house for all parties involved be formed.

Sentiment of executive committee members was that such a clearing house should be operated from the offices of the District Commissioners with other organizations and persons cooperating to the fullest extent.

Another meeting of the committee is scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning at the Y. W. C. A. Building, at which time it is hoped to complete first steps in the set up of such a clearing house.

Describes Duluth Plan.

Frederic H. Delano, chairman of the local committee, who called yesterday's session of the executive committee members, first called upon chairmen of various subcommittees to report their findings on the situation in the Capital.

He then introduced J. R. Lawrence, aid to Col. Arthur Woods in the national campaign against unemployment, who emphasized the need for focusing the local sentiment on the District situation. The need for quick and energetic action by various agencies to meet the local problem with a practical plan was stressed by Mr. Lawrence.

Mr. Lawrence read to the executive committee members a description of the "Duluth plan," which he said had worked very well. This plan calls for the division of all agencies into four groups: (1) city officials; (2) employers; (3) labor, and (4) social relief agencies.

District Layoffs Reduced.

In Duluth, city authorities have agreed to go ahead with all possible speed on anticipated public works; employers have agreed to retain on their payrolls all persons employed for one year; labor has agreed to have its members cooperate until the emergency has passed, and social agencies have agreed to maintain indigent, sick and jobless persons who are bonafide residents of the city.

Action in the formation of a clearing house here and the setting up of a similar relief organization awaits only word from Col. Woods in reply to the recent proposal of the District Commissioners that they form citizens committees to cooperate in meeting the crisis. They asked Col. Woods whether this plan might interfere with any portion of the national relief program.

Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, president of the board of commissioners, reported to the committee that he and his associates had already succeeded in reducing the percentage of layoffs in the per diem District employes from 70 to 25 per cent, thus keeping many additional men at work on the basis of a 5-day week.

Letters and Reports.

He reported also that efforts were being made to rush school building activities and other construction work while the department of streets and highways will maintain active forces throughout the winter, thus furnishing employment for approximately 1,000 men who ordinarily might have been dismissed.

A report from John B. Colpoys, chairman of the public works committee, revealed that letters have been written to Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams relating to reported layoffs at the Washington Navy Yard; to City Postmaster William M. Mooney concerning the halting of overtime work for present employes and the use of jobless for at least part time work and to the Veterans' Bureau and other employers asking their cooperation in meeting the emergency.

Reports also were heard from Dr. Leifur Magnusson, director of the

Calvin Coolidge

Says: The election revealed little that was not already known. The reaction against favorable trade conditions was not so severe as in some previous campaigns. With the event behind us the country can now give its undivided attention to improvements in its business structure.

It is evident there is little help to be expected from legislation and not much to be feared from it. The best that can be hoped for is that the Government will be content, now the pressure of politics is removed, to permit business to work out its own salvation.

The managers of business have a distinct duty in this connection. They must not only continue to be alert but they must make it better known that they are alert. The soundness of a system is best demonstrated by its success. The political reaction that has been encountered is slight compared with the social reaction that might be expected if the people lost confidence in our economic system.

That system has worked greatly for the benefit of the people. By results it must be demonstrated that it is still the best instrument for their service. That is the immediate problem which every one responsible for business management must meet.

HAWKS SETS RECORD IN FLIGHT TO HAVANA

Mystery Plane Flown From New York in 9 Hours and 21 Minutes.

MAY RETURN TOMORROW

Havana, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Nine hours and 21 minutes after leaving the suburbs of New York this morning, Capt. Frank M. Hawks tonight set his mystery monoplane 13 down in the semi-darkness of Curtiss Airport with a new record for an airplane flight from the American metropolis to the Cuban capital.

Capt. Hawks left Curtiss Field at 8:50 o'clock this morning and landed here at 6:11 tonight. He lost 43 minutes en route, stopping 23 minutes at Jacksonville and 20 at Miami this afternoon.

The previous record—14 hours—was made March 5, 1928, by the late Wilmer Stultz, who carried Charles A. Levine and Miss Mabel Boll in a non-stop trip.

The large crowd of watchers which had been waiting at Curtiss Airport since early afternoon for a glimpse of the noted flier did not see him until he was immediately over the field. He was flying low at terrific speed, when in the light of the beacons, the form of the tiny ship was discerned.

Hawks made a quick circle of the field and set his ship down to a graceful landing. He addressed Cuban reporters in Spanish as the flashlights boomed.

Hawks told the Associated Press he probably would return to New York Saturday and might attempt to establish a new time record on the return flight. He said the headwind he encountered on the way here greatly impeded him.

But outside of the adverse wind, Capt. Hawks said that his flight was a most enjoyable one.

"Guess I've beaten the Mabel Boll-Charles Levine record by more than five hours at that," he said.

The flier told the Associated Press that he averaged 182 miles an hour during the trip, flying against the 35-mile-an-hour wind.

Man's Return Is Sought In $2,000 Check Case

Clarksburg, Va., Nov. 6.—Informed of the arrest and imprisonment of Homer Rone, a former resident, at Maquoketa, Iowa, county officers today sought requisition papers from Gov. Conley for Rone's return here to face an embezzlement charge.

It is alleged that Rone cashed a check belonging to the Chillicothe Walnut Log Co., of Chillicothe, Mo., for $2,000 while buying logs for that concern in this section lately, and converted the money to his own use.

SECOND MAN DEAD OF POISON ALCOHOL

Succumbs at Gallinger After Bout Which Took Life of Pennsylvanian.

VETERAN OF WORLD WAR

Death yesterday took the second man in a denatured alcohol drinking bout when John P. Pickett, 52 years old, address unknown, succumbed at Gallinger Hospital.

Pickett and Edward Warnock, 57 years old, were discovered last Sunday night drinking the alcohol in a rented room at 1308 Wisconsin avenue, according to police. The next morning Warnock was found dead and Pickett was sent to the hospital.

Edward Harris, who rented the room, said the two men had apparently drank about a quart of the poison. He had instructed another roomer to take it away from them when he discovered what they were doing.

Pickett told Harris when he rented the room that he was a Spanish-American War veteran, while Warnock said he fought in the World War.

An autopsy held Tuesday brought the verdict that Warnock had died of acute alcoholism. Dr. J. Ramsay Nevitt, coroner, said an autopsy would probably be held for Pickett.

Warnock's body was shipped to Newcastle, Pa., but it was not known last night whether Pickett was from the same place.

Kunz Again Faces Larceny Charges

House Member Took $350 to Get Man's Sister Into U. S., Says Warrant.

Chicago, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Representative Stanley H. Kunz, Democrat, defeated by John C. Granata for reelection Tuesday from the Eighth Illinois District, was sought tonight on a warrant charging larceny by bailee.

The warrant was obtained by Frank Satlawa, of Lemont, Ill., who charged the representative with accepting $350 from him on an unfulfilled promise to obtain entrance from Poland into America for Satlawa's sister.

A similar warrant was sworn out against Representative Kunz recently by Mrs. Anna Rogal, of Chicago, but was not served when she reported to police that the $800 which she advanced to obtain entrance of a relative from Austria had been returned.

SWEDEN'S PLAN FOR DISPENSING LIQUOR STUDIED

System Allows Citizen to Buy Four Quarts of Rum Monthly.

U. S. ENVOY GIVES DATA TO LAW COMMISSION

Canadian and Methods in Other Countries to Be Considered.

PROHIBITION REPORT EXPECTED IN WEEK

Pennsylvania's Police Head Heard; Woodcock May Testify Later On.

(Associated Press.)

Facts concerning the Swedish method of liquor control, known as the Bratt system, were laid before President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission yesterday by John M. Morehead, American Minister to Sweden, as part of the commission's investigation into various liquor-control systems.

The law enforcement group already is deep in its task of preparing a report on just what, if anything, they believe should be done about the dry law in this country.

Considerable speculation at first surrounded the request to the American Minister that he appear, but assurance was given later that the commission will also have before it facts and figures concerning the Canadian system and other control plans in virtually every part of the world in which they exist. Mr. Morehead is in the United States on a leave of absence.

Under the Bratt system, upon which Mr. Morehead was questioned not only as to its provisions but as to its effect upon temperance, liquor is controlled under the government by monopolies financed by private capital. The quantities of liquor purchaseable by an individual are limited to a maximum of approximately 4 1-5 quarts of spirits a month.

Pennsylvania Official Heard.

A second witness to appear before the commission yesterday was Lynn G. Adams, superintendent of the Pennsylvania State Police, who is familiar with liquor conditions in that State. The detailed testimony of both witnesses was kept secret.

Other witnesses will appear before the commission later, and the possibility was advanced yesterday that Prohibition Director Amos W. W. Woodcock might be among them. Mr. Woodcock has been summoned to return to Washington from San Francisco, where he was about to sail for Honolulu. He is expected to reach the Capital by November 13.

Assurance was given yesterday that completion of the commission's prohibition report before that date is not probable. A rumor that the group's recommendations might be in shape to lay upon President Hoover's desk by the end of next week was emphatically denied.

Chairman Wickersham himself answered with a smile when asked if his previously expressed hope for presentation of the report to Congress "early in December" would materialize. He said:

"I won't make any predictions now. I might be wrong."

Minority Report Also Seen.

Later authoritative assurance was given that a majority of the commissioners themselves have not final-

79 Deaths in Ohio Mine Disaster Spur State and Federal Inquiries

ORPHANAGE'S FRAUD CASE GOES TO JURY

Former Treasurer of Virginia Methodist Home Facing Embezzlement Count.

$37,976 SUM INVOLVED

Richmond, Va., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—The case of James P. Jones, charged with embezzling funds of the Virginia Methodist Orphanage while he was treasurer of the institution was in the hands of a jury tonight.

After arguments of counsel this morning and afternoon, the jury retired at 5:15. At 7:30 o'clock a verdict had not been reached.

Jones' trial, which started October 28, was on an indictment charging him with converting $4,944.50 of the orphanage's funds to use in his furniture business. Evidence centered around the conflicting testimony of two accountants, one for the orphanage board and one for Jones.

Six indictments charging embezzlement and larceny were returned against Jones by a hustings Court grand jury. They allege misuse of $37,976.40 of orphanage funds.

DO-X May Make New Tests Today

Huge Flying Boat to Hop to Britain Tomorrow, Says Builder.

Amsterdam, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—The DO-X, largest flying boat in the world, probably will leave Saturday for England on another lap of the flight that is intended eventually to set the great craft down in New York Harbor.

The DO-X soared from Altenrhein yesterday and came down here after an easy flight, but was prevented from going further by the weather. When Dr. Claude Dornier, one of the builders, arrived tonight by train from Berlin he said forecasts indicated the weather would be excellent Saturday and hence a start would be made for Calshot.

The length of stay in England depends on the weather, but the departure from there will be toward Havre and then Lisbon, where the long-dreamed-of flight to America will begin. Mr. Dornier said that the twelve-motored DO-X probably would make an experimental flight Friday, going to The Hague and Rotterdam.

Rescue Workers Fear Other Bodies Still Left in Debris.

Tragic Scenes Result As Relatives Come to Claim Dead.

Millfield, Ohio, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—The inhabitants of this little village who were spared in the explosion at the Sunday Creek Coal Co.'s No. 6 Mine resumed their normal ways tonight, although still dazed by yesterday's disaster. The blast killed 78 persons, including seven officials of the mining company, and injured 30, also are in hospitals. Some of those hurt are expected to die.

There is a possibility, officials declare, that other bodies are still in the mine and may never be recovered. It is feared several persons were blown to pieces by the explosion in the shaft, or buried by falling walls and ceilings.

State and Federal investigations are under way, but actual search of the ruined "West Eight" tunnel, for the scene and cause of the explosion, will not be undertaken until tomorrow. J. J. Forbes, director of the United States Bureau of Mines at Pittsburgh, will have charge of the inquiry. He will be assisted by W. E. Smith, chief of the Ohio Bureau of Mines.

Rescue work continued all night. The last of the 79 bodies had been removed by noon today.

The bodies of 70 miners lay in the company store here until prepared for burial and claimed by the bereaved families. They were then turned over to relatives for burial.

Identification was complete this afternoon except for one body, the Red Cross announced.

Members of an inspection party, approaching a recently constructed airshaft a mile and a half from the main entrance, were killed by the explosion. These included W. E. Tytus, president, and P. A. Coen, vice president of the company, both of Columbus, and representatives of other mining companies. Their bodies were sent home for burial.

Smith, Ohio chief of mines, said it would be possible to determine both the site and the cause of the explosion. Speculation turned chiefly to the presence of gas in the mine and the possibility a spark from open lamps had ignited it. It also was suggested that delay in bratticing cutovers between entrances, which would have insured the circulation of fresh air through the deeper parts of the mine and have prevented the gathering of gases, was the cause. HOUSE DEADLOCKED, CHAOS IS FORECAST

Republicans to Be Helpless, Even Should They Retain Nominal Control.

MUST TRADE WITH FOES

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

No matter what the final result of Tuesday's balloting may be, the House of Representatives thirteen months from now is going to be a chamber of chaos. That is certain.

The Republicans may hold on to their control, but it won't mean anything so far as the business of legislating is concerned. Their vaunted "machine" will be a parliamentary wreck, a sorry-looking thing which, though it may have a nominal chauffeur, will be able to get nowhere unless the Democratic riders in the back seat say the word.

The Democrats, should they get control, will be in about the same dilemma.

So the result, in any case, will be a House so evenly balanced that it will be hard to enact any legislation at all that carries a party brand. In the opinion of many people, this might prove a blessing.

With the jury still out, so far as a final verdict on Tuesday's election was concerned, Washington yesterday had to continue speculating over what the effect in the House will be.

These two things, however, were certain:

With 50 or so Republican representatives limping out, and as many new Democratic representatives coming in, a lot of secretaries and clerks on Capitol Hill are going to have to find new jobs. Some, of course, will be retained by the Democrats who are coming in, but not many.

Meanwhile, William Tyler Page, veteran clerk of the House, doesn't know whether he has a job or not. If the Democrats are in control, Page, of course, will have to get out.

Regardless of whether or not the Democrats get control, there will have to be a general shuffling of committee assignments. The make-up of these committees depends upon the Republican and Democratic alignments in the House.

So great was the Republican majority, after the Hoover landslide of two years ago, that the Republican leaders decided to make a shake-up in the House committees, with the result that the Democratic represen-

SCHALL GAINS SEAT TO GIVE PARTY MARGIN

Republicans Assured 48 in Senate to 47 for Democrats.

FARMER-LABORITES RETAIN ONE BALLOT

ONE CONGRESSIONAL RACE UNDETERMINED

Matter of Control Probably Depends on Deaths During Year.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

The Republicans, with the election of Senator Schall in Minnesota, yesterday definitely established a paper plurality of one in the Senate, while the fight for the organization of the House swayed back and forth with the indications that the Republicans would have a margin of two over the Democrats at least until the recount stage is reached.

Schall's victory, after his opponent, Einar Hoidale, had generally been believed to be elected, gave the Republicans 48 in the Senate, the Democrats 47 and the Farmer-Laborites 1.

The count in the House stood: Republicans, 217; Democrats, 216; Farmer-Labor, 1; undetermined, 1.

Small Margins of Victory.

This Republican margin over the Democrats of one hung by such a slender thread as the three-vote victory of Representative Vestal in the Eighth Indiana, after he had swayed back and forth all day. It hung also on such a victory as that of Representative Purnell, in the same State, a victory by only thirteen votes.

The still undetermined contest was that of Representative Yates, at-large Republican from Illinois. Originally it appeared that he had been defeated. In the official count he had forged into an appreciable lead over his Democratic opponent.

Figuring in the Democratic senatorial and congressional totals was not only the scalp of Senator Robsion in Kentucky and the five House seats whic hthe Democrats lost in 1928, but also the heavily Republican Tenth District, where one of the five House Ruths, Mrs. Langley, went down to defeat.

To all practical purposes control in both House and Senate has, of course, passed to the Democrats.

Struggle to Be Drawn Out.

And while the continued wrestling for the paper majority of the House is a fascinating thing to follow, even the question of whether the Democrats or Republicans will organize the next House, involving the Speakership and the committee chairmanships and patronage, for which this drawn-out struggle is being waged, will not be definitely determined until December, 1931, when the reorganization is effected.

And determining the outcome then will be not only how the count comes out now, or the question of which way Kvale votes, but how many members die or retire in the year to come. The annual turnover in the House from death and other causes is impressive.

For example, there are 22 vacancies in the present Congress.

Retirements Will Be Minimum.

Undubtedly with the situation so tense as it is now, retirements during the next year from either the Republican or Democratic side will be held down to the minimum. But

Rum Flood From St. Pierre 'Predicted for U. S. in Spring

Coast Guard Officials Hold Theory Bootleggers Are Storing Cargoes on Island Ready for Action Following Canadian Ban on Flow.

(Associated Press.)

A great spring liquor-smuggling drive to bring Canadian liquor into the United States via the picturesque French island of St. Pierre, in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, was envisioned yesterday by officials of the watchful Coast Guard.

The theory that bootleggers are piling their cargoes high on the rocky little island was put forward when officials scanned records covering the time since last May 27, when Canada put a legislative quietus on over-the-border exportation to this country.

The records disclose that while imports to St. Pierre from Canada have skyrocketed in the wake of the Canadian law banning exportation to the United States, scant, if any, increase in the illicit traffic from St. Pierre has been detected.

During last July and August 870,678 gallons of whisky were exported from Canada to St. Pierre, compared with 39,622 gallons during the same period in 1929. During the first six months of 1930, 688,446 gallons or an average of 114,408 gallons per month were exported to the island.

These statistics were given to the Customs Bureau by the French government, but no figures were avail-

Volume Production

America has been the leader in introducing methods of manufacturing and distributing in huge quantities. The system has resulted in economies that have made the luxuries of yesterday the commodities of today, and that have raised our standards of living to the highest in the world. But volume production requires volume consumption to maintain employment and the scale of incomes that allows every one to have the majority of the better things of life. When the buying pace lessens it is reflected throughout the system and culminates in loss of wages and work for those who can least afford it. The modern methods of volume production have proved so advantageous that they must be maintained—it devolves upon every individual to sustain the American policy of volume consumption to preserve and increase his own prosperity.

Year-Old Hiccoughs Case Takes Life of Detroit Girl

Parents of School Student Received Hundreds of Telegrams Suggesting Aids for Ailment; Thousands of Physicians Viewed Patient to No Avail.

Mount Clemens, Mich., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Virginia Mae Coppins, whose almost continual hiccoughing attracted the attention of thousands of American physicians, died in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital here today.

The girl, a high school student, began hiccoughing more than a year ago. At that time she hiccoughed continually for 53 days before being relieved. Afterward she suffered numerous attacks that lasted one or two weeks. The attack which resulted in her death started a week ago.

While in a hospital she was visited by 5,000 physicians who were in Detroit for the annual convention of the American Medical Association. Specialists studied her case, but no permanent cure was discovered. Because the girl also was suffering from inflammation of the brain, induced by heart disease, physicians feared to operate.

The girl's parents received hundreds of telegrams and letters offering advice. Remedies, which included everything from eating ice cream to application of raw potatoes, were suggested. One man came to East Detroit from Cleveland in a taxicab to bring the girl a patent medicine.

NEWS of SUBURBAN Washington and the Surrounding States
Appears on Pages 2 and 20 Today

with such a chaotic condition as the outcome of Tuesday's balloting brings about, it will easily be seen that importance will attach to every change in the membership the next 12 months.

The nearest parallel to the present situation was the first session of the Sixty-fifth Congress, the war Congress.

The lines were tightly drawn then. The Congress had been called into extra session immediately upon adjournment of the Sixty-fourth. On April 6, 1917, the House proceeded to organize so that it could declare war.

217 Supported Clark.

On the question of speakership, 217 members voted for Champ Clark, 205 for Mann, 2 for Gillette, 2 for Lenroot and 2 voted present. There were only 428 members in attendance.

Among those voting for Clark, interestingly enough, was the then Representative Schall, whose vote now figures so importantly in the organization of the Senate. Schall made a speech in behalf of Clark, saying that Republicans far out-numbered the Democrats in his district, but he thought the Democrats should be permitted to organize the House to prosecute the war.

The organization was not effected until late at night and the House then proceeded to vote upon the resolution declaring war, adopting it the morning of April 7.

Shouse Expresses Confidence.

Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, and who with Charles Michaelson, director of publicity, and the redoubtable National Chairman Raskob, did so much to contribute to the Democratic sweep, was confident that the final clearing up of Tuesday's count, without regard, of course, to what may happen in the next twelve months, would give the Democrats the margin necessary to organize the House.

In a formal statement he pointed out that while he had no way of knowing how Kvale would vote, he nevertheless ran in Minnesota with the Democratic indorsement. Kvale had opposition from a Republican, but while running under the Farmer-Labor banner, the Democrats also embraced him. In fact, Kvale's father used to sit on the Democratic side.

"Democracy's sweep at the polls last Tuesday," Shouse said, "was even greater than the tally of senators and representatives who succeed Republicans indicates.

Expects Advantage in Recounts.

"In every section of the country a phenomenon of the campaign was the narrow margin by which the banner-bearers of the Republican party held onto their seats."

The Democrats should have the advantage in the recounts, which will be numerous, Shouse pointed out.

Discussing the closeness by which some of the Republican leaders won, Shouse pointed out that Speaker Longworth won by only some 3,000, while his usual majorities are from 10,000 to 30,000, and that Majority Leader Tilson and Will R. Wood, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign, especially the latter, barely came through.

Chairman Hawley, whose majority in 1928 was around 60,000, Shouse pointed out, "just missed being numbered among the casualties last Tuesday."

Laughs at Lucas.

"No summary of the election would be complete," Mr. Shouse said, "if it did not pay some attention to the estimate of the result by Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican national committee, in which he said: 'Everything considered, the result must be taken as a vindication of the national administration, and as convincing evidence of the abiding faith of the thinking people of the country in the leadership of Herbert Hoover.' His further deduction is that the Democrats have carried merely those seats which would naturally come to them in the reflex of a by-election of the Republican landslide of two years ago.

"This suggests that Mr. Lucas counts such incidents as J. Hamilton Lewis' 700,000 majority in Illinois and the election of twelve or thirteen Democratic representatives in that State and the turning of practically the entire Indiana delegation over to the Democrats as indicating the continued faith of the American people in the Hoover administration, and that the complete evaporation of a Republican House majority of 103, and the substitution of Democratic control of the House, as merely a normal political happening that need cause his party no great concern."

Wage Cuts Past, Asserts Speaker

Social Workre Addresses Unitarian Layman's League.

"The day of the horizontal wage cut in the textile industry is a thing of the past," said Dr. Robert C. Dexter, of Boston, secretary of the department of social relations of the American Unitarian Association, in reporting to the Unitarian Laymen's League of All Soul's Church last night, on his recent study of the textile industry in the South and New England. He was referring particularly to the Danville, Va., strike which he said was due to a 20 per cent flat wage cut, made following an agreement with President Hoover by the Nation's leading industrialists that they would not cut wages.

He pointed out that other textile manufacturers were effecting economies by labor specialization devices, which while they caused some unemployment and considerable readjustment, were eminently fairer to the operative.

He was not particularly optimistic regarding the success of the American Federation of Labor drive in the South, unless other manufacturers should be shortsighted enough to make general wage cuts.

Special Session Urged in Virginia

Price Favors Early Action to Provivde Relief for Drought Victims.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—A special session of the General Assembly was urged here tonight by Lieut. Gov. James H. Price, to provide legislative drought relief with, if necessary, an emergency appropriation to be disbursed through local agencies.

He suggested the issuance of certificates of indebtness for $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 and the anticipation of gasoline tax to the counties, to let road work go forward at once, thus relieving unemployment.

Members of the General Assembly might serve without compensation during the session, the lieutenant governor said. It should not last longer than four days or a week, he added.

MONTGOMERY VOTE GOES TO DEMOCRATS

Two Republicans Win Office; Hilton Has Small Margin for State Senate.

DEMOCRATIC VOTE SPLIT

Montgomery County remained safely in the Democratic fold this election, according to unofficial returns compiled yesterday. Two Republicans won office, but their influence is limited as they are both in minority positions.

Walter W. Dawson, Republican, was elected a member of the House of Delegates and Frank H. Karn, Republican, was elected a member of the board of county commissioners. There are four other members of the House of Delegates and six other members of the board of county commissioners. Robert G. Hilton, Democrat, won election to the State Senate by a majority of 95.

The vote was so close that the official canvass of the returns, launched yesterday by the board of election supervisors and expected to be completed some time after midnight, may change the result. Should a few clerical errors be found in tally sheets from the 24 precincts, it is possible that Thomas Anderson, Republican candidate for State Senator, be elected.

Dawson appeared safely elected, but Karn had a small majority of about 25 over William Frank Ricketts, his Democratic opponent, and it was possible for him to lose his place in the event of a clerical error being discovered.

The election was probably the closest in the history of the county. The Republican-Progressive Democratic coalition came close to achieving the defeat of the Lee regime in the county.

Not until the last precincts, Bethesda and Chevy Chase, finally finished counting about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, was the result of the election anywhere near certain.

Progressive Democrats, defeated in the primary election, clung to their organization and quietly continued work against the organization Democrats. The coalition did not become actually apparent until the day before election and election day when they opening came into the fight on the Republican side.

House Cleaning Expected.

As the result of the default of the Progressives, it is probable that the Democratic party in the county will do a little housecleaning. Many of the Progressive leaders definitely declared themselves for the Republicans and it is probable that they will be read out of the party or disciplined in some manner.

Dawson, 29 years old, a Rockville lawyer, led the House of Delegates group, receiving more votes than any other candidate.

Preston B. Ray, clerk of the circuit court, a Democrat, received the largest number of votes in either party and Lacy Shaw, county commissioner, was second.

Details of Vote.

Unofficial results indicated the following vote: For Representative, David J. Lewis, (Dem.), 10,142; Frederick N. Zihlman, (Rep.), 8,682; for associate judge, sixth judicial circuit, John S. Newman, (Dem.) 9,624; Arthur D. Willard, (Rep.), 8,866; for governor, Albert C. Ritchie, (Dem.), 9,324; William F. Broening, (Rep.), 9,177; for attorney general, William Preston Lane, (Dem.), 9,287; David A. Robb, (Rep.), 8,420; for comptroller of the treasurer, William S. Gordy, (Dem.), 9,323; W. Nemton Jackson, (Rep.), 8,990; for clerk of the court of appeals, James A. Young, (Dem.), 9,280; Carles S. Warner, (Rep.), 8,575.

For State senator, Thomas M. Anderson, Republican, 9,141; Robert G. Hilton, Democrat, 9,236; for members of the House of Delegates—Democrats: Dr. George L. Edmonds, 9,297; Miss Lavinia Engle, 9,298; Odorian W. Roby, 9,064; Marvin Farrington, 9,047; Ralph S. Morrison, 9,026; Republicans: Walter W. Dawson, 9,495; Edwin A. Swingle, 8,510; Charles C. Galloway, 8,342; Frank L. Hewitt, 8,421; W. Windsor Hodges, 8,692.

For county commissioners, First District, Downey M. Williams, Democrat, 9,141, William H. Fulks, Republican, 8,876; Second District, Sherwood Duvall, Democrat, 9,249, William H. RECEIVERS IN PITTS CASE ASK BACK RENT

Query District Court as to Procedure in Acounting for Defendant's Funds.

OFFICE ARREARS CITED

G. Bryan Pitts, former chairman of the board of the F. H. Smith Company, entered anew into litigation over the company's affairs yesterday when receivers for the Jefferson Apartments asked the District Supreme Court for instructions as to whether they should require an accounting from him of funds received prior to the receivership, including sums due or purporting to be due from him for rent of his palatial 21-room apartment, telephone bills and other expenses incident to his occupancy of the entire seventh floor of the building.

The request for instructions was made by Herbert L. Davis and Charles W. Arth, receivers for the apartment building appointed by the court in response to a petition filed by Grace Cauldwell, of 1519 Oak street northwest. Pitts was named as a party defendant in the action.

Ask Back Rent.

In the petition filed by the receivers, they point out that the rental value of the space occupied by Pitts would have brought in a revenue of $850 a month. It also is set out that the apartment was furnished and decorated at the expense of $25,000 and that the expense was borne by the Jefferson Corporation, operators of the apartment.

Pitts occupied the apartment from April 1, 1924, to April 1, 1930, and the receivers tell the court that he should be compelled to pay rent for that period, except for $6,735, and also should be forced to reimburse the corporation for the money expended in decorating and furnishing his apartment.

Charges that records of Pitts' account with the apartment corporation have been destroyed also are made. Pitts now is under indictment along with three other former officials on charges of conspiracy to embezzle funds and destroy records of the F. H. Smith Co. The Jefferson receivers charge that "account books of original entry showing transactions between the said G. Bryan Pitts and the Jefferson Corporation showing the charges made each month against him for the occupancy of said apartments at the rate of $850 per month have been removed or destroyed by some one not definitely known." These books, the receivers, claim contained accounts of long-distance telephone calls made by Pitts, which are said to total hundreds of dollars.

Two Others Linked.

The receivers also point out that during the period the apartment was managed by the Maddux Hotels, Inc., another Smith Co. subsidiary, that Anthony Senes, "so called bodyguard" of Pitts and Helen Schneider, secretary to Pitts, occupied apartments in the Jefferson other than the space occupied by Pitts. These accounts, the receivers assert, appear as debit entries, and the receivers claim that Pitts should pay them.

Charge also is made that the building is encumbered by a first trust of $650,000 and a second trust of several hundred thousand, and that the second deed of trust either is in the hands of the Smith Co. or Pitts.

Would Settle Taxes.

The receivers also advised the court that they were unable to explain the disposition of funds received from the rentals of the property prior to their taking over the management of the building. They assert that they have discovered certain evidence showing distribution of many thousands of dollars of the funds of the corporation, which they have traced to Pitts. Photostatic copies of checks are attached as exhibits. The checks are said to have been on the account of the W. H. West Co., which for a period of years managed the building.

In addition to asking the court's direction the receivers also request the right to issue receivers' certificates, or other evidence of indebtedness, for the purpose of securing sufficient money to settle all overdue taxes.

COUNTY WATER MAIN LOAN HELD ILLEGAL

Gloth Says Arlington May Not Borrow to Expand Supply System.

KNIGHTS ARE HONORED

ARLINGTON COUNTY, BUREAU OF THE POST, Tel. Clar. 569. Clarendon, Va.

With the opinion of Commonwealth's Attorney Gloth that the county board of supervisors may not borrow money to extend its water mains, made public yesterday, the county will find itself in a serious situation when the opinion of Gloth is read to the board today, County Engineer C. L. Kinnier stated last night.

Gloth points out that the furnishing of water to Arlington County was made possible by an act of Congress approved April 4, 1926. As a result the General Assembly in the same year passed a bill for the issuance of bonds by the county for construction and operation of the water system.

Section 7 of the act provides that the board shall have the authority to construct, maintain and operate a public water supply system and to fix rates at which water shall be supplied to the consumer. Gloth maintains that there is nothing in the act which gives the board the authority to borrow money, other than as provided for in the bond issue described in the act.

"As a special session of the General Assembly," Gloth says, "the board of supervisors of Arlington County were authorized to borrow not in excess of $100,000, and to issue and sell its notes therefor, payable at such times as may be fixed by the board.

"In my opinion there is no authority for the borrowing of money for the extension of the water supply system in the county, and therefore it is my opinion that the county can not borrow additional funds on its water system unless authorized by a proper bond issue voted upon by the people."

County Engineer C. L. Kinnier stated yesterday that the board has since April 30 made extensions to its water system which have cost a total of $75,000 to meet the urgent demands made by the citizens due to the continued drought. Of the total amount expended by the county, he pointed out, the average payment which has been made has been about one-sixteenth of the total coast.

Having won in the recent Statewide membership contest, the Edward Douglas White Council, Knights of Columbus, at a special meeting held last night in the auditorium of St. Charles School, at Clarendon, was presented with a bronze bust of Columbus as the first prize. The presentation was made by State Deputy S. L. Kelley, of Richmond, who congratulated the local council for its work during the contest for having more than doubled its membership, bringing it to a total of 150 from 47. The council came in for further praise for having been second in the race in the Southeastern district, which comprised States from Maryland to Texas.

Among other speakers were District Deputy John J. Blake, of Richmond, Va., and Past State Deputy Martin Green, of Alexandria.

Joseph Mulligan, grand knight, was presented with a gold emblem, the presentation being made by State Deputy Kelley.

The county board of supervisors will meet with the chiefs of fire companies tonight at the courthouse. The meeting has been called to discuss ways and means whereby the local departments may be operated in a more efficient manner.

With its goal set at 1,260 members, all is in readiness for the Arlington County Chapter American Red Cross membership roll call which will run from Tuesday, November 11, to Thanksgiving Day, inclusive, according to County Chairman George A. Collier.

Each community will have several workers with a local chairman and every citizen will be given an opportunity to renew his membership or to enroll.

The community chairmen are: Arlington-Barcroft, Mrs. Julian Tapp; Ashton Heights, Mrs. Elinor Gary; Lyon Park, Mrs. Arthur Orr; Clarendon, E. L. Bennett and H. W. Beattie; Lyon Village, Mrs. M. N. McKnight; Clarenford, Mrs. Frank L. Ball; Lacy, Mrs. Harry Wright; Veitch, Mrs. Harry R. Thomas; Bon Air-Glencarlyn, Mrs. W. B. Mabry; Glebewood, Mrs. Robert O. Howell; Arlington Ridge-Oakcrest, H. L. Woodward; Arlington Hills-Virginia Highlands, George A. Basham; Fort Myer, Chaplain Vaughan; Radinor Heights, Mrs. C. L. Shear; Washington District, Mrs. J. H. Walton, and county public schools, Mrs. Mae Jacobs.

During the month of October there was a total of 264 deeds recorded in the county clerk's office, according to the monthly report given out yesterday. The tax to the State amounted to $659.48.

Other items included in the report are: Wills and administrations, 2; State tax, $8.80; chancery suits, 26; State tax, $39; actions at law, 29, State tax, $52; fines collected during the month for violation of the prohibition law amounted to $925, with the costs totaling $607; fines in cases other than prohibition were $46.25, with the costs amounting to $86.

Delinquent real estate taxes collected during the month going to the State treasurer amounted to $243.82. The amount collected that goes into the county treasury amounted to $2,397.55.

The commissioners of election consisting of Mrs. Grace Donaldson, W. O. Pickett, and O. J. LePrevost met yesterday and certified to the election which was held on Tuesday.

The official returns follow:

For United States Senate—Glass, 1,949; Byars, 836; Morgan, 201.

For Congress—Smith, 2,282; Brooks, 636; Daniel, 104.

For Change in County Government—For, 2,667; against, 1,030; form of government—Commission form, 428; county manager form, 1,935.

Election of County Board—At large, 1,690; by districts, 1,149.

County Treasurer E. Wade Ball last night announced that he and his deputies will be at the People's State Bank in Cherrydale today from 9 to 4 o'clock for the purpose of collecting all real estate and personal property taxes now due the county.

On and after December 5 there will be added to all unpaid tax bills a penalty of 5 per cent.

Before a large audience which filled the Parish Hall at St. George's Episcopal Church to its capacity last night, the St. George Players presented the comedy, "Her Step-Husband." The play, which is being given under the auspices of the Men's Club, will be repeated tonight at 8 o'clock.

J. W. Coleman, contractor, has a large force of workmen working nights on the additions to the Washington-Lee High School.

Mr. Coleman states that he is doing all in his power to have the building completed on schedule time. The contract calls for the completion of the building January 15, 1931.

NEW SENATOR

Underwood & Underwood.

ROBERT D. CAREY, former Governor of Wyoming, who is the new Republican senator from that State.

VICTORY FOR SCHALL IN MINNESOTA SURE

Leads Hoidale by More Than 6,000, With 100 Rural Precincts Missing.

ANOTHER CLOSE BATTLE

St. Paul, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—The reelection of Thomas D. Schall, Republican, as United States senator from Minnesota, was assured tonight with less than 100 rural precincts unreported.

Schall held a lead of more than 6,000 votes over Einar Hoidale, Democrat, after 3,609 precincts out of 3,709 had been tabbed. The vote was: Schall, 283,220; Hoidale, 276,822.

The unreported precincts are in the rural territory in which Schall steadily cut down the lead amassed by Hoidale in the urban centers and gradually forged ahead.

Schall, who will complete his first senatorial term next March, is a veteran of close contests. He served five terms in the House, in several of which he was elected by narrow margins.

As a candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination in 1924, he was considered in line for a defeat until final returns brought him to the front—and victory. Again, in the autumn, it took late results, the response of the rural areas, to assure him of victory over Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor. In the Republican primary last June, he piled up his big vote in the farming communities, and this week in the finale of this drama of hard struggles, the rural vote saved the day for him.

His rural support was considered the more remarkable because of the hard campaign made against him not only by Democrats but by many Republicans. A majority of the newspapers of the State, including a large share of the rural press, normally Republican, were hostile.

Absentee Votes Awaited in Kansas

Democrat Leading by 26 in Gubernatorial Fight Without Them.

Topeka, Kans., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Absentee votes, which will not be counted until next week, will be the deciding factor in the Kansas gubernatorial race between Frank (Chief) Haucke, Republican, and Harry Woodring, Democrat, on the face of complete unofficial returns tonight.

The latest revised unofficial returns gave the Democratic nominee an advantage of 26 votes, after the lead had swung back and forth by a close margin as minor corrections were reported. Officials believed the approximately 3,500 absentee ballots constituted a block of votes that could turn the result either way.

The unofficial returns gave: Woodring, 214,678; Haucke, 214,652; Dr. John R. Brinkley, independent, 180,970.

West Virginian to Hang For Slaying of Women

Williamson, W. Va., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Convicted at a one-day trial of the slaying of three women, including his wife and mother-in-law, Claud Adams, 30 years old, was sentenced today to be hanged December 26. The victims were Mrs. Adams, 28 years old; her mother, Mrs. John Campbell, 55 years old, and Mrs. Campbell's sister, Mrs. Cynthia McGuire, 45 years old, the latter of Johnson City, Tenn. The defense claimed Adams was temporarily insane. At the time of his arrest following the shooting October 1, Adams told police he suspected his wife of being friendly with other men, but gave no reason for the other killings.

Five Men Will Serve On One Term in Senate

Niles, Ohio, Nov. 6 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—The Daily Times points out that five men will serve one term in the United States Senate as the result of the election of Robert J. Bulkley to fill out the senatorial term for which Frank Willis was elected in 1926.

Three men have been elected for this term; two have died and two have been appointed. There were three Republicans and two Democrats.

Willis, after his election in 1926, died in 1928. Cyrus Locher was appointed to the place by Gov. Donahey. He ran as a dry in the primary of 1928 and was defeated by Graham P. Hunt, a wet; Theodore Burton, Republican, beat Hunt in the election. He died in 1929.

Roscoe McCulloch was appointed to succeed Burton. Taking a bone dry stand, he has now been beaten by the dripping-wet Bulkley.

This is a record probably without parallel.

CHAOS IS FORESEEN IN HOUSE DEADLOCK

Republicans, Even if Holding Nominal Control, Can Accomplish Little.

FOES TO HAVE WHIP HAND

tation on committees was further pared down.

As the committee on agriculture now stands, it is made up of fifteen Republicans and seven Democrats.

Obviously with the Republican majority cut down, with the alignment almost equal, the Democrats will have to be given greater representation on the committees.

The prospect, then, is that instead of having seven Democrats, as at present, the committee on agriculture would have perhaps ten, leaving the Republicans twelve. The same evening-up process would be followed in the case of other committees.

Process Would Be Reversed.

If the Democrats should get control, however, the whole picture would be reversed. A Democrat would sit in the Speaker's chair. Democrats would head the 45 standing committees and Democrats would be in the majority on all committees.

Here a quarrel may develop. At present, of the ranking Democrats on these 45 committees, 32 are from the South. According to tradition, these 32 Southerners would take over the chairmanships if the Democrats won control.

Will the Democrats from the North, the Middle West and the West be willing to see so many members from one section in charge of committees? In the political upheaval which has just taken place, the heaviest contributions to a Democratic victory were made by States above the Mason-Dixon line, such as Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio.

In the speculation as to who would be Speaker in the case of Democratic control, there seems to be general agreement on fiery Jack Garner, of Texas, at present the Democratic floor leader. He is without doubt one of the most able Democrats who ever sat in the House.

However, three or four names are mentioned when the speculators begin selecting a new floor leader. The first man suggested is the able Joseph W. Byrns, of Tennessee, and after him Charles R. Crisp, of Georgia; Henry T. Rainey, of Illinois, and W. A. Ayres, of Kansas.

There is some question as to whether Byrns would want the job. He is now the ranking Democrat of the committee on appropriations, the biggest and busiest of all the House committees, and would become its chairman in the event his party gained control.

Byrns could hardly be floor leader and chairman of the appropriations committee at the same time. Either job is enough for one man. The question is, which would he want? Those who know him say he probably would prefer to be chairman of the committee and let the job of floor leader go to someone else.

Crisp, whose father was Speaker in the Cleveland administration, is one of the best parliamentarians in the House. In fact, he had the job of parliamentarian before he became a member. He is a good orator, popular and robust—all desirable qualities in a leader.

Held Somewhat Radical.

Rainey and Ayres also are able men although, in the eyes of some of the Democratic conservatives, Rainey is a bit too radical.

Some Democrats would have the choice of several chairmanships, in the event their party took over control. Christopher D. Sullivan, of New York, for example, is now the ranking Democrat on two committees—District of Columbia and insular affairs.

If he should choose to be chairman of the insular affairs committee, the Democrat next in line on the District of Columbia committee would move up to the chairmanship. In this case, the chairman of the District committee—popularly called the "Mayor of Washington"—would be Representative Mary Norton, of New Jersey.

The Republican who now is chairman of the District committee—Representative Frederick N. Zihlman, of Maryland—has just been defeated, so there will have to be a change regardless of which party gets control.

The ranking Republican on the committee is Representative Clarence McLeod, of Michigan, the "baby member" of a few years ago. It is understood he would take the job.

A similar situation exists with regard to the committee on public buildings and grounds, the present chairman, Richard N. Elliott, of Indiana, having been defeated Tuesday. The Republican in line for chairman is J. Will Taylor, of Tennessee, and the Democrat, Fritz G. Lanham, of Texas.

It is believed that a few Democrats would prefer to pass up the chairmanships of minor committees so they might get places on one of the major committees—appropriations, ways and means, agriculture or any of the ten others.

Ranking Members Listed.

The ranking Democrats on the various committees are as follows:

Lindsay Warren, North Carolina, accounts; James B. Aswell, Louisiana, agriculture; Joseph W. Byrns, Tennessee, appropriations; Henry B. Steagall, Alabama, banking and currency; John E. Rankin, Mississippi, census; Lamar Jeffers, civil service and election of President, Vice President and representatives; Loring M. Black, New York, claims, and also education; Edgar Howard, Nebraska, coinage, weights and measures; Edward E. Eslick, Tennessee, elections, No. 1; John J. Douglass, Massachusetts, No. 2; John H. Kerr, North Carolina, elections, No. 3; Mell G. Underwood, enrolled bills and pensions; Allard H. Gasque, South Carolina, expenditures in executive departments; Riley J. Wilson, Louisiana, flood control; J. Charles Linthicum, Maryland, foreign affairs; Samuel Dickstein, New York, immigration and naturalization; John M. Microscope-Defying Virus Causes Colds, Savants Find Passes Through Finest Filter and Shies at Cultivation in Laboratory Which Would Hasten Cure, Johns Hopkins Group Discovers.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—The common cold, research of more than two years by a corps of specialists at the Johns Hopkins medical school has established, is transmitted by a disease-producing virus so small that it defies the most powerful microscope.

This virus present in the nose of a person suffering from a cold passes through the finest filters, and it is impossible to make it grow in the laboratory, according to Dr. James A. Doull, former director of the Johns Hopkins research, and Dr. Perrin H. Long, now of the Johns Hopkins faculty.

The finding is the first definite announcement to come out of the research, supported by the $195,000 John J. Abel fund established early in 1928 by the Chemical Foundation, Inc. It is made in the current issue of the proceedings of the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine.

The work done by the Hopkins group, whose research is financed for five years by the Abel fund, as well as the work done elsewhere in studying the cause of the cold, leaves much to be desired before the hope of isolating the specific organism can be found, a member of the faculty said today.

If the virus could be made to grow in a laboratory tube the hope of developing a vaccine would be nearer, but the virus now blamed for the widespread malady estimated to cause $2,000,000,000 loss a year in lost wages to American workers alone, can not be detected even with the strongest microscope nor finest filter.

Dr. J. A. F. Pfeiffer, associate in the University of Maryland Medical School, last June announced the isolation of a microscopic organism which he said seven years of research had established as the cause of the cold, and he said a preventive vaccine had been developed. But the Johns Hopkins scientists and others have failed to comment on Dr. Pfeiffer's results.

Drs. Doull and Long confined their announcement to the bare results and did not make any forecasts as to their possible value.

Confirmation of the theory that the cold is transmitted from one person to another, was said to be itself important, as the hypothesis has been held that the cold may be the product of chemical changes in the body.

Dr. Doull is now professor of preventive medicine at Western Reserve University, Cleveland. He resigned last summer and was succeeded as head of the common cold research here by Dr. V. A. Vanvolkenburgh.

Oklahoma Voters Fail to Aid Women

Amendment to Permit Them to Hold Major Offices Not Adopted.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Under an attorney general's construction of the total vote needed for passage, a proposed constitutional amendment permitting Oklahoma women to hold major political offices appeared today to have failed of adoption.

Attorney General J. Berry King held that the question, to be adopted, must receive a majority of all votes cast in the election.

On the basis of unofficial returns this afternoon, it seemed the amendment would fall short of the necessary total, although it had nearly a 2 to 1 affirmative vote. Many persons who voted for candidates did not bother with State amendments.

DRY CHIEF RECALLED FOR HOOVER REPORT

Woodcock's Data Desired by President; Mitchell to Confer on Funds.

ACTION IS SURPRISE HERE

(Associated Press).

Cutting short an inspection trip being made by Amos W. W. Woodcock, prohibition director, to the West Coast and Honolulu, the Department of Justice has summoned him to Washington to prepare data requested by President Hoover and to confer with Attorney General Mitchell on the question of appropriations.

Announcement by Woodcock in San Francisco Wednesday that he had been called to Washington started rumors as to the cause for his return which were not entirely quashed by an announcement from the Justice Department of the reason. The department did not say what information had been requested by Mr. Hoover but said it had been asked for some time ago.

Statement Is Issued.

After an early assertion that Woodcock had been recalled, as he prepared to sail for Honolulu, to confer on routine matters with Attorney General Mitchell, the department issued a statement saying the conference was to be on matters connected with the prohibition unit. The announcement said the Attorney General wanted to inform himself about "some matters bearing on appropriations, hearings on which will commence the latter part of this month."

The announcement concluded with the statement:

"The director also was wanted here to make some reports to the Attorney General to furnish data requested some time ago by the President."

This was not amplified by the department and nothing came from the White House to indicate what data Mr. Hoover had requested. The President's Law Enforcement Commission was in session with the announced purpose of preparing a report on prohibition within a few months, but whether this had any connection with Woodcock's return no one would say.

Action Causes Surprise.

The recall of Woodcock caused surprise in circles close to the prohibition enforcement unit because of his known desire to spend more time in the field than in his Washington office. During the last two months Woodcock has been out of Washington most of the time visiting New York City, up-State New York, Chicago, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin points, and on the present trip he planned not to return to the Capital until after December 1.

Liner, Rudder Lost, Being Towed to Port

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Favored by wind and tide, the disabled Alaska Steamship Co. liner Northwestern was being towed today by two small boats to Dunday Bay, Cross Sound, in southeastern Alaska, where she will be anchored until tugs arrive from Seattle to bring her to drydock.

The passengers will remain aboard until the arrival next Wednesday of the liner Alameda, which sails from Seattle Saturday. The Northwestern, carrying 30 to 50 passengers for Cordova, Latouche and Seward, sent out S O S signals this morning when she lost her rudder 2 miles off Cape Spencer.

Navy Awards Contracts.

Contracts totaling $43,943 were awarded yesterday by the Navy Department in line with its policy of aiding in the employment problem. One of the contracts let was for $6,992 to the Belmont Iron Works, of Philadelphia, for the erection of a crane runway at the local Navy Yard.

Other awards made were for $13,133 to the Gray Artesion Well Co., of Pensacola, Fla., for a well at the naval air station at that place, and $12,863 to the Newport Contracting &Engineering Co., of Lee Hall, Va., for installation of heating systems at the naval air station at Anacostia.

Between 300 and 500 workers will be employed through the action of the Shipping Board, which yesterday ordered the Merchant Fleet Corporation to advertise for bids for the sale, with a view to scrapping, of 45 idle steel vessels owned by the Government. The awards will be made with the provision that work begin at once. Bids will be opened December 10 and the work will run over a 24-month period. The vessels are stationed as follows: 15 at New York, 22 at Norfolk and 7 at Philadelphia.

Canvass of Governors.

Col. Woods' organization took a step forward toward ultimate completion yesterday with the appointment of two regional directors. William Phillips, of Boston, former Minister to Canada, was named to handle the work in the New England States, while Capt. J. F. Lucey, of Dallas, was chosen to direct the jobless relief in the Southwestern States. Lewis H. Brown, New York, president of the Johns-Manville Co., was appointed as director of the work for larger industries.

Announcement was made from Col. Woods' office that civilians will be employed at Army post exchanges where it is possible, returning soldiers to duty. The office also announced that migratory workers would be directed to territories where scarcity of labor has been reported.

A telephone canvass of governors by Col. Woods yesterday resulted in conversations with 44 and with representatives of four others. All reported relief work under way. Col. Woods said that the Federal organization stood ready to lend any possible aid to State units and that in turn State workers would report the success or lack of success attending their efforts so that other States might be guided by the information.

SIX ARE ARRESTED BY POLICE RAIDERS

Permitting of Gaming Is Charged to Those in Custody.

LIQUOR CHARGE IS MADE

Four men were arrested on charges of setting up a gaming table when members of the special investigation squad raided a place on Twenty-first street near L street northwest. Three others found in the place were booked as Government witnesses and were required to post $100 bond for their release.

Those arrested were Edward F. Kelley, 35 years old, of Twelfth street near G street northeast; Alfred T. Lewis, 28 years old, of Buchanan street near Fifth street northwest; Wilma S. Carroll, 25 years old, of Rhode Island avenue near Fourteenth street northwest; Harry F. Adams, of Thirty-fourth street and Eastern avenue, and R. L. Robertson, of Thirteenth street near Harvard street northwest. They were released on $2,000 bond.

Mike Kaplan, of E street near Sixth street, and Milton Semans, of Eleventh street near Monroe street northwest, were charged with permitting gaming, in a second raid.

Continuing their labors for the day, the vice squad placed a second charge against Aaron Trachtenberg, 27 years old, of Fourteenth street near the District Line. Wednesday he was charged with possession and yesterday the charge of sale was placed against him.

Georgia Starts Roosevelt Boom

First For-President Club Is Formed There, Reports Legislator.

Greenville, Ga., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Spontaneous movement for the organization of a Roosevelt-for-President Club was reported here today by W. E. Irwin, legislator-elect from Meriwether County. He said a meeting would be held here next week to perfect organization to boom the New York Governor for the Presidency.

Membership lists were distributed and one today contained 500 names, he said.

Warm Springs, which Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt has developed for sufferers of infantile paralysis, is 10 miles from Greenville and in the same county, Meriwether. Duhring his frequent visits to the Georgia health resort he has become known to hundreds of Meriwether citizens.

Driver Whose Motor Killed Lad Convicted

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 6.—Henry J. Ishanski, young ice salesman, tried before Judge Albert A. Doub on a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Roy Ketterman, 19, on the McMullen highway near Rawlings, was found guilty today. The case had been under advisement since October 30.

Ishanski, with Fred Weisenmiller and two young women, was in an automobile en route to an outing. The defense was that Ketterman stepped out on the road in front of Ishanski's machine. Sentence was deferred and Ishanski renewed his bond.

PRESIDENT AWARDS ACE HONOR MEDAL

Rickenbacker's Air Fight 12 Years Ago Rewarded at Ceremony.

250 SEE PRESENTATION

For a deed of valor performed a dozen years ago in the air over war-swept France, Col. E. V. Rickenbacker yesterday received the Congressional Medal of Honor at the hands of President Hoover on Bolling Field.

Visibly moved as the President, assisted by Maj. Gen. James E. Fechet, chief of the Air Corps, pinned the pale blue ribbon about his neck, Col. Rickenbacker turned to the microphones on the stand, and, in a voice which trembled with emotion, replied to the brief address of the Army's present commander in chief. His short reply passed on to his comrades, living and dead, on land, in the air, and on the seas, the honor he had received.

"Mr. President," he said, "I should be ungrateful if I failed to recognize this great honor as a true tribute to my comrades in arms, soldiers and sailors, living and dead. In peace and in war they have contributed their share. They have perpetuated the traditions and high ideals of the United States in the air as they have on the land and sea."

Called Ace of Aces.

Mr. Hoover, in his speech of presentation, had called attention to the extreme hazards of aviation at the time Col. Rickenbacker made his record, and alluded to him as "the universally recognized ace of aces of the American forces."

"Your record is an outstanding one for skill and bravery," continued the President, "and is a source of pride to your comrades and countrymen."

Among the small crowd of approximately 250 who braved a bitter wind to see the premier airman of another day so signally honored were many notables as well as nine of his former comrades of the Ninety-fourth Pursuit Squadron in its war days.

Squadron Pays Tribute.

Flying overhead was the new Ninety-fourth, eighteen pilots, all of whom save one—Capt. Victor H. Strahm, their leader—were in high school when Rickenbacker won his decoration. The only member of the old squadron still in the Air Corps who was able to be present was Capt. Frank O'D. Hunter. The other two members remaining in the service, Maj. Carl Spatz and Maj. Maxwell Kirby, were unable to get here for the ceremonies.

President Hoover remained for a few minutes after the presentation, while the new Ninety-fourth, the First Observation Squadron—oldest in the Army—and the Twentieth Bombardment Squadron passed in review before the stand. Following the review, the Ninety-fourth performed the Lufberry circle and simulated attacks on the bombers.

During this exhibition of modern flying skill and daring the President sat wrapped in a heavy overcoat and followed the maneuvers closely and with evident interest.

Marks Third Presentation.

This belated recognition of Col. Rickenbacker's fighting prowess marks the third award of America's highest military decoration to an airman. The first was presented to Lieut. Frank Luke, posthumously, "for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action against an enemy," and the second to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh shortly after his New York-Paris flight.

Although Rickenbacker is officially credited with 25 victories in the air and unofficially credited with another, only one fight was made the basis for the award of the Medal of Honor. In this battle above the earth, he attacked seven enemy planes in formation and shot down two of them.

Presented to Pilots.

The citation, which was read by Gen. Fechet to open the program, declares, "While on a voluntary patrol over the lines near Billy, France, September 25, 1918, Lieut. Rickenbacker attacked seven enemy planes (five type Fokker, protecting two type Halberstadt). Disregarding the odds against him, he dived on them and shot down one of the Fokkers out of control. He then attacked one of the Halberstadts and sent it down."

After the presentation, Rickenbacker received the congratulations of the members of his old squadron and was presented to the pilots of the new.

Heflin, in Radio Speech, Reports Fraud Charge

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—In his first speech since he was defeated by more than 50,900 votes, Senator J. Thomas Heflin tonight reiterated over the radio his previous charge of fraud and corruption in the election and announced he will demand a Senate investigation.

Appearing on the same radio chain, Hugh Locke, defeated in his race against Judge B. M. Miller, Democratic nominee, said he wished to congratulate Judge Miller and added that he is writing the governor-elect to that effect. Locke, running on an independent ticket with Senator Heflin, was beaten by a majority of more than 55,000.

Hawaii Is Republican, Judd Tells Mr. Hoover

(Associated Press.)

Lawrence M. Judd, Governor of Hawaii, told President Hoover yesterday that "despite Democratic gains throughout the United States, Hawaii had remained loyal to the administration.

He carried to the President election results showing that of 85 elective offices on the island, 80 would be filled by Republicans and 5 by Democrats. Only two Democrats will sit in the Legislature.

Gov. Judd, who met President Hoover for the first time, was a luncheon guest at the White House.

Disbarred Attorney Is Named Prosecutor

Van Buren, Ark., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Citizens of the Fifteenth Judicial District of Arkansas would like to know who, if any one, is their authorized prosecuting attorney. Returns from Tuesday's election indicated that Harney M. McGehee, the Democratic nominee, defeated his Republican opponent by a substantial majority.

McGehee, however, stands disbarred as a practicing attorney in Arkansas by an order from the State Supreme Court, which upheld a Circuit Court verdict convicting him of unethical legal practices.

The Circuit Court verdict, rendered last June, disbarred him permanently. Last week, however, the Supreme Court ruled the disbarment should not extend beyond one year.

REVOLT IN URUGUAY IS ROMORED COMING

Armed March on Montevideo Said to Be Preparing at Rivera.

ELECTIONS HELD CAUSE

Buenos Aires, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Press reports from Montevideo said today that rumors were plentiful concerning an impending revolution in Uruguay, centering in the vicinity of the frontier town of Rivera.

The Rivera correspondent of the Montevideo newspaper El Dia reports that an outbreak is scheduled for November 10 under the leadership of Neponuceno Saravia, Miguel Berrutti and others said to be discontented with the present government. It was reported also that the leaders have prepared a force of armed civilians to begin an advance upon Montevideo.

Government officials told the Montevideo correspondent of La Nacion that such reports were without foundation.

It is understood that part of the unrest is due to the government's decision to call presidential, senate and national council elections for November 30, despite the request of the opposition party for postponement.

Saravia long has been a source of worry to the Colorado party, which at present is in power. He is the leader of insurgents calling themselves Nacionalistas, a branch of the Blanco party, which throughout the history of Uruguay has bitterly opposed the Colorado faction.

In December of last year Saravia, whose area of operation in the northern provinces of Rivera, Cerro Largo, Treinta Tres and Tacuarembo, caused a flurry when he threatened a revolt against the government, but the movement soon quited.

Political correspondents say that several times this year the government has interrupted his plans but he continues working in the northern provinces, particularly in Rivera. The latter borders Brazil and housed many political exiles before the recent revolution in that country.

1876 Death Sentence Stricken Out at Last

Special to The Washington Post.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Richard Dowell, sentenced to be hanged at Weston for the murder of E. M. West in Lewis County in 1876, was today no longer a fugitive from justice. His case, with 86 others, was ordered stricken from the docket.

Dowell escaped from the courthouse yard at Weston while preparations were being made to hang him from a specially built gallows and no trace of him ever was found. If living today he would be 95.

Board to Select High Naval Ranks

Secretary Adams Announce Those to Choose Admirals, Captains, Commanders.

Secretary of the Navy Adams yesterday announced the appointment of a selection board, headed by Admiral Jehu V. Chase, commander in chief of the United States fleet, to choose officers for promotion to rear admiral, captain and commander. The board will select seven captains to be promoted to the rank of rear admiral, eighteen commanders to be captains and 30 lieutenant commanders to be commanders. It will meet on December 8.

Other members of the board are Vice Admirals Arthur L. Willard, commander of the scouting fleet, and Richard H. Leigh, commander, battleship divisions, battle fleet, and Rear Admirals Lucius A. Bostwick, John R. Y. Blakely, David F. Sellers, Harris Laning, Harry F. Yarnell and Walter R. Sexton.

The selections to be made by the board will fill estimated vacancies for the calendar year 1931. Convening of the selection board in December instead of June marks a return to the policy originally outlined in the act of August 29, 1916.

R-101 UNFIT TO FLY, CRASH QUIZ HINTS

Sent on Disastrous Journey Without Proper Tests, Witness Holds.

PLOT ALSO INVESTIGATED

London, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—The court of inquiry which heretofore has concerned itself with recreating a picture of the crash of the dirigible R-101 today considered the possibility that the big ship might not have been ready for the flight which ended so tragically.

Sir John Simon, who is presiding, shot searching questions at air ministry officials called as witnesses and there emerged a picture of Lord Thomson, the air minister who himself was killed, chafing to get away on the flight to India.

Hough Dowding, air vice marshal, created a stir when he testified that he had ordered a full-power test as soon as possible after the R-101 left her mooring mast on that last voyage, but that apparently his order had been ignored.

Gave Order to Colmore.

He gave the order to Wing Commander Colmore, who was killed when the dirigible fell against a hillside near Beauvais, France, the night of October 5. His idea, he said, was that should the full-power test reveal any fault in the craft, she could turn about immediately and return to her mast.

Vice Marshal Dowding alone of all today's witnesses did not think the ship was in shape for her first long voyage.

Others, while admitting that Lord Thomson's haste to be off had hurried preparations for the flight, did not believe the R-101 was unfit. Lord Thomson himself, it was brought out, issued the certificate of airworthiness after a brief final inspection by two men who had not time to submit a formal report before the flight began.

Scotland Yard Called In.

Scotland Yard today was called upon to investigate statements made by a man who said he had overheard, in a railway carriage, conversation concerning a plot to wreck the R-101.

This conversation, the man said, took place on a train between London and Southend on the day before the dirigible crashed. The authorities would not reveal further details of his statement.

Frederick Montagu, undersecretary for air, announced in the House of Commons today that the government will pay compensation to the dependents of the 48 lost in the dirigible disaster.

The pensions will run from $600, with a $2,250 gratuity plus $120 a year for each child, down to 22 shillings a week plus 5 shillings for each child. Civilians will receive amounts varying from $500 to $1,500.

YATES TAKES LEAD IN ILLINOIS BALLOT

Nesbit's Big Cook County Plurality Overcome by Down-State Vote.

DIETRICH NOT MENACER

Chicago, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Representative Richard Yates, Republican, jumped into the lead over Walter Nesbit, his Democratic opponent for representative-at-large after 6,791 precincts out of 7,109 had reported tonight. The vote was: Yates, 919,369; Nesbit, 916,936.

The latest total included all but 31 precincts in Cook County, practically shutting off from Nesbit any further advantage of the huge landslide unloosed by Senator-elect James Hamilton Lewis. In Cook County, Nesbit held a 100,629 plurality over Yates.

Down-State, however, Yates had gained a plurality of 109,150—and there were still 289 down-State precincts to be heard from.

The lead of Walter Dietrich, Democrat—high man of the four representative-at-large candidates—was not threatened. He was still 80,000 votes ahead of Yates.

Frank L. Smith, elected to the Senate in 1926 and denied his seat, was hopelessly out of the running. It was his political comeback.

It was the Democratic landslide in Cook County, unloosed by James Hamilton Lewis, senator-elect, that shoved Dietrich and Nesbit into their terrific lead over Yates and Smith. Down-State returns, however, immediately began pushing Yates nearer and nearer to possible reelection.

If Yates' strength continues at the present ratio of down-State tabulations, the former governor and veteran representative would be elected with a 10,000 majority.

A victory for Yates would make the complexion of the Illinois congressional delegation 15 Republicans and 12 Democrats.

ly decided upon just what the final form of their report will contain, and the possibility arose that a majority and minority report might result.

Several of the members have definite views, however, and some of them have placed their decisions in writing. Furthur, a court reporter has been employed to attend some of the sessions to record points upon which all agree.

Federal Judge Kenyon, of Iowa, arrived in Washington yesterday and took his place with the group as it convened. Newton D. Baker, of Cleveland, who is detained by a case in which he is counsel, was the only absent member.

Although Chairman Wickersham has planned to take a short trip to Wilmington, Del., today, he will return to Washington by tomorrow and the session will continue uninterrupted.

able to indicate exports from St. Pierre.

Coast Guard records showed increases in the amounts of liquor seized, comparing May with successive months of this year officials explained that while the figures covered all activities of the Coast Guard, they related almost solely to the traffic out of St. Pierre. They said several factors supported the belief that liquor is being stored at St. Pierre.

About 4 by 3 miles, the colony of St. Pierre shelters about 7,000 inhabitants. Until prohibition it was a fishing settlement.

Six streets criss-cross the high, barren territory, and on the outskirts of the town of St. Pierre is a great structure once a fish storehouse, but now used—officials say—as a warehouse. The island is about 18 miles south of New Foundland.

RUSSIAN AT GENEVA STIRS ARMS SITTING

Soviet Delegate Raps Tactics of Commission in Speech Held Out of Order.

GIBSON ATTENDS TODAY

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Resuming its efforts to draft a general disarmament convention, the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission had its first sitting today enlivened by an attack from Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet foreign minister.

The Russian delegate, in a declaration declared out of order by Chairman Loudon, denounced the commission for having rejected the Soviet disarmament proposals at earlier sessions, spoke with sarcasm of the "speed" with which the league's disarmament program is advancing, and told the assembled statesmen that Europe faces grave war menaces.

Since the commission met last in the spring of 1929, he said, new antagonisms, both political and economic, have arrayed nation against nation in a hostile posture and created a situation dangerous for world peace. His attack was particularly directed against that school of political thought which demands security before disarmament.

Reaction to Litvinoff.

The American delegation, which includes Hugh S. Gibson, Ambassador to Belgium, refrained from participating in today's discussion, but doubtless will take part in tomorrow's discussion of the methods of naval limitation. Mr. Gibson only recently visited Rome and Paris, where he made efforts to bring about a Franco-Italian agreement on the naval program.

Litvinoff's address today was the center of a slight flurry. The chairman ruled that it should not be translated into French, as customary, on the ground that it was out of order because it has been agreed that general discussion of matters already settled should not come up. Litvinoff, however, went ahead with his speech and finished it.

No reply was made by other members of the commission and it was said among the other delegations that the commission's work would go ahead without reference to it.

Naval Limitations Today.

It was decided that the session shall proceed without general discussion and take up immediately where work was left off eighteen months ago in the second reading of a draft treaty. Questions formerly settled will not be reopened without consent of a majority of the commission.

Tomorrow the commission probably will take up naval limitations. An attempt will be made to transfer the methods arrived at during the London conference with the commission's draft convention, applying them to all powers, great and small. No effort will be made to fix figures.

Recalls Two Proposals.

In his address today, Litvinoff recalled two previous Russian proposals to the league's commission. The first was for complete and general disarmament, which failed to find favor among the chief powers. The second was a proposal for reduction of armaments in all branches, land, sea and air, by 50 per cent. This suggestion also, he recalled, was rejected.

The Soviets no longer have any hope for favorable consideration of these schemes, said Litvinoff, and will reserve them for the general conferance. He made three proposals: First, that disarmamnt rather than the limitation of armaments be the goal of the treaty draft; second, that trained reserves be included as one object of the treaty and third, that the limitation of reserves of military material be provided for by a general treaty.

Methodist Churches To Unite, Session Told

Albemarle, N. C., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Belief that the three larger Methodist denominations would eventually be united, perhaps within a few years, was expressed today by Dr. J. C. Broomfield, of Pittsburgh, Pa., president of the general conference of the Methodist Protestant Church. Dr. Broomfield was addressing the annual conference of the North Carolina Methodist Protestant Church.

He quoted an unnamed bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church South as saying he hoped for the union of the Methodist Protestant Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church in the near future.

New York Jobless Body Has $1,000,000 Pledged

New York, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Pledges of $1,000,000 have been received by the New York emergency employment committee, Chairman Seward Prosser announced today. The committee has already provided work in the city parks for 2,000 unemployed men at $3 a day. The committee's program calls for 2,000,000 days of work for heads of families.

The pledges already received, Mr. Prosser said, will provide 300,000 days of work. Police Commissioner Mulrooney has fixed at 29,845 the number of needy and unemployed families in the city.

Mills to Work Five-Day Week.

Los Angeles Decree Parts Gloria Swanson and Mate

Cinema Star Wins Interlocutory Divorce From Marquis on Grounds of Desertion; Hearing Advanced to Balk Curious Crowds in Court.

Los Angeles, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Gloria Swanson, film actress, obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from her titled husband, the Marquis Henri de la Falaise la Coudraye, today.

She charged abandonment. Her suit was not contested.

The actress' case had been set for tomorrow, but was advanced so the hearing would not be attended by crowds of curious spectators.

No cause for her marital trouble was assigned by the actress in her brief testimony.

She merely stated the marquis had deserted her and refused to return, despite her repeated pleas. She presented a letter for corroborative evidence, which follows:

"Dear Gloria: I have been thinking this thing over as you have asked me to—and I am sorry to tell you that even though I am going to stay here for an indefinite period—I will not come back to live at home as you have asked me to.

"This decision on my part is final.

"HENRY."

The letter was dated last October.

CHEERS HAIL ATTACK ON BRIAND POLICIES

Versailles Frontiers Must Not Change, Asserts Franklin-Bouillon.

WARNS FRENCH DEPUTIES

Paris, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Aristide Briand's foreign policy, particularly with reference to rapprochement with Germany, came under heavy fire in the Chamber of Deputies today.

Franklin-Bouillon, opposition deputy, delivered the main attack this afternoon. Briand probably will reply tomorrow.

Despite the fact that Franklin-Bouillon expressed sentiment which apparently pleased supporters of the Tardieu government, it was generally thought that the dilemma in which they would place the government if they should repudiate the foreign minister will prevent defections that would endanger the life of the cabinet.

Policy Called Mistake.

Directing his main fire at Franco-German relations, Franklin-Bouillon said:

"The German elections have proven that your policy for the past five years has been a mistake. I beg of you to admit it now and repair it by changing your attitude while there is yet time."

He referred to the parade of the steel helmet organization in Coblenz a month after the Rhineland was evacuated. He also cited President Von Hindenburg, Chancellor Bruening and other political leaders to show that nearly all parties and a vast majority of the German people were behind a campaign for revision of the Treaty of Versailles.

"France must let it be known that never, under any pretext, will she tolerate that anybody, directly or indirectly, touch the frontiers of Versailles," he cried.

"The frontier of Poland is a frontier of France and the frontier is, and must remain, the Rhine, despite the pretention in Germany that the Rhine is a German River but not the German frontier."

Italy Talking Revision.

Franklin-Bouillon declared that revision of any of the frontiers would put Alsace-Lorraine in danger. "The Locarno pact guarantees our frontier," he said, "but one of the guarantors is Italy, where the talk now is mostly of war and revision of treaties."

The Socialists were excited to a high degree by the attack and interrupted it boisterously, while the government majority applauded heartily.

Earlier in the session Marcel Cachin, leader of the Communist party, also delivered an attack upon the government's foreign policies.

Marooned Hunters Are Taken Ashore

Police Official Rescues Three in Duck Blind Who Lost Boat.

Their attention drawn by the frantic waving from three men in a duck blind on the Potomac River near Moxey's Point, Md., Detective Sergt. Harry Cole and John L. Austin anchored their mototboat at the blind and learned that all three had been marooned in their hideaway when their boat broke away and drifted downstream.

The castaways, almost in the middle of the river, which is wide at that point, were unwilling to plunge into the chilly water and swim ashore.

Detective Cole took the trio aboard and set them down on the Maryland shore, where they were able to obtain transportation to Washington. One was James Holmes, retired real estate dealer. The others are not known in Washington.

The detective and his companion then went on with their duck hunting and netted a fair bag.

Two Labor Party Victories in Week

Education Bill Passes Its Second Reading by 67 Majority.

London, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Ramsay MacDonald's Labor government tonight won its second victory within a week, carrying by a majority of 67 votes the education bill on second reading.

The bill, which raises the school-leaving age from 14 years to 15, was carried by 294 votes to 227. The carrying of second reading was proposed by Sir Charles Trevelyan, president of the board of education, while Lord Eustace Percy led the Conservative opposition.

The previous victory this week was won by the MacDonald cabinet on the same night that American election ballots were being counted. The Conservatives had launched a bitter attack to amend the speech in reply to the address from the throne, and it was generally conceded that had the Liberal party not decided to abstain the Labor government would have been forced out and new elections would have followed. As it was, the government won by a margin of 31 votes.

Another record smashed with TEXACO

The record-breaking drive of these boys proves again the longer-lasting, crack-proof qualities of the new Texaco. Learn from them how to make a Ford, or any other car, give you the maximum in service.

Here's a remarkable demonstration of the new crack-proof Texaco Motor Oil—the same oil you can buy at all Texaco Stations.

FASTER than the "20th Century Limited." Breaking all existing automobile records, regardless of engine type or power, William Madden and E. C. Bidwell drove a Ford Sedan from New York to Chicago in the astonishing time of 18 hours and 42 minutes.

Their time is all the more remarkable in that they were forced to fight their way through dense fogs in New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania—through rain and sleet in Ohio and Eastern Indiana.

Following the route charted by Texaco National Road Reports, the two boys encountered no detours on their whirlwind drive. They used Texaco-Ethyl (the "dry" Ethyl gasoline) exclusively, making one stop in Pittsburgh for refueling. Before leaving New York the crankcase had been filled with 5 quarts of the new crack-proof Texaco Motor Oil Grade "C." Upon reaching Chicago the gauge still registered "FULL." No oil was added on the entire record trip!

NOMINATIONS MADE TO KIWANIS OFFICES

Name of Merritt O. Chance Is Placed in Running for Presidency.

REPORT ON CONVENTION

Nominations for the officers of the Kiwanis Club in 1931 made at the meeting held in the Washington Hotel yesterday were Merritt O. Chance, president; Eugene R. Woodson, first vice president; Edwin F. Hill, second vice president, and Edgar Morris, district trustee. Mr. Chance and Mr. Woodson are first and second vice presidents, respectively, this year. Mr. Morris was president in 1929. The elections will be held November 20.

Nominations for the board of directors of whom seven are to be elected included: William F. Smith, W. Herbert Gill, Fred A. Schutz, Bruce Baird, Arthur F. Steinberg, Z. D. Blackistone, Earle G. Wilhoite, Albert W. Howard, Eugene H. Ruark, Davis A. Roberts, Frank L. Peckham, Harry G. Kimball and Charles R. Huff.

Thomas H. Seay, general accountant of the Southern Railway, was introduced as a new member of the club by Edwin H. Rix, chairman of the educational committee. E. Taylor Chewning made a brief talk on "Buy Now in Washington."

Charles W. Pimper, chairman of the orthopedic and welfare committee, reported 100 crippled children as now receiving assistance from the Kiwanis Club, while three new cases were added to the list during the month, but three were dismissed. In October 48 crippled children were given medical attention at the Kiwanis clinic at Children's Hospital. During the month staff nurses of the club made 193 visits to the homes of crippled and underprivileged children.

William N. Freeman, delegate to the recent convention of the Capital District at Virginia Beach, made his report, outlining the activities of the members of the Washington Club who were on the program.

The Rev. F. Berry Plummer, of Hagerstown, governor-elect of the Capital District; Robert A. Hutchison, Manassas, lieutenant governor-elect of the First Division, of which Washington is one of the clubs, and Charles A. Linhardt, jr., of Baltimore, lieutenant governor-elect of the Sixth division, were present as guests.

Dr. Julian Enciso Dies on Shipboard

Former Charge d'Affaires in Washington Was on Way to Argentina.

Dr. Julian Enciso, Charge d'Affaires of the Argentine Embassy here until last month, died Wednesday on board the S. S. Western Prince, which was taking him to Buenos Aires, it was learned yesterday. Dr. Enciso had been ill for a number of weeks. He left Washington October 24 and was to have arrived at his home on November 11. He was 51 years old.

Dr. Enciso, who studied law at the University of Buenos Aires, came to Washington on August 1, 1928, as counsellor of the Argentine Embassy and became Charge d'Affaires November 15, 1928. He served continuously in this capacity until last month, when failing health prompted him to sail for his home.

Before coming to the embassy here, Dr. Enciso had served as secretary to Argentine Legations in Madrid, Berlin, Santiago, Chile, Berne and Rio de Janeiro. He had also been Charge d'Affairs at Copenhagen, and an observer for his government before the League of Nations in Geneva. Altogether he had served his country for 30 years, of which 22 were spent in the diplomatic service.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Susana Ugalde Enciso, whom he married in 1917.

Kurtz's Son, Hurt, Is in Serious State

Companion Arraigned for Speeding to Inquire at Hospital.

Jay Kurtz, 19-year-old son of Representative J. Banks Kurtz, was still in a serious condition at Garfield Hospital last night following his injury Wednesday night in an automobile accident.

The youth, who was hurt while returning from a football game at Annapolis, sustained a multiple skull fracture. Three other students were injured slightly. Kurtz was removed yesterday from Providence to Garfield Hospital.

Barney Ackerman, of Calvert street, near Connecticut avenue, was let off with a suspended fine of $25 by Judge Gus Schuldt in Police Court yesterday when he was arraigned for speeding to the hospital to inquire about Kurtz's condition.

$10,000 Damage Suit Brought for Stumble

The District of Columbia was named defendant in a suit for $10,000 damages filed yesterday in District Supreme Court by Rachel Pretzfelder, of 2739 Woodley place northwest.

Through Attorney Joseph D. Milenky, the woman alleges that she was seriously injured January 26 when she stumbled and fell on the sidewalk on Lanier place northwest near Ontario road. The woman asserts that the District was negligent in not keeping the sidewalk in safe condition. She alleges that the District had permitted the sidewalk to sink below its ordinary level.

TWO U. S. WORKERS TAKEN IN RUM RAID

Men in Employ of Marshal Seized Along With Trio in Brewery Swoop.

16,000 GALLONS FOUND

Elizabeth, N. J., Nov. 6 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—Five men, two of them guards in the employ of Chief Deputy United States Marshal W. B. Snowden at Trenton, N. J., were arrested today by six Newark prohibition agents in the old Peter Breidt brewery here.

The brewery was in the custody of the United States marshal's office following a raid there on September 16, and the five men are accused of having whiled away the time by brewing beer and had made, agents said, 16,000 gallons which was found in the vats when the agents entered today.

The guards arrested were Charles C. Matthews, 51, of New Brunswick, N. J., and Ralph Meyer, 28, of Milltown, N. J. The other men were William Davis, 50, an engineer at the plant, of Elizabeth; Thomas Gerrity, 55, of East Orange, and Abe Ritchie, 32, of Newark.

Are Held Under Guard.

After the raid the prohibition agents announced that the five men arrested had been taken to Newark, but it was learned that they had not left the brewery, but were being held there under guard for some purpose known only to the agents and which they would not disclose.

Later agents said that the five would be arraigned before United States Commissioner J. F. Holland in Newark tonight.

Reporters were denied admittance to the brewery. At the office of Deputy Marshal Snowden it was at first denied that a raid had been made but later it was announced that four deputy marshals had been detailed to the brewery this afternoon, following the raid with orders to cooperate with the prohibition agents.

Neither the Elizabeth nor the United States Marshal's office in Newark knew of the raid.

The raid followed complaints from neighbors that the brewery has been active at night during the past two weeks although the building is plastered with notices that it has been seized by the United States Government under libel proceedings and is in the custody of the marshal.

At the time of the raid on September 16, 100,000 gallons of beer were found in the brewery and this was drained out and allowed to run down the hill into the Elizabeth river so that the 16,000 gallons found there are believed to have been manufactured since the United States Marshal's office took over control of the property.

taneous combustion of coal dust was discussed, too.

The coroner has announced that his inquest will not be held until tomorrow or the next day.

National guardsmen who had stood watch since shortly after the blast were being withdrawn tonight by order of Col. Wade C. Christy, assistant adjutant general.

Poignant Scene Enacted.

Perhaps the most poignant scene in the tragic drama was enacted late today when, for the first time, grief-stricken mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers and children of the victims were admitted to the temporary morgue to view the dead.

Gathered about the general store building which served as a morgue, long before the doors were opened, were close friends of the dead as well as their families. Friends protested when the coroner announced that only relatives would be permitted inside.

Coroner Jones later lifted the ban and all afternoon groups of fifteen entered the store and passed silently among the lifeless victims. Many paused and wept softly as they saw the face of a loved one.

Though rescue work had been discontinued, crowds of the curious continued to arrive late today to view the scene of the tragedy.

$2,000 Murder Offer Is Charged to Husband

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Benjamin Franklin Brown, who, police said, confessed he killed Mrs. Merle Cora Ells last Sunday, and the dead woman's former husband, Emory Ells, 24 years old, were indicted today on murder charges. The indictment charged Ells was the instigator of the crime, offering Brown $2,000 for the deed.

Police said they do not believe Ells' explanation of his motive. He told them he wanted his wife out of the way, so he could have custody of the couple's 18-month-old son, John. Police said they had information Brown, Ells, and perhaps others were members of a bandit gang, and it was possible Mrs. Ells was killed because she knew too much about the gang's activities.

U. S. Buys More Sites In City Development

The Department of Justice announced yesterday that the Government had purchased the Capitol Hill Apartments, at Delaware avenue and C street southwest, and premises at 1357 Ohio avenue northwest, thus saving condemnation proceeding costs.

The purchase on Delaware avenue is part of the general development of the Capitol area, while that on Ohio avenue is another purchase in the completion of the Triangle Building plan.

It was stated that the apartment property was secured for $115,000, while $15,000 was paid for the Ohio avenue site and improvements. Attorney William B. Wolf appeared for the owners in each instance.

PLUMBING RACKET BARED IN DETROIT

Association's Offices Raided and Records Seized as Quiz Opens.

$100,000 LEVY CHARGED

Detroit, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—The Wayne County Grand Jury today turned its attention to a gang of alleged racketeers accused of having "muscled in" on the Detroit plumbing business, set up a virtual reign of terror and extorted at least $100,000 from their victims.

The first indication of the trend of the jury's newest line of investigation came this morning when a detail of State and city police, acting under orders from the jury, raided the offices of the United Master Steamfitters & Plumbers Association and seized a carload of records. Two men and a young woman found in the offices were subpensed and taken before the jury immediately.

Louis J. Flint, executive vice president of the Citizens' Committee of Detroit, and Pierce E. Wright, secretary of the Associated Building Employers of Detroit, were credited with making the initial revelations. According to statements by these men, the racketeers set up an organization whereby they were able to manipulate prices, contracts and credit under pain of violence.

"Strong-arm" committees of this group smashed plumbing fixtures, damaged offices and hurled stench bombs as punishment for infractions of the rules imposed by the racket or refusals by plumbers to affiliate with the association, the statements said.

The jury questioned three witnesses, Carl R. Oldenberg, Ross Quinlan and Miss Jean Hart. They were the only persons in the offices when the raid was carried out.

After the jury had adjourned for the day, it was announced that the alleged activities of the plumbing racketeers would form the basis for the next week or more of investigation.

CONGRESS IN DOUBT.

In view of the fact that the Seventy-Second Congress will not convene until December, 1931, unless an extra session should be called, the question of party control of the two houses will probably remain a matter of speculation for a year longer.

The death of members-elect may bring to naught all present calculations. There are thirteen vacancies in the present House, and yet Tuesday's election does not affect the forthcoming session. There is no provision whereby House vacancies may be filled except by election.

Several new faces will be seen in the Senate next month, as a result of Tuesday's election. Dwight W. Morrow, of New Jersey, will succeed David Baird, resigned; James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, will succeed Joseph R. Grundy; George McGill, of Kansas, will succeed Henry J. Allen; Robert D. Carey, of Wyoming, will succeed Patrick J. Sullivan; Robert J. Bulkley, of Ohio, will succeed Roscoe C. McCulloch, and Ben Williamson, of Kentucky, will succeed John M. Robsion. Senators-elect McGill and Bulkley, Democrats, will displace Republicans, but otherwise the party alignment will remain the same.

The returns in several congressional districts are still incomplete or are disputed and are awaiting an official recount. Presumably, by a margin of two or three votes, the Democrats will outnumber the Republicans. But a year may elapse before the country can know for a certainty whether Nicholas Longworth or John N. Garner will be Speaker of the House.

LLOYD GEORGE, AMATEUR COMMUNIST.

David Lloyd George's scheme for revitalizing Great Britain includes a recommendation that production costs in England be reduced by 10 per cent through an agreement to accept wage cuts, &c., among employers, labor unions and banks, and that the government reduce its expenditures by 10 per cent. Europeans have not yet grasped the economic principle that prosperity results from stimulating consumption and not from decreasing production. Therefore Lloyd George's proposal, economically unsound as it is, may meet a favorable response. But his proposal that the government should revive agriculture by the expropriation of land and the creation of 100,000 "family farms" is calculated to stupefy the country.

"In the first place," says Lloyd George, "inasmuch as the landlord no longer is able to discharge the functions properly belonging to the ownership of land, the state, over a considerable and expanding area, should assume those functions, for in no other way does it seem possible to initiate that reorganization and recapitulation of British agriculture which are necessary if it is to produce efficiently for the British market. In the second place, the state should, both as a social and unemployment measure, undertake the responsibility for developing the family farm system as rapidly as possible, taking the creation of 100,000 family farms as the first installment of such a national policy."

Lloyd George would have the state expropriate land in lieu of death duties, or by paying the owner an annuity in government bonds based on the net rent, or by purchase in the open market. Having done this the state should establish "family farms" of from 3 to 100 acres each, upon which "poultry, eggs, pigs, vegetables and fruit should be grown, making Britain independent of foreign markets."

Why does the volatile Welshman propose that the Government pay for the land it expropriates? Moscow made no effort to pay for the land it confiscated in the collectivization movement, and the Lloyd George scheme in its essential elements is communistic. Why try to be honest and communistic at the same time? It can't be done. Lloyd George is evidently just an amateur. However, his scheme shows progress toward communism, and perhaps it can be amended to conform to the orthodox communistic doctrine of pure robbery of property owners.

THE LONG ROAD TO WETNESS.

In the cold light that follows a country-wide election it appears that a long, long road must be traveled before the United States can change the Constitution and the law relating to prohibition. The drift wetward is unmistakable, but Congress remains dry by an overwhelming majority. Therefore it is not to be expected that any change will be made in the Volstead act. Repeal of the eighteenth amendment is still further away.

Governor-elect Cross of Connecticut announces that if Congress does nothing during the next year he will appeal to the governors of the States to begin the movement for a national constitutional convention with a view to repealing the eighteenth amendment. Upon the application of two-thirds of the legislatures of the States Congress is bound to call a constitutional convention. Are 32 States ready to demand repeal of the eighteenth amendment? Tuesday's election, while favorable to the wets, does not reveal that wet sentiment has reached such tremendous proportions as to sway two-thirds of the States. The governors may propose, but the legislatures will dispose; and the wet-and-dry fight can not be fought to a finish in the legislatures inside of four or five years, from present prospects.

Apparently the most practicable method of liberalizing the liquor situation is to elect more wets to Congress in the hope of amending the Volstead act, which requires but a majority vote. The wets have gained only a few votes in the two houses. At the rate of progress made at this week's election it will be many years before a wet Congress is elected.

In the meantime the increase of wet sentiment makes it more difficult to enforce the prohibition law. Nevertheless, it is the duty of the Federal Government and the States to enforce the law, and the drys everywhere are apt to make trouble with officials who falter in this duty.

BIG BOND ISSUES.

On Tuesday last the people of New Jersey authorized bond issues of $83,000,000 for highway construction, $10,000,000 for public institutions and $7,000,000 for water district improvements. On the same day in Louisiana constitutional amendments providing for the issuance of $75,000,000 worth of bonds against anticipated gas tax earnings, the proceeds to be used for highway construction, were approved at the polls. In New York, Ohio, California and elsewhere large bond issues were authorized. Altogether the expenditure of more than $300,000,000 for State and municipal construction programs was approved by the voters last Tuesday.

These prospective bond issues assume double importance at this time. The proceeds will be disbursed from State and municipal treasuries to contractors and material men. The work they will make possible will give direct employment to thousands, and indirect employment to additional thousands. The factory, the mine, the transportation medium, the bootmaker, the grocer and the farmer will gain directly and indirectly from the proceeds of these bond issues. In a country where political subdivisions alone can authorize the expenditure of $300,000,000 in one swoop, there is no occasion for pessimism as to the economic future.

NICARAGUA'S ELECTION.

Interest in the Nicaraguan election was, of course, overshadowed by the balloting in this country. Nevertheless, the results in the Central American republic are worthy of notice. President Moncada and the Liberal party won a sweeping victory. The administration will have substantial majorities in the Senate and Chamber of Deputies. Indications are that the era of peace, order and economic development will continue in Nicaragua without interruption.

The election was held under supervision of commissioners from the United States. Reports indicate that there was only one attempt of violence, and that was hastily checked. Even the defeated Conservative party admits that the election was conducted with fairness to every one. Without the influence of the United States a peaceful election would have been improbable. However, the success of the recent elections under supervision of this Government gives hope that conditions will soon be so stabilized and the routine of orderly balloting so firmly established that Nicaragua will be able to manage its own affairs without assistance.

AMUSEMENTS FLOURISH.

It is interesting to find that industries engaged in entertainment have not been seriously affected by the depression. A survey by the Department of Commerce shows that most amusement industries have been operated at almost normal capacity during the last year. Some phases of this gigantic business show an improvement in spite of hard times.

Motion picture theaters have hardly felt the effects of the depression. Receipts from the larger motion picture houses in seventeen cities reporting to the Department of Commerce were well maintained for the first seven months of 1930. Five huge amusement corporations report profits in excess of those for corresponding months in 1929. One of these corporations estimates that profits for the year will establish a new record.

Miniature golf is a phenomenon in the amusement field. Millions have been invested in "Tom Thumb" courses, and the profits therefrom run into large figures. No slackening in other sports is noticeable. The sporting goods industry is reported to be forging ahead, with upward of $60,000,000 being invested in athletic and sporting goods annually.

Tourist traffic is reported to have been 10 per cent heavier last summer than it was in 1929. There was no decrease in the number of Americans traveling abroad. Whatever may be said of "hard times," it is apparent that the people of the United States have not stinted themselves in the pursuit of pleasure and recreation.

This situation is significant for two reasons: First, it indicates that the great mass of people have money to spend. When the amusement industry maintains its normal pace through a period of depression for more than a year the country as a whole can't be very hard up. Secondly, the maintenance of normal activity in an industry so large should have a stabilizing influence on industry in general. As working hours diminish the demand for amusements, sports and outdoor recreation is certain to increase, giving employment to thousands of men. On the whole the amusement industry is an encouraging bright spot in the industrial spectrum.

THE INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITION.

Washingtonians have an opportunity this week of making an inventory of the city's industrial progress. Virtually every field of commercial and industrial activity is represented in the exhibits of the sixth annual Industrial Exposition of the Washington Chamber of Commerce. Thousands of visitors have had their eyes opened by visiting the exposition at the Washington Auditorium.

No longer is Washington merely the seat of the Government. The National Capital has developed into an industrial center of distribution for a large area. Manufacturing is carried on within the city to an extent that is seldom realized, even by residents of the District.

Too little attention is given to industries within this city. Yet the prosperity of Washington is, to a considerable extent, dependent upon them. Residents of the District will do well to find out what is being done in the way of industrial development and to give their patronage wherever possible. This, in turn, will expand local commerce and industry, and furnish more employment for Washington workmen.

FOOLISH SPEED RACES.

Pete de Paolo and Harlan Fengler, veteran speedway drivers, are busily at work in California completing the construction of an "automobile" designed to have a top speed of 300 miles an hour. This monster, that in nowise resembles the conventional automobile, will be taken to Florida, where it will be driven over the hard-packed sands in an effort to better the speed mark set up last year by the late Maj. Seagraves. Seagraves drove his vehicle over the sands at 231.36 miles an hour and subsequently lost his life in a speed-boat accident in England.

Nothing is to be gained by this nonsensical affair. Too many lives have been lost already in attempts to gain possession of the automobile speed crown. The airplane will be the express carrier of the future, and money poured into superspeed automobiles is only money wasted.

The American Automobile Association should put its foot down now on the De Paolo-Fengler venture. Without its sanction the race against time would probably be abandoned.

A DEVIL'S ISLAND ESCAPE

Port of Spain Dispatch to the New York Times.

Several of the five fugitives from Devil's Island who reached Trinidad on September 18 after fifteen days at sea in an open boat were released today (November 5), but only after one of the five, a reputed millionaire from Monte Carlo, had stood in court here yesterday and heard the magistrate tell him the government of French Guiana had made application for his extradition. The reputed millionaire was Adrien Henri James, alleged owner of the Hotel de L'Europe at Monte Carlo. The case was adjourned on application of counsel for the accused so that inquiries could be made.

The French government made no application for extradition of the men released, as only certain crimes are extraditable under international law. It is understood that negotiations are in progress for the revision of the appropriate treaties.

One of those released was Roberto Bertolo, a smiling Italian, who, rather than spend five more years on Devil's Island, braved shark-infested seas for fifteen days in a frail boat with a cheap compass. One night several years ago he was in a cabaret in France during a period when Franco-Italian relations were somewhat strained. A Frenchman began abusing Italy, starting an anti-Italian riot. Bertolo saw a compatriot felled from a blow by a Frenchman, whereupon he promptly drew a revolver and shot the assailant dead.

Bertolo was arrested and spent eight months in prison, his sister coming from Italy to arrange for his defense. He was sentenced to five years' imprisonment. Grief caused him to go temporarily insane and he made a childish attempt to escape from his cell with the aid of a knife, being committed to an observation cell. In April, 1927, he was sent with 600 other convicts to Devil's Island.

"From the date I arrived there I planned only to escape to the New World, start life anew and pursue my ambition to become an electrical engineer," he declared in telling his story.

Finally he and four other convicts managed to escape, setting out in an open boat, but the boast of one that he knew navigation proved false, the man failing utterly as a steersman. Gales, rough seas and fever made matters worse. The climax came on the ninth night when a giant wave overturned the boat, the moonlight revealing sharks lurking in the waters. By strenuous efforts the men righted the boat, only to discover that salt had made the food and water inedible.

After six more days of hunger and thirst, when all hope had been abandoned and the men were awaiting death, they sighted land. A gale suddenly overturned the craft again, but they clung to the bottom till they were able to swim ashore.

Vain it is to criticize
Color of the hair and eyes,
Shape of mouth or nose or chin
Or the body stout or thin.
If he love her he can see
Beauty lost to you or me.
If she love him she can find
Splendor of a deeper kind.

None is wise enough to know
Where the choice of love will go,
Speak of empty purse today
If she love him she will say
He has courage, he has skill,
And a purse he'll some day fill.
If he love her, he can shake
Any argument you make.

Love is blind, but blinder far
Interfering people are,
Seeing only wealth or place,
Family, fair or ugly face
And expecting her or him
To a pattern love to trim,
Just as if love's every mood
Should be businesslike and shrewd.

Vain it is to raise the voice
'Gainst the man's or maiden's choice.
If she love him she'll believe
Him and think that you deceive.
If he love her, he will find
Charms to which the world is blind.
All that shrewder mortals say
Can not frighten love away.

Why Risk the Ship's Safety to Please Those Who Bet on the Weather?

By ROBERT QUILLEN

AMERICA is a Nation of speculators.

Speculation has made the Nation great and rich. The sixteenth century shipowners of New England, the railroad builders, the men who bored for oil and dug for ore, those who harnessed waterfalls and those who risked their fortunes in the development of steam engines, telephone and telegraph service, electric lights, the radio and airplanes—all alike were speculators.

Speculation, unlike investment, is not content with a property's earnings. It hopes for an increase in the value of the property. It expects to sell out at a profit.

Successful speculation requires good judgment, foresight and courage.

Gambling is another business.

Its success depends on luck and skill in playing some game of chance. Its one purpose is to get money without earning it. The gambler is not a builder. He blazes no trails, founds no cities, develops no industries. He gets money by taking it from somebody else.

Speculators advance civilization; gamblers feed on it. Speculators create wealth and provide work for men; gamblers reap where they do not sow, and never yet has their activity resulted in anything but evil.

The stock exchange affords opportunity for both speculators and gamblers.

The exchange is necessary, for without it there would be no ever-ready market for stocks and without such a market to make stocks negotiable business men could not get capital by selling shares and the people would have no place to invest their surplus.

The exchange is a good thing when it serves investors and speculators, a bad thing when it serves gamblers.

A man who believes certain shares will increase in value and buys in the hope of selling later at a profit is a legitimate speculator. The holder of shares who believes the price will decline and sells out with the intention to buy later at a lower price is a legitimate speculator.

But the man who buys stock he doesn't want and sells stock he hasn't got—buying and selling imaginary stock as the market fluctuates, just as another man bets on the turn of a card—is a gambler and nothing more.

Selling stock he hasn't got—selling short—forces the price down and injures millions of shareholders. It is an evil practice and there is some effort to stop it.

Because of that effort the president of the New York Stock Exchange has mailed to all newspapers a pamphlet defending "short sales."

"The prohibition of short selling," he says, "would result first in a stagnant market and then in dangerous inflation."

As a matter of fact it would end the present depression. Those who wished to buy stock could buy it still—by bidding against one another. Those with actual stock to sell could sell it. Confidence in stocks would be restored; prosperity would be assured.

The one objection to prohibiting short sales is that gamblers, no longer able to deal in moonshine, would go elsewhere to gamble; the stock exchange would exchange real stock only, and brokers would get fewer commissions.

While the exchange remains a game of chance millions of investors remain at the mercy of gamblers.

PRO AND CON

Various Aspects of Political Issues Discussed by the Press.

Wetness and 1932.

New York World.

It may be true that these wet victories were won only in the North and East and not in the South and West. It may be true that for two more years a dry majority will remain in command of Congress, thanks in large part to the lingering loyalty of the South to prohibition and to the system which gives rural sections of the country top-heavy representation in Congress. It is also true that these eleven States in the North and East are of enormous importance in the nomination and the election of a President. They contain approximately half of the population of the country. They are represented by 446 of the 1,098 delegates in the next Democratic convention and by 473 of the 1,089 delegates in the next Republican convention.

Neither party can win a national election without these States. Both parties will seek the support of these States. Both parties will think twice before they risk losing these States, and the election, by failing to nominate a candidate and to write a platform unequivocally in favor of repeal.

Balked by His Party.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

Several of the President's Cabinet took the stump for their boss in the campaign. The argument of Secretary Lamont was that a Democratic Congress would obstruct Mr. Hoover's policies. What policies? Certainly no Democratic Congress could obstruct any policy of Mr. Hoover more than a Republican Congress obstructed his tariff policy, not only contemptuously dishing it, but substituting one directly the reverse of it. Because a Republican Congress so successfully obstructed a Republican President is one reason why Herbert Hoover stands before the American people today with so much less prestige than was his two years ago.

No Special Session.

Houston Post Dispatch.

Of course, President Hoover isn't going to call a special session of Congress to consider the unemployment problem. Partisan politics colors every act of Congress to such an extent that it is incapable of dealing practically with an economic problem such as is involved in unemployment. Mr. Hoover is right in not permitting any legislative nostrums to be compounded for the idle.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

What—No Army-Navy Game for Benefit of the Unemployed?—Mr. Jenkins Becomes Indignant.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Despite the fact that extraordinary efforts are being made by Federal, State and local authorities and private groups to alleviate some of the hardships incident to unemployment, with offers everywhere being made by college and other nonprofessional football teams to engage in benefit performances, the Army Team, of the United States Military Academy, refuses to accept the offer of the Navy Team, of the United States Naval Academy, to play a game at Chicago or elsewhere, the proceeds to go to one or more duly constituted committees on unemployment. It is everywhere claimed that such a game would net $1,000,000.

Who owns the United States Military Academy? The people. Are some of the people unemployed? Of course there are. If the people (as it is reported they have done through their own official spokesman, President Hoover) indicate that they would like to see an Army-Navy game for the benefit of the unemployed, then by what authority has Maj. Gen. William R. Smith, or any other Army officer, the right to say, according to the Associated Press, that the Army will have no part in a post-season game?

It is a disgrace to their team that Army refuses to play football with the Middies, who are earnestly endeavoring to arrange games with at least two teams—Army and George Washington University. Arrangements are also being made for post-season games between college teams, as well as between those representing the Marine Corps and Coast Guard.

What's the matter with the superintendent of the United States Military Academy? Surely, the continuing differences between the Army and Navy in the matter of the three-year rule could be overlooked long enough to play one unofficial benefit game.

WILLIAM McK. JENKINS.

Says Veterans of Spanish-American War Have Reason to Complain But, Unlike Comrades of World War, Voluntarily Refrain From Doing So.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In your issue of Thursday morning "Another Veteran" bemoans the fact that "the boys" have to wait for their pay.

What about the boys of '98 who crossed the Pacific? President McKinley sent them over for the Spanish War. When the Philippine insurrection broke out these same troops did valiant service in holding the line until newly organized regular regiments could be equipped and transported. The President recommended—and it was impliedly acknowledged by those in authority as an obligation—that travel pay from Manila to their homes should be granted to volunteer troopers who served after the period of their enlistment had expired. This pay would amount to practically $400 to $500 per man.

That was almost 32 years ago and we are still waiting for our just dues. Still, we are not bemoaning our fate. Many of our comrades are in want, are sick or can not obtain work, but it was as volunteers that every one of them went out in '98, and they are still carrying on voluntarily. After the magnanimous treatment accorded comrades of the World War, it seems a little out of place to read of their complaints over delays. Certainly the boys of '98 should receive some consideration.

A PHILIPPINE VETERAN OF '98-'99.

Let the Government Reduce Payments on the National Debt So as to Release Funds for Public Improvements.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The United States Government has been paying off the national debt at the rate of a billion dollars a year. A national debt incurred for legitimate reasons is a good thing for a nation. It gives insurance companies and investment corporations and trusts an opportunity to invest their money in a sound security. Haste in paying off a national debt for political reasons is not sound economy. During times of severe depression a billion, or even half a billion, dollars spent for public improvements would soften the suffering caused by unemployment and a stoppage in the wheels of industry. Now is the opportunity for the present administration to participate in constructive public works, such as highway and waterway improvements. A transcontinental highway across the country, from East to West Coast through virgin territory and the improvement of the Mississippi and St. Lawrence waterways would do much to bring the country out of its period of depression.

A. ARGEL.

Will Science Cure Fool Drivers and Transform Them Into Safe Motorists?

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The agitation to get rid of unsafe automobiles will, it is to be hoped, result in improved traffic conditions. But something more important to be wished is the elimination of unsafe motorists. A faulty car driven by an expert endowed with good judgment is not necessarily dangerous. But the most perfect car that could be invented would be dangerous in the hands of a moron.

It is hardly to be expected that the day will ever come when the efficiency of motorists can be determined with absolute exactitude. Yet, judging from scientific wonders already accomplished, much may finally be done to help the mental defectives of motordom.

Advanced surgery may some day trephine the skulls of the unsafe and adjust the gearing of their brains to traffic requirements.

Not many years since the idea of heavier-than-air flight was laughed at. And now the passenger-carrying airplane is in practical operation. Would it be any more astonishing if, say a generation from now, some craniological Henry Ford should perfect an automatic skull device for the development of a safety complex in fool motorists?

Miss Hawes Will Be Bride Of New Yorker

Daughter of Senator and Mr. Lewis Preston Are to Wed.

SENATOR AND MRS. HARRY BARTOW HAWES, of Missouri, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eppes Hawes, to Mr. Lewis Thompson Preston, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Preston, of New York.

The wedding will take place in Washington next Friday, presumably at the home of Senator and Mrs. Hawes on Massachusetts avenue.

After their marriage Mr. Preston and his bride will sail for England, where they will spend a short time before going to Africa, where they will set out upon an expedition for big game hunting. In several months they will return to New York to make their home.

News of the engagement comes as a great surprise to Miss Hawes' friends in Washington. Known as the loveliest of senatorial daughters she has spent very little time here in recent months. Miss Hawes was the guest during the summer of Mrs. James F. Curtis at her home on Long Island and is at present visiting in New York. Senator and Mrs. Hawes are also in New York.

Miss Hawes made her debut in St. Louis, but since her father has been in the Senate she has made Washington her headquarters. She is a member of the Junior League here.

Society was somewhat startled with the announcement some months ago that Miss Hawes had accepted an offer to go into the moving pictures. However, she turned the proposition down on the strength of strenuous objections on the part of her family. Her sister, Miss Peyton Hawes, is making her home in New York, where she is engaged in business in a department store in Newark. Of a serious turn of mind, she has taken little part in the activities of the social world preferring to pursue a career in the mercantile field.

Mr. Preston has a distinguished war record. He served with the United States air forces. He is a member of the most exclusive clubs in New York, including the Knickerbocker, Brook, Meadowbrooke, National, Racquet and Piping Rock, also the White Club, of London.

He is a graduate of St. Mark's School and Harvard University.

The Vice President, Mr. Charles Curtis, has joined Mr. and Mrs. Edward Everett Gann at their apartment at the Mayflower after being in the West for more than a month. Just prior to election the Vice President was the guest of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Colvin, in Topeka, Kans.

Mrs. Gann and Mrs. Hines Feted by Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Edward Everett Gann and Mrs. Frank T. Hines, wife of the director of the United States Veterans' Bureau, were the guests in whose honor Mrs. William Wolff Smith entertained at the Willard yesterday. Also guests of Mrs. Smith were Mrs. Warren Akers, Mrs. Charles J. Williamson, Mrs. Ernest H. Daniel, Mrs. Wilton J. Lambert, Mrs. Frank Hodges Clark and Mrs. Leonidas C. Dyer.

The Minister of Sweden, Mr. W. Bostrom, will be in New York Monday and Tuesday for the National Horse Show, which opened yesterday in Madison Square Garden and is continuing until November 12.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg has arrived in Washington from his home in Grand Rapids, Mich.

The American Minister to Santo Domingo, Mr. Charles B. Curtis, and Mrs. Curtis are in New York.

Mrs. Ogden L. Mills and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Fell, have joined Mr. Mills, the Undersecretary of the Treasury, in Washington.

Brig. Gen. Rufus H. Lane, U. S. M. C., and Mrs. Lane, and Lieut. Comdr.

MISS EPPES HAWES, daughter of Senator Harry Bartow Hawes, of Missouri, and Mrs. Hawes, whose engagement to Mr. Lewis Thompson Preston, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Preston, of New York, is announced.

Norborne L. Rawlings, U. S. N., will be among those who will entertain at dinner preceding the first Navy and Marine Corps dance to be given at the Willard November 14.

Representative and Mrs. Richard S. Aldrich will arrive in Washington today and will open the house on Scott Circle, formerly the home of the late Mrs. Charles A. Munn.

The Commandant of the Navy Yard and Mrs. Charles C. Bloch were the guests in whose honor Capt. and Mrs. Percy W. Foote entertained at dinner Wednesday evening at their home in the navy yard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Marion Williams, of Palo Alto, Calif., leave today for Norfolk. They will also make a series of visits in Tennessee before returning to the West Coast. During part of their Washington sojourn Dr. and Mrs. Williams were guests of the President and Mrs. Hoover. They attended Stanford University when President and Mrs. Hoover were students there, and Dr. Williams has been the Hoovers' family physician for years.

Capital Girl Will Be Bride November 25

Miss Elise Alexander and Mr. John Carter to Be Married.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Renick Alexander have sent out invitations for the marriage of her daughter, Miss Elsie Alexander, to Mr. John Mein Carter. The ceremony will take place on Tuesday afternoon, November 25, at 4 o'clock in St. Matthew's Church, with Mgr. Buckley officiating.

A small reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents on New Hampshire avenue.

Miss Alexander will have as her maid of honor her sister, Miss Louise Piquette Alexander. The bridemaids include Miss Rahel Davies, Miss Anne C. Green, Miss Sallie Howes Phillips and Miss Laura Tuckerman, of Washington, and Miss Julia Kaufholz and Miss Ellen Wade, of Cleveland.

Mr. James N. Carter, jr., will be his brother's best man. The ushers will be Mr. Beauveau Barra 3d, Mr. Charles P. Davis, Mr. J. Andrews Harris 3d, Mr. Ledyard H. Heckscher, Mr. John R. Hilliard, Mr. John H. Hunter 2d, Mr. Dale Purves, Mr. Alfred Putnam and Mr. Charles O. Thompson, all of Philadelphia, and Mr. Brenton T. Thompson, of New York.

Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Godwin Moore are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son. Mrs. Moore was formerly Miss Beatrice McLean, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Ridley McLean.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Warder Thoron are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son. Mrs. Thoron was before her marriage Miss Violet Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benning Spencer.

Mrs. David A. Reed, wife of Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania; Mrs. Guy D. Goff, wife of Senator Goff, of West Virginia, and Mrs. Charles H. March, wife of the Federal Trade Commissioner, have made reservations for the card party of the League of Republican Women to be given at the Willard Friday, November 14, in celebration of the nineteenth birthday of the league. Others who have made reservations are Mrs. Frank Mondell, Mrs. David Prentiss, Mrs. Samuel Prescott, Mrs. H. C. Ramsey, Mrs. Edgar C. MacKenzie, Mrs. Frances Merchant, Mrs. Eldridge Moore, Mrs. J. O. Murdock, Mrs. F. H. Newell and Mrs. Walter I. Newton.

Mrs. Filene Dodd Goes to Country Home.

Mrs. Filene Dodd will go to her country place, Wolf Trap Farm, near Vienna, Va., to remain until after Thanksgiving, when she will open her Georgetown home.

Mrs. Dodd is at present in Philadelphia in the interests of the Institute of Women's Professional Relations, of which she is a director.

Mrs. Hoover Has Busy Day With Functions

First Lady Is Hostess to Ladies of Cabinet at Luncheon.

Mrs. Hoover was faced with a crowded program yesterday. After acting as hostess to the ladies of the Cabinet at luncheon at the White House, she accompanied the President to Bolling Field, where he awarded Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker, wartime ace, the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Mrs. Hoover has a penchant for these small and impromptu luncheon parties, which she holds from time to time throughout the season. Yesterday all the ladies of the Cabinet group were present except Mrs. Robert P. Lamont and Mrs. Arthur M. Hyde. The former is still sojourning in Europe. She had expected to make the trip a brief one, but has now postponed her return to the Capital until the end of the month.

Mrs. Hyde went to New York yesterday morning for a visit of several days. She recently returned from her home in Trenton, Mo., where she went to recuperate from a recent illness.

On Mrs. Hoover's program for the future is a dinner to be held at the Biltmore, November 21, by the Girl Scout Federation of Greater New York, when she will be the guest of honor.

The First Lady is honorary president of the Girl Scouts of America and the dinner will be the first general gathering of the advisory council of the organization.

Mrs. Hoover, in her interest in the Girl Scouts, is supported by a number of other women prominent in the capital, who "sandwich" in their activities in this direction with their social duties. Among them is Mrs. Frederick H. Brooke.

The regional committee of Region 3 of the Girl Scouts, will be entertained at dinner tonight by Mrs. Brooke, recently appointed chairman of the field division of the organization. This afternoon Mrs. Henry H. Flather will entertain at tea in her home in Georgetown for the group. The committee will meet today in the headquarters at 1625 M street.

CONTRACT BRIDGE.

In Contract, a worthless doubleton is always a No Trump menace although not necessarily a No Trump bar. When there is an available suit to bid, and especially when the hand is strong enough to bid two of that suit, it makes a safer declaration. The partner is very apt to have something to say after a two-bid. Take the following hand:

South, with a No Trump count of 18 but worried by a worthless doubleton, bids two Hearts in preference to one No Trump; and after West passes, North, with normal support in Hearts and two assisting tricks, bids three Hearts; and then South having only four Hearts informs his partner of the weakness in the Heart bid by calling three No Trumps. If North has four Hearts he is requested to advance that bid, but otherwise to let the three No Trumps stand. North passes and South is the Declarer at three No Trumps.

With the Queen of Spades the opening lead and the trick taken by North a problem of some little interest presents itself to the Declarer. He should lead Clubs before leading Hearts. It may be, as is the case in this hand, that East has the Ace of Hearts and West the King of Clubs. If that is the distribution of these two cards, game can be made with the Club lead first but not with the Heart lead first. With the Heart lead, East would win and return a Spade. North could hold up until the third round, but the Club finesse would be necessary later on and West would win and cash his two remaining Spades. If, however, the Club finesse is taken first, the King of Clubs will be caught if East has it; if West has it, it will be drawn from his hand and leave him without an entry for his Spades.

If West has both the King of Clubs and Ace of Hearts, game can not be made; but it can be with any other distribution of these two cards.

Jane Interprets the Mode

Graceful afternoon coat of yellow wool with interesting collar and cuffs of brown moleskin, worn with a tailored dress of yellow wool trimmed in yellow and brown crepe de chine. A brown and yellow leather belt and diagonal waist stitching and further chic. (A New York copy.)

New York, Nov. 6.

WRITE and tell us about things you like to see here, things we can perhaps study out for you. If it is at all possible, if the subjects are of general appeal I mean, we will take care of them and answer them in the column. Don't, of course, write reams asking me to design a dress for you out of two pieces of satin you happen to have or anything like that. But general things, things that you think would help all women on the difficult path of womanhood—write and ask me about them!

And please, oh, please, use some of these ideas and suggestions! Ask yourself first why you shouldn't possess some of the shortcomings you see in other women so plainly. You do. And we truly try to and can help you to overcome them.

* * * * *

I'll bet our delightful editor will phone our studio and ask us if we have a touch of the intellectual gout or something!

"Le cafard," perhaps. That's "blues" in French!

It's so-o-o-o easy nowdays to have lots and lots of lovely table linens—and inexpensive, too, because all the hand work that makes them so unusually attractive is done by you, your very own self! If you will send your stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post you'll be delighted at the ease with which you can make simply dozens of different sets, for luncheons, for breakfast, for teas—and all new ones, too.

That peasant embroidery on linen, now? Dahray tells you how to make that, and give you some other ideas and designs equally lovely and different.

* * * * *

It is possible that some of my dear readers don't know what strass is, let alone what paillettes are. Well, to be really helpful, then, strass is pronounced "strass" as it is spelled, and paillettes are pronounced "pi-e-t-yattes." And strass means any kind of imitation diamonds, such as we used to call rhinestones, but sometimes now called brilliants. While paillettes are nothing more or less mysterious than spangles, excepting that they are sometimes larger than spangles.

* * * * *

And just to show you how it's done, I have illustrated for you today a New York copy of a Paris model which is not lacking in individuality or originality or chic. The coat and dress were both yellow wool, the coat trimmed with brown moleskin, and the dress trimmed in yellow and brown crepe. And what else but a brown and yellow leather belt!

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

TRENCH MOUTH.

TRENCH mouth is not a new disease. Nearly 25 years ago Dr. Thomas L. Gilmer described it and told the treatment which he had found effective. He gave small doses of calomel followed by salts. At the present time this part of the treatment has been abandoned. The local treatment he used follows the general lines of present-day usage.

He cleaned the gums with a peroxide solution before breakfast daily. For this purpose he used a cotton swab. After that, the mouth was flushed every two hours with a warm, saturated solution of perborate of soda to which one drop of oil of cassia for each two ounces had been added. This is the home treatment. The office treatment consisted in swabbing the sore gums with a solution of peroxide followed by a local application of compound tincture of benzoin. In some cases he painted the sores with tincture of iodine instead of benzoin.

At the present time a 10 per cent, or somewhat stronger solution of chromic acid is used instead of benzoin or iodine and peroxide is used immediately after the more severe application rather than before.

Dr. Gilmer wrote: "It is not necessarily a disease of the poor or those of impaired vitality. It is not confined to those who are careless of oral hygiene. Neither is it traceable to metallic poisons, syphilis or kidney disease." All of this is in accordance with present-day opinion except it be the reference to oral hygiene. Doubtless some people develop trench mouth, even though they have kept their mouths clean, but Dr. Reasoner holds that lack of cleanliness of the mouth is an important factor and probably the chief one. He said people who wash the mouth and teeth with mixtures that contain soap do not develop trench mouth.

KIDNEY STONES.

E. F. writes: I was very much interested in your recent reply regarding stones in the kidneys. In an examination of my kidney a stone was noticed which caused a pus condition, but has since cleared up. What are the foods and beverages known to cause stones?

REPLY.

You can not change the stone now present by diet. Different kinds of foods cause different kinds of stone. Oxalate stones are caused by diet rich in rhubarb, pepper, spices, cocoa, chocolate, and tea. Urate stones by one rich in certain meats such as sweetbreads, kidney, roe, liver, beef tea, egg yellow, and in vegetable cells such as yeast.

Guiding Your Child

HIS OWN GAIT.

By MRS. AGNES LYNE.

Recent investigations in child development have brought to light the fact that not all children can be compelled to learn and to achieve the same things at the same rate of speed.

Nor can every child be forced to develop toward a goal fixed from without.

True, the average child can be made to learn the minimum essentials in managing his daily routine. He can be made to acquire certain common knowledge both in school and outside it, but even these things it is necessary that he should learn so far as possible in his own way, and at his own time.

Some children early take an almost passionate delight in learning to come with practical arrangements. Others, no less intelligent, live in the world of their thoughts.

Of such a child one could hardly expect the same efficiency in such matters as punctuality, or doing errands, as of the first type.

To the busy mother the dreaming child is a daily trial. In her natural impatience she is apt to resort to frequent scoldings. Such tactics will do much to spoil the relationship between mother and child and to add a negative, resisting mental attitude to the already existing difficulties.

Infinite patience and sympathetic understanding are necessary to make a child put forth his best effort to accomplish things which are alien to his natural disposition.

He must be permitted to go his own gait, to learn things in his own way and his own time.

Wives of Tomorrow

By FRANCES M'DONALD

The Other Woman.

IS it within reason for a girl to expect a wife graciously to step aside that the husband may be free to pursue a fresh romance unhampered by such entanglements as wife and home and two young children? Is it not taking the movies entirely too literally? After all we are still living in a world of human beings and not of superbeings. When a woman marries, and proceeds to have a family, she is relying upon the assurances of the man that she is to be permanent part in his life and not a passing interest until something more engaging happens to cross his path. Wives, strange as it may seem, are people. They do not become angels merely by marrying, although some few of them are called characteristics of the angelic coterie. Certainly to demand that a mother step out of the picture as her rival steps gracefully and carelessly in, seems just a bit too much.

Laura is 24 and voices her views on what she calls "Octopus wives."

Dear Mrs. McDonald:

Just one year ago I met a man at a party. He said nothing about being married and invited me to a show. We have been going together ever since. After we became serious, he said one night, "Of course you know I am married." I did know. Only by instinct, but I knew. By that time it was too late to do anything about it, as I loved him. He told me his story. And believe me, there is always a story when a married man is going around trying to forget that he is married. He was no exception. He said from the time the first baby was born the house was only a nursery and only the baby mattered. Her mother came and stayed all winter. The two women made him feel unnecessary and he kept out of their way. He had been put out of his room for the mother and after she went the nurse got it. He never gave up the hall room that the first baby was allotted him, and came and went as he pleased.

One year later the wife and baby went to visit in Michigan and stayed four months. He went with a girl all that time, but gave her up when the wife returned. That was eleven years ago. They have now two children, boys, 12 and 8. He has told his wife that he would like a divorce, told her long before he met me. She refuses on the ground that her children would be paying for her mistake in marrying what she calls a weakling. She knows that there have been women from time to time and lets it pass. She now knows about me. I see him every night without fail. She does nothing. He keeps his room at the house, eats out and pays the bills. She calls that marriage. Every one they know, knows about me. We go everywhere we wish. She accepts it and still hangs on by her fingernails. What do these women get out of what they call their "marriage?" Which one of us is the parasite? I am called the "other" woman. Is she any woman at all? I have prepared her husband's dinner every night for one year. She rarely even speaks to him, although always pleasant when she does. Her attitude is that I do not matter. The fact is that she is the one who does not matter. She is entirely out of his life forever. Their marriage is finished but she will not admit it. What can she hope to gain except his hate? Are such women "good" women?

LAURA.

And the trouble is that marriage unlike other partnerships happens to involve the innocent bystander, the child who knows nothing of the reactions of the two who ushered him into existence but who looks to them instinctively for care and protection. Sometimes a woman in the course of her marriage discovers the true caliber of the man she has married. In this case she may know that divorced and away from his children this man would never give them another thought. And it is his duty to give them thought and parental protection as well as support. The world is flooded today with children for whom no one feels the least responsibility. They are fathered by men who "go" with girls while their wives are recuperating from the ordeal of motherhood. Any girl who could pin her faith on such a man knows little of men.

Wives have their sides of the story—and it is the sorry side.

Uncle Sam's Home Hints

SPECIAL MEANS OF KEEPING FOODS COOL.

(U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

Under ordinary household conditions and where ice is obtainable the refrigerator is generally the best means for keeping foods cool. When ice is placed in the refrigerator, it begins to melt by absorbing heat from the surrounding air. This air, becoming colder and heavier, settles to the lower part of the refrigerator, while the warmer air rises, giving up heat by coming in contact with the ice, and in turn becomes chill and sinks to the bottom. These currents of air come in contact with the food, absorb heat from it, and so cool it.

On the continuous and rapid circulation of cooled air in a refrigerator, then, in a large measure depends its value as a storage place for foods. All spaces for the passage of air from the ice chamber should be kept open. It is a mistake to wrap the ice in paper or cloth. Such a covering retard the circulation of air and insulates the ice from the rest of the refrigeartor.

Each article placed in the refrigerator contains a definite amount of heat that will melt a definite amount of ice. Hot foods should, whenever possible, be cooled to room temperature before being put in the refrigerator. Also, there is no excuse for using ice to chill such things as thick paper wrappings of parcels from the market, the tops of carrots or the outside leaves of lettuce.

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

FOUR EXPOSURES.

IF YOU are the possessor of a house with four sides, be happy, for you can be reasonably sure of growing any plants you admire, because you will be able to give them the exposure that suits them best. Unfortunately, in most cities or even towns, houses are arranged in rows, which means that there are rarely more than two available exposures, which, of course, limits your choice.

Generlly speaking, a southern exposure is best. Next to this is an eastern one. Some plants can be grown in a western window, but they are not apt to do so well as they would in a window facing the south or east. This is due to the intense heat of the afternoon sun. Of course, the most impossible exposure for plants is a northern one and yet such plants as the English ivy or the aspidistra or some of the nonblooming varieties of begonias (those with the most beautiful leaves) will not only live but thrive in such a location. And how a few green growing vines or plants will, like the glow of the open fire, relieve the gloom of a northern room!

Some flowering plants, like the begonias, do not care for strong sunshine, nor, in fact, any sunshine for many hours at a time. Such plants always do well in an eastern window.

When purchasing any plant for house use you should first consider where you mean to place the plant, then before making your selection ask the grower whether the plant you want will grow in the location available. If this is done there will be less disappointment in the future.

Now, while you can not change the exposure you have to offer plants, you can with little effort supply them with the fresh air which is so necessary to their welfare.

Seventy-five per cent of all failures with house plants can be attributed to dust-laden air. The daily shower bath keeps the pores of the leaves open, but in addition to this you must give them moisture. The most practical way to do this is to keep water evaporating in all artificially heated rooms.

The necessity of admitting pure, fresh air to rooms where you have growing plants can be readily understood. Never keep your rooms at a temperature of 80 degrees and then open wide the windows directly in front of a group of plants. The sudden chilling of the foliage which is sure to result will affect the plant in much the same way as a sudden or prolonged draft of cold air affects a person. The best and surest way is to open a window other than the one by which the plants are growing, or, better still, the windows or a door in an adjoining room. This method will enable the cool air to mingle with the warm air of the first room, and thus the chill will be taken from it before it reaches the plants.

All readers' questions on growing and care of indoor and outdoor flowers and floral decorations for social functions will be answered by Miss Kift, directly in this column if addressed in care of The Washington Post, or directly to readers if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is supplied.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

IF November 7 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 a. m. to 9:30 a. m., from 1 p. m. to 2 p. m., and from 11 p. m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 11 a. m. to noon, and from 7 p. m. to 8 p. m.

"SCORPIO."

A drab day, viewed from the point of accomplishments, is predicted for this date. It will be a period of contemplation and dreaming more than action. A quarrelsome time for lovers and domestic unhappiness. Worry and disappointment in connection with intimate personal ties.

The child born on this November 7 will be shrewd and cunning, and will have its own way "by hook or crook." It will do things impulsively, will be easily discouraged and sensitive. It will have mechanical skill.

You have a bright philosophy of life, you look out for things to appreciate, and see twice as much as he who is looking out for things to grumble at. The underlying structures of your character are solid and your granite-like reputations are not created by fantastic and unprincipled self-advertising. Your actions prove the honesty and decency of your nature, as well as the bigness of your heart. You make no promises you can not fulfil to the utmost in letter and spirit.

Life to you is an adventure, and when the thrill has gone out of an effort (business or pleasure), when you know you can do no better, your interest lags, and you are ready to take on new problems to unravel. You are never anxious to give your active mind a vacation. Indolence and you are not on speaking terms. As a man, you have money sense, and you can not only make it, but you can keep it. You are not a "tight wad," but you want full receipt for value given. You never try to put on a show, and your tastes are sensible and simple.

As a woman, you know how to apply business principles within the home, and you will make a true helpmate to your husband. Service is the keynote of your life. Both men and women have very discreet tongues, and make safe confidants. You make very delightful friends and relentless enemies.

Name "Hard to Spell," Woman Seeks Change

Declaring her name does not indicate her American citizenship, Fannie Gluckstein yesterday asked that the District Supreme Court let her change it to Fannie Gladstone.

Besides, she said, her present name is hard to spell or pronounce and she frequently is embarrassed when it is misspelled or mispronounced. Attorney Jennie O. Berliner appeared for the petitioner.

Hollywood Screen Life

By HUBBARD KEAVY.

Hollywood—Movie companies are taking advantage of almost anything their stars do that is of sufficient interest to be called "news" for a few days.

ROBERT MONTGOMERY.

First fight or gangster threat, if the incident "made page one," idea-grabbing movie men are quick to see the worth of capitalizing on it in the star's next film.

There was a short gambling sequence in Clara Bow's forthcoming picture, but after she canceled a gambling debt by stopping payment on the checks she wrote the title was changed and the scenes around the roulette wheels and dice tables were enlarged upon and made more important.

And instead of "Usherette" it will have a title strongly suggestive of gambling.

Ordinarily Clara's bosses wouldn't recall her none-too-pleasant vacation at Calneva in this fashion, but no effort to help regain her popularity can be overlooked.

It is expected that those who are avowed Bow fans will want to view her picture to see how closely it follows the real gambling incident. There probably won't be much resemblance.

THE RACKET.

When Jack Oakie was in Chicago, racketeers there demanded money from him, we read, but Jack's manager was smart enough to talk them out of it, and so the comedian didn't have to pay, as many other stage and screen persons have.

Maybe it's only a coincidence, but Jack's next picture will be a burlesque on gangster films, to be called "On the Spot."

The short fight in which Jim Tully floored John Gilbert already has been cashed in on. The principals buried the hatchet and are appearing together in a picture.

NAME SWITCHES.

The matter of name changing came up when Douglas Montgomery came to work at the same studio employing Robert Montgomery.

Obviously the names would be confusing. Finally, after three changes, Douglas became Kent Douglas. But during the discussion some suggested Robert shorten his name—and actually suggested Monty Gomery!

Jobless actors, of which Hollywood has many, invariably speak of being "just between pictures."

If there is even a remote possibility of them starting to work next month, they say they're "about to begin."

In eight years Clara Bow has posed for nearly 50,000 photographs.

IT WAS LOCKED

By JOHN HAWK.

CHAPTER 33.

When Inspector Linscott and Bruce Armstrong returned to Alston Manor, Lady Dorothy and Lady Gwendolen were already at lunch. In spite of the exciting happenings of that morning, it was on the whole a silent meal, during which everyone appeared absorbed in his or her own thoughts.

But immediately the meal was over, and all rose from the table, Inspector Linscott followed Lady Gwendolen and stopped her in the corridor.

"Lady Gwendolen, I would like to have a word with you!"

"Do you mind my smoking?" asked the inspector when they had seated themselves in the large comfortable chairs. "It helps me to think."

"Not at all," Lady Gwendolen replied, with an effort at a laugh. "You may smoke seven cigars all at once if they'll only help you to solve the mystery and allow you to let Mr. Smith out!"

"We're all anxious to do that, Lady Gwendolen," the inspector assured her, gravely. "And now," he observed, changing the tone of voice to one of business, and sending vigorous puffs of smoke into the air, "what I want of you is this. I desire to spare your feelings as much as possible, of course. But I should like you to tell me everything you know of Lord Winston's past life in Canada. For I have a strong conviction that the murder was committed by a Canadian, certainly by some one who knew your brother in Canada."

"I have been thinking hard, and I've come to a similar conclusion," said Lady Gwendolen, earnestly. "And I'm quite ready to tell all I know about poor Edward. My brother was an exceptionally honest, straightforward man; in fact, the kind that makes enemies—or friends, for that matter—easily. And this morning, as I was trying to think of his past, a memory came back to be of a story he once told me of his own life. It is scant enough in its way; yet, scant as it is, I thought it might just furnish a clew."

"It is the scantiest things which nearly always do furnish the clews, Lady Winston," said the inspector, now all alert and notebook in hand. "Please don't overlook the slightest detail. The one seemingly insignificant detail may be everything. That's been by frequent experience. But please go on!"

"It happened in this way, Inspector Linscott. One day—I was about 17 then—like the inquisitive thing I was, I was rummaging through Edward's effects. It was in his den at home where he kept all sorts of curious trophies from his shooting expeditions and that sort of thing, you know; at one time he loved shooting above everything in the world. Then suddenly, without any ostensible reason, he gave it up."

"When was that? I mean when did your brother give up shooting?"

"Let me see * * *" Lady Gwendolen puckered her forehead into a frown. "It must have been when he was 21 * * * no, 20! That's about ten years ago."

"Thank you, Lady Gwendolen. Please continue."

"Well, as I was saying, I was rummaging through his things. And he was standing by and teasing me for being so very curious. And as I went on rummaging, I came across a small leather case, and on opening it I found myself looking at a knife, exactly like the one that killed my brother. You see, that is why I cried out on seeing it that it was Edward's; they were so exactly alike, as far as I can remember his, and I had never seen a similar one until that night." Her voice broke, but she immediately went on bravely. "I took it out of the case and studied it for a moment or two. My brother's back was turned on me at the time. Then suddenly he turned around, and when he saw what I was doing, his face grew quite ashen pale. 'Put that down, Gwen! Put that down!' he shouted. I thought there was more alarm than vexation in his voice. His shout, I remember, frightened me, and in my fright I dropped the knife on the floor, where it stuck on end. Then he walked over, picked up the knife, put it back in its sheath, then into the leather case, and without a word put it away. A few moments afterwards—how well I recall it all now!—he turned to me more gently, and said: 'I am sorry, Gwen, to have seemed so rude to you, but that knife brings back unpleasant memories. * * *'"

Lady Gwendolen paused. Her own mind seemed to be desperately playing with tragic memories, too recent to be borne with equanimity. Tears struggled in her eyes, as she fought hard to control her feelings.

"And did he tell you what these unpleasant memories were?" Inspector Linscott prompted her gently.

"Yes, but not until some time afterward. You see, I had to coax him to do it. I was consumed with curiosity, you see. And he finally consented. I will try to tell the story as near as possible in his own words."

"It appears," she began, "that in one of his hunting expeditions he picked up two fur-traders and chummed with them. They three agreed to go along together * * * that was his last hunting expedition—he was 20 then. It was when he got the knife * * * but there, I'm anticipating my story. I must first tell you who the fur-traders were. The name of one was Pierre Legrange——"

"French?" interrupted the inspector questioningly.

"Precisely," said Lady Gwendolen. "He was a nice French-Canadian, with a drop of Red Indian blood in him, I believe. The other was Bruin Peters——"

"What!" cried the inspector, almost springing from his chair. "Why, that is certainly curious! I mean about the initials of 'B. P.' But do go on!"

"My brother," went on the narrator, "was much taken with Pierre, and he noticed an equal fondness in Pierre for him. But as the weeks went on, he began to observe a secret feud growing up between the two traders. This appears to have been due to the growing collection of skins, and to the necessity for their ultimate sharing. As they were getting nearer and nearer to civilization, where the spoils were to be divided, the feud grew more and more open. Indeed, on one occasion, Edward appears to have saved Pierre's life * * * and it was in gratitude for this that Pierre begged Edward to accept his knife as a souvenir. * * *"

"In what way did he save Pierre's life?" asked Inspector Linscott.

"As I remember my brother told me, it happened in this way," explained Lady Gwendolen. "They happened to be near some ice floes. Pierre was trying to catch some fish. Bruin Peters, evidently unsuspecting my brother's presence, was seen by Edward to steal quietly round some huge chunks of ice, which concealed Bruin from Pierre. His intention was quite evident. There was a knife in his hand. He had apparently meant to stab Pierre and push him over into the icy water. My brother, who was approaching from the opposite direction, faced the intending murderer, and whipped out his revolver, meaning to shoot if Bruin attempted to carry out his plan. Just then Bruin Peters looked up and saw Edward watching him. He immediately put away his knife, but not before he had flung at Edward a glance of intense hatred. My brother knew then that he had made a deadly enemy, a man who would neither forget nor forgive * * * For the rest A few days later they reached a trading post * * *"

Lady Gwendolen paused for a moment and it was evident that she was trying to recall accurately the story as her brother had told it. Inspector Linscott waited impatiently. He was eager to hear the rest of the story, and see how it could be fitted in with his hypothesis about the mysterious Canadian, Willis Hanson.

"Here," resumed Lady Gwendolen, "Pierre Legrange and Bruin Peters entered a saloon, where they stayed for some time, and apparently drank rather heavily. My brother, who was outside, saw them come out, and heard them quarreling. Scenting trouble, he followed them as they walked across the snow. It was a moonlit night and he could see the two figures plainly. He was a considerable number of yards behind them. They were too intent on their own affair to turn around. Suddenly he saw them at grips, he saw the flash of a knife, a wild lunge, and one man prone on the snow. He didn't know which of the two had been hurt, but a premonition told him it was Pierre. He began to run. The other, who was still alive, must have caught sight of him as he was running, for he turned and fled, disappearing behind the brow of the hill."

Your Name
WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

By HARRY A. DEFERRARI, PH.D.

The family name "Devins" (also spelled "Devin" and "Devine") may be traced back to two Celtic sources. In most cases it is the modern form of the original Irish "O Daimhin," and means "The descendant of the poet." The spelling "Devine" is especially common in Ulster, while a third variation, "Davin," seems to predominate in Munster and Connacht. In some parts of Ireland it has been changed to "Davy" and "Davis." In a few cases, "Devine" and its many variations stand for an original "O Dubhain" or "O Duibhin," and therefore mean "the descendant of the little black man."

The family name "Walbert" (also spelled "Wallbert") is of German origin. It is the modern form of the old personal name "Waldobert," which means "power-bright."

The family name "Burridge" (also spelled "Burrage") is the modern form of the Anglo-Saxon "Burgric." "Burgric" (also spelled "Burhric") was an old personal name meaning "castle-strong." The form "Burrie" is recorded in the Domesday Book. It will be recalled that the Domesday Book, a famous source of ancient English names, contained a digest, in Latin, of the results of a census or survey of England undertaken by order of William the Conqueror. It was completed in 1086.

The personal name "Basil" is ultimately of Greek origin, and means "kingly" or "royal."

SOCIETY

whose fads and hobbies form a distracting mass of activities as evidenced in the recent flair for flying revealed by Miss Adele Jahncke, daughter of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Ernest Lee Jahncke, who, a day or two ago, gaily bundled a few friends into an airplane in New Orleans to fly to the Jahncke country home at Biloxi, Miss., for luncheon.

The great Southern house on the beach, famous for its oak-shaded galleries and its generous hospitality, is the mecca of young people from New Orleans, where the Assistant Secretary and Mrs. Jahncke have their winter home. Clam bakes and oyster roasts are the piece de resistance of late afternoons and evenings on the beach, that stretches for miles in front of the Jahncke house.

The Biloxi home is never closed, and the sight of an airplane winging its way from the West to deposit Miss Jahncke and her friends on the Biloxi airport has become a familiar occurrence for Southern birdmen.

The daughters of the "Little Cabinet," in truth, seem to have a penchant for "birds of the air." Miss Jahncke's predecessor in the "Little Navy," Miss Helen Robinson, daughter of the former Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Theodore Douglas Robinson, also went in for flying, even aspiring to the capture of a pilot's license. But fate decreed otherwise, and Miss Robinson's marriage to Mr. John A. Hinckley changed the course of her plans. Mrs. Hinckley is now abroad.

Miss Jahncke made her debut in New Orleans only a week or two ago and will be presented in Washington this winter.

Mr. John Hays Hammond arrived in town yesterday afternoon and is at his home on Kalorama road, where Mrs. Hammond will join him in two or three days. They have spent the summer at their estate at Gloucester, Mass.

Mr. Percival P. Baxter, former Governor of Maine, is at the Willard.

Gen. Charles McK. Saltzman, chairman of the Federal Radio Commission, entertained a small company at luncheon yesterday at the Willard.

Miss Ada M. Comstock, president of Radcliffe College at Cambridge, Mass., is at the Carlton for a few days.

Mrs. Eleanor Patterson will entertain at a small dinner dance on December 22 for Miss Sarah Brisbane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brisbane, who is a student at the Foxcroft School. Mr. and Mrs. Brisbane will come from New York for the dance and will be guests of Mrs. Patterson.

Mr. Allan Dawson Is Paris Visitor.

Mr. Allan Dawson, of Washington, who is second secretary of the American Embassy in Mexico City, is in Paris for a short visit.

The board of governors of the National Woman's Country Club has issued invitations for a musicale and tea on the afternoon of November 14 at the clubhouse on Bradley lane, at which time Carl Jaspan, the well-known violinist, will be the artist, accompanied by Evangeline Frankson at the piano.

Mr. Jaspan, a pupil of the Viennese teacher, Luigi Von Kunits, and of Henri Czaplinski, is well known to music lovers, having played in all the large Eastern cities of the United States and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Bremier have gone to the mountains of Asheville, N. C., where they are guests at the Grove Park Inn.

Capt. Joseph J. Watson, U. S. A., has arrived in Washington from Los Angeles, Calif., and is at the Carlton for a stay of three weeks.

Dr. G. Kirkpatrick has returned from an extended cruise, and will be at Wardman Park Hotel for the winter.

Miss Marba Woolhiser entertained at dinner Wednesday night at the Shoreham, when her guests included Miss Margaret Ann Cline and her brother, Mr. Leeland C. Cline; Miss Elizabeth Ferguson, Mr. Richard D. Noel, of Athens, Tenn.; Mr. Richard Clifford, of Pittsburgh, and Miss Frances Wilson.

Mrs. Francis S. Nash, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Carolyn Nash, will sail from Europe on November 19 for their annual visit in this country. For several years with Capt. Nash, they have lived in France and their friends in Washington, their old home, have only seen them on visits. This winter Capt. Nash will not come here, but will remain in Nice during the absence of his family.

Dr. E. Dana Durand, expert adviser of the tariff commission, will be the guest of honor and speaker at the luncheon which will be given by the American Association of University Women at their clubhouse, 1634 I street, tomorrow.

Dr. Durant will speak on Poland, where he was formerly economic adviser to the Polish government. Mrs. O. L. Veerhoff will preside and Mrs. George F. Bowerman will introduce Dr. Durand.

Miss Ida Hoyt Chamberlain, artist composer, who will sing some of her own songs at the artists' tea in the League of American Pen Women studio on Sunday will leave for China on November 20.

The annual charity carnival of Tau Beta Phi Sorority will be held tomorrow at the Mayflower Hotel from 8 until 1 o'clock. The entertainment of the evening consists of a minstrel show, card playing and dancing. The minstrel show committee is headed by Mrs. Mae Trimble.

The First Secretary of the Brazilian Embassy and Mme. Coelho de Almeida arrived in New York yesterday on the S. S. Lafayette from France. Also on the ship was Mrs. Gladys Moon Jones, of Washington.

The Secretary of State, Mr. Henry L. Stimson, has been reelected chairman of the governing board of the Pan-American Union for the next year by unanimous vote of the representatives of the American Republic who comprise the group. The Ambassador of Brazil, Mr. S. Gurgel do Amaral, has been elected vice chairman, succeeding the Mexican Ambassador and dean of the Diplomatic Corps, Mr. Manuel C. Telles.

Mr. and Mrs. Faulkner Are Capital Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Faulkner, of Chicago, have returned to the Mayflower for a week or ten days before going to their former home in Martinsburg, W. Va., for a visit. Mr. Faulkner is the son of the late Senator Faulkner.

Mrs. O. H. Perry Johnson has left Washington to spend the winter season in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Weller have as their guests Mr. Weller's two daughters, Mrs. Charles Drennon, of Kansas City, and Mrs. George Fulford, jr., who were accompanied to Washington by Mrs. Earl Smith, of New York. Mr. Drennon, Mr. Fulford and Mr. Smith will join them here tomorrow.

Lieut. and Mrs. Harry Slocum will entertain tomorrow at tea in honor of the visitors, and on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Weller will give an informal tea at their home on Massachusetts avenue for them.

The Pierce Hall Players will present their initial performance of "Kindling," by Charles Kenyon, this evening and tomorrow evening. Laura Stockton Voorhees, who was formerly with the Guild Theater of Baltimore, will play the leading part.

¼ teaspoon celery salt.
3 tablespoons catsup.
3 tablespoons butter.
2-3 cup water.

Wipe off steaks with damp cloth. Fit into greased baking pan and sprinkle with salt. Spread with catsup and butter. Add water. Bake 10 minutes in moderate oven. Add lid and bake 30 minutes. Baste frequently.

Relish Salad.

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin mixture.
1 2-3 cups boiling water.
1-3 cup salad dressing.
2-3 cup chopped cabbage.
¼ cup chopped sweet pickles.
¼ cup chopped pimento-stuffed olives.
1-3 teaspoon salt.
¼ teaspoon paprika.
1-3 cup diced celery.

Pour water over gelatin mixture and stir until dissolved. Cool and allow to thicken. Beat a little and add rest of ingredients. Mix well and pour into mold rinsed in cold water. Set in cold place to stiffen. Unmold and serve cut in slices.

Baked Peach Pudding.

3 eggs.
2-3 cup sugar.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
1 teaspoon lemon extract.
¼ teaspoon salt.
3 cups milk.
2 cups sliced peaches. (canned).
2 tablespoons flour.

Beat eggs and add sugar, vanilla, lemon, salt and milk. Beat 2 minutes. Add peaches which have been mixed with flour. Pour into buttered baking dish. Set in pan of hot water and bake 35 minutes in a very slow oven. Cool, chill and serve.

A good food to serve for Sunday tea can be made by placing sliced tomatoes, bacon strips and slices of cheese on slices of buttered bread. When baked in a moderate oven a very tasty dish results.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH
..goes on the HIGHWAY

SERVICE STATIONS of STANDARD OIL COMPANY of NEW JERSEY are now POSTAL TELEGRAPH OFFICES

POSTAL TELEGRAPH again leads in giving the public another new service. Service stations of Standard Oil Company of New Jersey are now also Postal Telegraph offices. In other parts of the country similar arrangements have been made with other Standard Oil Companies.

Thus the millions of people who ride in the 26,500,000 automobiles and trucks over the 700,000 miles of improved roads in this country have available proper communication facilities.

Now...the truck fleet can report to headquarters easily... without delay... the traveler can tell of a safe arrival, or reserve rooms at a hotel a day's drive ahead without leaving the steering wheel... the hundreds of thousands of passengers in busses are offered the same communication services as the railway passenger... the salesman covering his territory by automobile is in constant contact with his prospect list and home office.

Now... around the corner from your home, or at thousands of convenient stops along your road, world-wide communication at Postal Telegraph speed is available without leaving your car. Simply ask the attendant for a Postal Telegraph blank and the far corners of the earth are brought to your steering wheel.

Postal Telegraph service—certain—economical—world-wide—parallels the road maps of the United States.

Highway communication is another great step in the expansion program of the International System—the only American telegraph company offering world-wide coordinated record communications—telegraph—cable—radio.

STARS ATTACK FOX THEATER POLICIES

United Artists Ban "Arrogant Monopoly" of West Coast Chain.

DICTATION IS CHARGED

San Francisco, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Nine of Hollywood's leading motion picture stars associated with the United Artists issued a statement today attacking the Fox West Coast Theaters as "an arrogant monopoly" and announcing they would show none of their productions in Fox Chain Theaters hereafter if the organization continues its present policies.

The declaration asserted that the Fox organization, through its control of 400 theaters on the Pacific Coast, was attempting to dictate to movie producers how much it would pay for films, regardless of their worth and artistic merit.

Issued from the offices of Joseph Schenck and Samuel Goldwyn in Hollywood, and released here by their representatives, the statement was signed by Charles Chaplin, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Norma Talmadge, Gloria Swanson, D. W. Griffith, Eddie Cantor, Al Jolson and Ronald Colman.

Prices Held Too Low.

The movie stars said they would show their productions in halls and armories on the Pacific Coast if "the monopoly maintains its present greedy and short-sighted policy."

"It is fixing a price for our pictures that is so low we can not accept it and continue to make the kind of picture we want to create," the statement said. "The monopoly intends to pay us less and charge the American public as much as ever. If we yield, we cheapen our pictures; if we do not yield, we must show our pictures in halls and armories or deprive the people of the Pacific Coast of productions that will be enjoyed by the rest of the world.

"But we will not be dictated to. We have not made cheap pictures as the slaves of a monopoly and we do not intend to do so."

Fox "Not Greatly Concerned."

New York, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Officials of the Fox Film Corporation today denied charges of nine United Artist players that the Fox West Coast theaters was "an arrogant monopoly."

The officials said there were a number of other theater chains operating on the West Coast and all showed films on a percentage basis, which was almost identical with Fox prices.

"In as much as United Artists produce only a small percentage of the films shown in Fox theaters, we are not greatly concerned with their threat to withdraw all their efforts," they said.

Chile Will Investigate Arrest of U. S. Flier

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Ambassador Culbertson was informed today by Carlos Frodden, minister of the interior, that the Chilean government will make a thorough investigation into the arrest yesterday of Capt. Albert W. Stevens, American Army aviator, who had been making aerial photographs in Chile for the National Geographic Society.

Capt. Stevens was detained briefly as he was preparing to leave the country. He was at liberty today, but remained here to see the case through. Mr. Culbertson, at a conference with the minister of the interior, renewed his strong protest against the arrest.

IN THE PLAYHOUSE

By JOHN J. DALY

WHEN the wreckers have done with Poli's Theater, the 2,000 or more upholstered seats that held high-priced patrons during the Duse performance, and others of equal importance, will be carted down the river to Occoquan. There they will be set in place for the gentlemen and ladies of leisure who are guests at the District Farm—a little theater in course of construction for the amusement, edification, and education of the incarcerated.

A follower of belles letters, Mr. Charles McClintock, advance agent for the Katharine Cornell play, "Dishonored Lady," points to the fact that the star has for husband one Guthrie McClintic—which is almost the same as McClintock, with the exception of an "i" and an "e," "but it shows," says Mr. McClintock, the good influence of spelling bees on the body politic. A loss of an "o" and a "k" and the substitution of an "i," and I would be getting Mr. Cornell's—I mean Mr. McClintic's—mail.

Gilbert Miller, the producer, not seen in Washington since the early part of last season, will be here all next week during the premiere engagement of "Marseilles," the Parisian success that Sidney Howard has adapted for the American stage. The following week Mr. Gilbert will again visit Washington to welcome Katharine Cornell; also on his pay roll. This is making up for lost time; two trips, one on the heels of the other.

It happens that Mr. Earl Carroll is also on his way to town. He is due here the week after next, when his "Sketch Book," with Will Mahoney featured, moves into the National. In Boston Mr. Carroll had quite a lot of trouble with the censor, who made the girls wear stockings. In Washington the girls hope to go into their dance without all this impedimenta.

Over in Baltimore the natives had first glimpse of a new all-colored revue called "Running de Town," primed for a run on Broadway; but after the Baltimore reviewers got through with the offering there wasn't a run left. It has as star one of the best colored comics, Lyle, of the old team, Miller and Lyle, who evidently failed to click without his partner.

When she was 60 years of age, Edna Wallace Hopper, who calls herself the perennial flapper, packed the Earle Theater to the doors—demonstrating some sort of physical culture, for women only. Now, the young lady has come back from a year in Europe and will make the grand circuit of vaudeville houses as an adagio dancer. Her first appearance will be in the Palace, New York, with the subway circuit to follow—and then Washington.

Leslie Banks, an English actor who made his first American appearance here last year, playing opposite Helen Menken in "The Infinite Shoeblack," has scored another hit in New York; this time in the Professional Players' presentation of H. M. Harwood's play, "The Man in Possession." Washington was to have seen the play before New York; but it got shunted to Great Neck instead.

For three years the American stage has been without the dancing talents of James Barton—a boy who got his start on the board down in Tidewater, Va. Now comes the glad news that the dancing demon will be in Billy Rose's new show, "Sweet and Low"—headed for Broadway.

POLICE SEIZE WIFE OF FRAUD SUSPECT

Charge Mrs. Griffin Pointed Pistol at Detectives in New York Hotel.

WOMAN WELCOMES JAIL

New York, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—While her husband and an associate were held today on charges in connection with a $200,000 mail fraud, Mrs. Bessie Griffin, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Tuskegee, Ala., sold a police dog for $150 to a detective who arrested her for assault and carrying a pistol.

The husband, George W. Griffin, assistant treasurer of the L. C. Smith Typewriter Co., was taken into custody on the mail fraud charges by Federal investigators, on the company's complaint. He did not know his wife was jailed nor did she know that he was a prisoner.

After Griffin's arrest detectives seized Raymond Shannon, 38 years old, of Queens, comptroller of the typewriter company, for alleged juggling of accounts in the New York office.

Had Craved Prison Fare.

Meanwhile Mrs. Griffin gave police something to think about. While the two men were being held for a hearing before a Federal commissioner, she explained to interviewers that since she wore jewelry worth $30,000 she felt safer in prison. She said she always had craved prison fare "and now I've got it."

Mrs. Griffin was arrested in a Times Square hotel when, police declared, she attacked a waiter who brought a tray of food to her room and pointed a pistol at the three detectives sent to subdue her.

Later, she said, she sold to one of the detectives one of the 60 police dogs she owns at her Syracuse, N. Y., home.

When arraigned before a Federal commissioner, Shannon and Griffin waived examination and were held for the grand jury. Unable to procure bonds of $5,000 each, they were taken to the Federal house of detention.

Payees Declared Fictitious.

The complaints set forth that the defendants drew checks to fictitious payees against the company's expense account; that they committed forgery by inserting the name of the Syracuse Trust Co. as an alternative payee; presented the checks in Syracuse and received in return cashier's checks to the order of the original fictitious payee in each instance.

The cashier's checks then were indorsed, it is charged, and deposited to the account of Griffin in the "Cortland Trust Co." up-State. Afterward the funds obtained were divided, the Government alleges.

If You Are Fat At 45
Here's Good News For You
Yes: I'm forty-five today—built like a race horse, my friends say—and I know I feel 10 years younger than I did three months ago—and I'd hate to tell you how much fat I lost with Kruschen.
I call Kruschen Salts the "magic salts" because when I was fat and wretched, despondent and half sick all the time—it took only one bottle that I bought for 85 cents at Peoples Drug Stores to liven me up—put ambition and energy into me—make me feel years younger and show me how to lose the fat I was so ashamed of.
Let me advise all fat people not to fail to take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.
Every drug store worthy of the name in the world sells Kruschen Salts—an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—not much to pay for buoyant health.—A West Virginia woman lost 15 pounds in 2 weeks, and has no more headaches.—Adv.

SPECIALIZED STORE OBSOLETE, IS CLAIM

Head of A. & P. Chain Stores Testifies on Packers' Consent Decree.

BUYING HABITS CITED

An evolution in buying habits, contributed to largely by the automobile, has rendered the specialized store obsolete.

This statement was made yesterday by John A. Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., testifying for the Government in the packers' consent decree hearing which is in progress before Justice Jennings Bailey in District Supreme Court. The packers are seeking modification of the decree, signed in 1920.

Amplifying the statement, Mr. Hartford said: "People now prefer to buy their foods under one roof and accordingly the A. & P. stores have gradually broadened their scope from the handling of tea and coffee to a point where all sorts of food, including fresh meats, now are being distributed."

Mr. Hartford described the growth of his company during the past 72 years and pointed out that it now operates 15,000 stores in 3,864 communities. The witness credited the so-called "big packers," who are named in the consent decree, with having superior service and such wide selection that they are essential to the stores he controls if his stores are to handle meats. He expressed the belief that if the channels afforded by the "big packers" were closed to his company, he would have to give serious consideration to going into the meat packing business.

Other witnesses during the day were retail grocers and meat dealers, who in the main expressed the fear that they might be driven out of business if the meat packers were permitted to distribute their output direct to the consumers.

Views on Water Power Sought in Referendum

(Associated Press.)

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States yesterday began a referendum vote among its members to ascertain their views on principles which should govern the Nation's development of water power resources. Fifteen proposals, prepared by the organization's special committee on national water policies, were sent to chambers of commerce throughout the United States. Replies are due in 45 days.

The proposals included a vote on whether Muscle Shoals "should be sold or leased as it is, on the best possible terms," and on the relationship between Federal and State governments on water power development.

TUNNEY TESTIFIES TO POLITICAL AID IN MATCHES

Westbrook Pegler Says.

WEST POINT, Nov. 6.—On comparison of the records of the two teams, the football game between the Military Academy and the University of Illinois in New York next Saturday shapes up about the same as a fight between a few dozen exasperated Reds demanding their rights, if any, and the entire strength of the New York Police Department.

The University of Illinois has lost three football games thus far and the worst the Army has done was the tie with Yale. Yet the officers of the Army coaching staff went into a serious huddle in the office of Maj. Ralph "Tanks" Sasses, the head coach, yesterday afternoon, and spent an hour trying to convince themselves that they were about to face a dangerous menace.

Reminds of Police Conference Against Public Enemy.

Referring again to the comparative records, this attempt at grim anticipation suggested Police Commissioner Mulrooney and his staff of deputies down to deputies of the twentieth degree conferring on a plan to thwart some dangerous public enemy who has threatened to park his car within 12 feet of a water plug, contrary to the peace and dignity of the community and the ordinances made and provided.

Precautions of so elaborate a nature as the University of Illinois will consider downright flattering were being made to prevent the violation of the Army's goal, including pinwheels, spinners, half-reverses and several figures adapted from the hoedown.

No doubt the coaches had in mind the occurrences of last fall at Champaign, Ill., when the Army suffered a couple of embarrassing moments due to accidents in their own offensive, or genius in the Illinois defense, according to the point of view. To the undiscriminating gaze of the common customer it looked as though these incidents were breaks or unforeseen mishaps, but that night after the game Mr. Robert Zuppke, the wizard mentor and vicarious comic strip artist, who coaches Illinois, insisted that he had anticipated just such minute turns of the game and had told his athletes precisely when to expect them and what to do when they happened.

Mr. Murrell Stoops So Low as to Tell Falsehood.

To their credit Mr. Zuppke generously conceded that they had executed his instructions to perfection, but Capt. Biff Jones, who was then head coach of the Army team, in his subsequent reflections on the game, only said, "Of all the damn tough luck——"

What happened was this: Chris Cagle tossed a lateral pass to Johnny Murrell as the Army labored slowly ahead in Illinois territory, and a young man of Mr. Zuppke's team happened along just then looking for some one to do something to. This young man, whose name I do not recall because, after all, only the names of the wizard mentors are important in football, took the ball in its flight, squashed it to his bosom and kept on going, pursued by Mr. Murrell. Unable to run him down, Mr. Murrell tried to wheedle him.

"Take it easy," he cooed, deceitfully, "there's nobody near you."

"But who are you?" the Illinois athlete inquired over his shoulder.

"I'm your pal," said Mr. Murrell. "Don't run so fast."

"You wouldn't wheedle me, would you," said the other young man. "After all, I'm only a country boy."

So he ran about 76 yards to a touchdown, and never was there such a look of disillusionment in a young athlete's face as when that boy touched the ball to the ground and looked back to discover that an Army cadet, preparing to be an officer and a gentleman, had stooped to falsehood in a sporting contest.

Zuppke Had Coached His Boys For All Happenings.

Later in the game the same Murrell attempted a punt close to his goal, but he fouled this one off his kneecap for a carry of about five yards.

The ball lit with a lively backspin and jumped back like one of Bobby Jones' mashie-niblick shots about ten yards before another Illi-

Adams Backs Navy Offer To Army

Ready to Play for Charity on "Safe" Gridiron.

Chicago Group Sends Plea to Hoover for Renewal of Game.

(Associated Press.)

NEW demands sprang up yesterday for the Army to meet the Navy in a post-season renewal of the service football classic for the benefit of charity.

Secretary Adams, questioned regarding the proposals, said the Navy was ready to play a charity game at the end of its regular schedule if a safe field could be secured, thus supporting the statement made by Admiral S. S. Robison, superintendent of the Naval Academy, with whom Mr. Adams conferred today.

Speaking for the Army, Maj. Gen. William R. Smith, superintendent of the Military Academy, said it could not participate in a post-season game because of the climatic conditions which might result in injury to an Army player and consequent loss of time from his studies.

Secretary Adams agreed that a safe field would be needed because "frozen ground in December is not a fit surface for any game." He explained the Navy could not play until the middle of December, because its regular schedule does not end until its game with the University of Pennsylvania December 6.

Chicago Group Carries Plea to Hoover.

Outstanding among the proposals that came today was a telegram from George F. Getz, chairman of the Illinois unemployment and relief committee, to President Hoover, and Secretaries Adams and Hurley for a game to be played at Soldiers Field, Chicago.

Gets said if the Government permitted the two teams to play at Soldiers Field, 150,000 persons could be accommodated and gate receipts would aggregate between $750,000 and $1,000,000, which would be donated to help relieve the unemployment emergency.

Meanwhile, Chairman Britten, of the House naval affairs committee, said he would confer with Secretary Adams in an effort to secure the game for Chicago.

Another appeal for a charity game came from New York, where it was announced that Grover Whalen, acting for a citizens' committee, would petition Secretary Adams for a Navy-Fordham game at the Polo Grounds.

Earlier in the day Rear Admiral Samuel S. Robison, superintendent of the Naval Academy, suggested the possibility of the scheduled game between Navy and George Washington University being played for charitable purposes at Annapolis on November 29.

Philadelphia Offers Stadium for Benefit

Philadelphia, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Mayor Harry A. Mackey today telegraphed President Hoover that the Municipal Stadium would be available for a football game between the Annapolis Midshipmen and West Point Cadets if one is arranged for the benefit of the unemployed. The Navy meets the University of Pennsylvania on Franklin Field on December 6 in a regularly scheduled game.

The mayor announced he had accepted the chairmanship of a general football committee of prominent citizens, which will endeavor to arrange for the Municipal Stadium any possible college game that can be played for the benefit of unemployed.

Phils Trade Thevenow, Willoughby for Bartell

Philadelphia, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—The Phillies have traded Shortstop Thevenow and Pitcher Willoughby to the Pittsburgh Pirates for Shortstop Bartell, it was announced today at the National League office here.

ON EASTERN GRIDIRONS

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 6 (A. P.).—Another Army player joined the ranks of the injured today as the Cadets went through a stiff scrimmage. Jack Armstrong, reserve tackle, was injured in a pile up and probably will not get into the Illinois game. The Army varsity took the offensive through most of the scrimmage.

Princeton Unimpressive In Scrimmage.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Princeton held its fifth scrimmage of the season against the Rider College Team today and appeared but little better than the Trenton Team. Capt. Mestrezat, who was shifted to guard in signal practice, Yeckley, Bennett and James were kept out of the scrimmage.

Meehan Drives N. Y. U. For Georgia.

New York, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Coach Chick Meehan drove his New York University Team at a fast pace today in preparation for the Georgia game. The varsity was on the defense through the greater part of a dummy scrimmage but team "C" using Georgia plays, could gain little ground.

Penn Goes to Shore For Final Drill.

Absecon, N. J., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Coach Lud Wray shifted the University of Pennsylvania football squad to the seashore today to put on the finishing touches for the battle against Notre Dame Saturday. A short practice, confined to light work, was held. The team will rest tomorrow and leave Saturday morning for Philadelphia.

With the exception of Bill Graupner, quarter back, those injured in the Kansas game last week appeared to have entirely recovered. Graupner's shoulder is still sore, but he expects to get into the Notre Dame contest.

Harvard's Injured Return.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Harvard's chances against Michigan looked brighter today with the report that four of the injured Crimson players probably would see some action against the Wolverines. Talbot, Mays, Harding and Ogden are rapidly responding to treatment, according to the team physician. The Crimson varsity went through a long defensive dummy scrimmage before testing its own plays in a signal drill.

Yale Begins Work For Princeton.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Yale began work today for the Princeton game, discounting Saturday's clash with Alfred. The Elis devoted two hours to learning and testing the new plays they expected to use against the Tiger.

Little Names Line-Up For Colgate Game.

New York, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—After another long drill today lasting until well after dark, Coach Lou Little, of Columbia, announced a line-up of which only about half the players were regulars as the one which would start the Colgate game. Lippoth, end; Tys, tackle; Nobiletti, guard, and Allen, center, are the new linemen. The back field will be composed of Sheridan, quarter back; Cadoggan and Hodupp, half backs, and Woolkind, full back.

Carnegie Tech May Lose Regulars.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Some doubt as to whether Morris, Milligan and Lewis, injured guards, would be able to play for Pitt against Carnegie Tech was reported today as the teams wound up their heavy preparations for the city clash Saturday. The Tarnails left town after today's drill to await the call for the game in the country.

Fisher Leads Fordham In First Drill.

New York, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—After a short drill in which Jack Fisher led the varsity in a brilliant forward-passing attack against the scrubs, Fordham's football squad of 32 players, 4 coaches and 3 managers left for Detroit today. The Rams looked good in the drill and Coach Frank Cavanaugh was confident of scoring his sixteenth straight victory at the expense of the University of Detroit.

Dartmouth Drills on Snow.

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Dartmouth drilled on a snow-covered field today in preparation for Saturday's game with Allegheny. It was announced that Stan Yudeky, veteran, had developed water on the knee and would not get into the game. It is feared that he may not be available for the games with Cornell and Stanford.

Two Systems To Clash at Maryland

Rockne Methods of W. & L. Will Test Byrd's Style.

Many Warner Features Adopted by Marylanders.

THE Notre Dame system and the Curley Byrd system, which has more Warner features than any other but is patterned after no one man or method, will clash when Washington and Lee and Maryland meet in the latter's homecoming day game at College Park tomorrow.

Gene Oberst, who played his college football at Notre Dame some years back, is the coach of the Generals, and he carries out to a great extent the ideas of Knute Rockne, mentor of the Irish, although every tutor always has some variations.

Notre Dame System Clicking Better Now.

This is Oberst's second year at Washington and Lee and it always is near the close of a second campaign at any school that the rather intricate Notre Dame system begins to click. The Generals played much better football last Saturday in the scoreless deadlock with Virginia Poly than they had before this season and greater improvement can be expected for their tilt with the Old Liners.

Curley Byrd's team has been playing good football all year, the offense showing ability almost from the outset and his problem from the time Yale was met on October 4 has been to keep the boys going without overworking his limited material. With five more games after the meeting with the Generals his problems have been only half settled.

How to put the best Maryland foot forward in the successive Southern Conference games with Washington and Lee and with Virginia Poly in Norfolk the week following and at the same time save some amunition for Navy at Annapolis on November 22 is enough to make any coach ponder and pull his hair.

Old Liners Stage Hard Workout.

Maryland put in a fairly hard day at College Park yesterday despite that the ground was slippery and that some of the boys were not in the best of trim for real toil. Several of them, though, have rested so much that it is absolutely essential to put them through the paces to get them in first class condition.

The advance sale of tickets has been much heavier than usual and a banner homecoming day crowd is promised at College Park Saturday.

Tickets may be had at Spalding's 1338 G street.

3 Texas Conferences Will Probe Athletics

San Marcos, Tex., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Dean V. T. Moore, of the University of Texas, addressing the San Marcos Civic Club, said the three major athletic conferences in Texas had combined to hire a special investigator to check alleged irregularities within the athletic departments of member schools.

The organizations sponsoring the investigation, Dean Moore said, are the Southwest Conference, Texas Conference and Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association. There are a total of 24 member schools.

Landis Reinstates Rookie Chisox Hurler

Chicago, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Vic Frasier, promising Texas pitcher, who refused to join the White Sox last spring and who subsequently was ruled ineligible from further competition in organized baseball, today was reinstated by Commissioner Landis.

Frasier was reinstated after he promised to join his new club.

James Vaughn, of the Cubs, and John Ogden, of the Cincinnati Reds, also were reinstated.

Georgia Squad Drills At Spartanburg, S. C.

Spartanburg, S. C., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Thirty-one Georgia Bulldogs, en route to New York for a clash Saturday with N. Y. U.'s Violets, stopped here this afternoon for a two-hour workout in the Wofford Stadium. Coach Harry Mehre said the squad was in excellent condition. The Bulldogs were scheduled to leave here at 6 p. m. and arrive in New York at noon tomorrow.

Yale Declines to Play Charity Football Game

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—At a conference of Yale athletic authorities today it was decided that Yale would not take part in any post-season football games the proceeds of which would be used for unemployment relief.

PHILS CHOOSE WINTER HAVEN

Philadelphia, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—The Philadelphia National League Club announced today that Winter Haven, Fla., would again be the training base of the Phillies next spring. The club made the formal announcement because there had been reports the club might train in Texas.

STANLEYS SEEK CONTESTS.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

ALL that most of us can do is to master one language. Here is a man who, not finding enough languages ready made, invented one.

Wilfred Stevens, shown yesterday, the self-taught linguist who speaks and reads 28 languages, is also the inventor of a language which he called "utono." It was based on the Chinese system. Mr. Stevens, after working on it for years, destroyed it when he became suddenly dissatisfied with it. The linguist is also an ornithologist. He once resigned from his post as senior translator in the State Department and the Government refused to accept his resignation. Then he quit outright.

Horace Walters, who played his ukulele 189 hours, performed the feat in the window of a Washington, D. C., music store, instead of in the apartment next door, as apartment dwellers sometimes think. He is 23 years old. He sang 6,700 songs and played 8,000 tunes.

Walter Weicheit, who established what is believed to be a world's record for flying upside down, is chief pilot of the Muenster, Germany, aviation school.

The large expanded base of the guarequi, the desert plant without roots shown yesterday, acts as a cistern. Such a plant when put in a museum case periodically sends out shoots, which die soon owing to the absence of sunlight, and the substance forming them retreats into the base again.

It is believed the plant can store water and other material in the reservoir enough to last it 25 years.

Little Ascribes Many Ties to Scouting; Cites Aid to Defense of Inferior Teams

Penn State's Defeat by Penn in 1916 Is Recalled.

By LOU LITTLE
(Columbia University Head Coach)

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—There is hardly a doubt but that Chick Meehan, coach of New York University, hit the nail right on the head when he stated that the majority of the tie games of last Saturday were due to scouting. Since hearing Meehan's statement I could not help but agree with him, as in many cases it seemed that an inferior team had stopped the offensive power of an adversary by a neatly arranged defense.

In these particular cases the strength of the defense was so concentrated as to be placed in front of the strongest part of the attack. Of course, there is the possibility that it may have been accidentally arranged in such a manner, but of course this is highly improbable. A team which is slightly inferior can so arrange their defense as to make a most creditable showing and invariably they can escape with a tie game.

Coach Dependent On Scouts.

Scouting is one of the best assets both offensively and defensively that teams have. Scouts do not watch a team play only once, but two or three times a season. From these scout reports a coach is able to devise a defense which will cause a great deal of annoyance to the offensive strength of a better eleven. They also allow him to build his own attack and concentrate on the other fellow's weakness.

There have been agreements between various universities which have done away with scouting. It is not my intention to argue this point, but if scouting is carried on in an ethical manner there is absolutely nothing wrong with the idea. In fact, it helps the smaller team to play a game of football that will give them an opportunity to win. It is hardly fair to ask a young coach to enter into a nonscouting agreement, due to the fact that many of the older instructors have records which they can refer to in order to find out just what style of system this younger coach was taught as a player, while he has not the same advantage.

I can recall very vividly examples of where scouting has made it possible for the team which is called the under-dog to win. Back in the season of 1916, when Pennsylvania was to face Penn State, State without a doubt was a 2-to-1 favorite, and hardly any one gave Pennsylvania any kind of a chance to win.

Penn State-Penn Game Recalled.

It so happened that the Penn scouts, who had watched State play for several games, brought back valuable information as to their weakness on both offense and defense. The late Bob Folwell, who was then coach at Penn, altered both the attack and defense of his team for this game. The result was the Penn State met an unexpected strength in front of her strong running attack. On the other hand, Penn's attack was concentrated at every weakness that State had shown during the year.

Much to the surprise of every one, Penn was able to win this game by a margin of 15 points. Here was a case where a football team did the

Sharkey Would Fight Stribling for Charity

Boston, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Jack Sharkey, heavyweight boxer, through his manager, Johnny Buckley, today offered to meet Young Stribling in New York next month, the proceeds to be donated to charity.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—W. L. (Young) Stribling said today he had signed contracts to fight Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, either in Chicago or Atlanta, and that further negotiations would have to be made through his father, who is now in Chicago. He declined further comment on reports from Boston that Johnny Buckley, manager of Sharkey, had announced his fighter's willingness to box him in New York in a charity show next month.

DempseyBout Gained by Politics

Names of Gov. Smith and Senator Heard in Mara Suit.

Tells of Effort to Avoid No-Decision Bout in Jersey.

By EDWARD J. NEIL.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Ghosts of the days when the late Tex Rickard was the king pin of the fight game and boxing was happy and prosperous, wandered today through supreme court, where Gene Tunney is fighting off a $500,000 attack on his bank roll.

Names to conjure with in the political field jutted out in the testimony of the retired heavyweight champion as Tunney fired every gun against Tim Mara's action for breach of contract dating back to Gene's pretitle days.

In his effort to prove that Mara, a Broadway bookmaker, had not alone made possible his chance to fight Jack Dempsey in 1926 and thereby won for himself the right to the 25 per cent of his ring earnings, Tunney brought up most of the names in the political register of New York Democracy, as well as some Republican leaders.

Governor and Senator Are Mentioned.

In the list was former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Senator James Wadsworth, Judge George Olvany, former head of Tammany Hall; Secretary of State Edward Flynn, James A. Farley, chairman of the State Athletic Commission and now Democratic State chairman, and a host of others.

By the influence, he said, that was brought to bear upon some of these men by others of them, Tunney sought to show that Mara's political power, through which the bookmaker claimed it was possible for Gene to get his chance at Dempsey, was small in comparison to other influences wielded on his behalf. Most of the political figures appeared in Tunney's tale of the efforts made in 1926 to install him as the outstanding challenger for Dempsey's crown, at a time when the New York Commission recognized the claims of Harry Wills, black menace of his time.

Tells of Efforts to Avoid New Jersey.

Tunney told of the incidents leading up to his title chance against Dempsey, the efforts to keep the fight out of New Jersey, where no decisions were permitted and have it take place in New York, where he could win on points. Tunney insists Mara's services were enlisted only to overcome the opposition of the commission and bring the match here, a task in which he maintains Mara failed when the fight finally took place in Philadelphia. Mara claims his oral agreement, backed by one signed contract and two unsigned, made no stipulation as to the place of the contest.

Tunney's contract with Rickard, Madison Square Garden promoter, for a fight with Dempsey was read. It was signed January 20, 1926, some two months before Mara contends Tunney entered into a verbal agreement with him whereby he was to help bring about the match.

From that point Tunney went on for hours identifying correspondence that passed between himself, his manager, Billy Gibson, and Mara. These

Dempsey a Sick Man, Manager Wrote Tunney

New York, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—A letter to Gene Tunney from Billy Gibson, his manager, read at the Mara vs. Tunney breach of contract suit in Supreme Court today, described Jack Dempsey as a very sick man when negotiations for his first fight with Tunney were in progress.

"In the strictest confidence," Gibson wrote, "Rickard told me Dempsey was a very sick man, full of boils, and has aged considerably in the last six months."

PETEE WRACK SCORES IN PIMLICO FORM REVERSAL

VanityBeaten Length in Feature

Watters Brings Victor From Far Back to Take Handicap.

Sun Eclipse Triumphs in $2,000 Race for Maiden Jumpers.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.
Special to The Washington Post.

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, Md., Nov. 6.—J. R. MacComber's Petee Wrack, at home in the heavy going, came from behind by a powerful stretch run to win the Baltimore Handicap, feature race here today, at a mile and 70 yards, under a good ride by Watters. W. R. Coe's Vanity was second and J. E. Widener's Mr. Sponge third. The time was 1:46. The winner paid $18 for a $2 ticket.

Nine horses started in the handicap, Vanity and Mr. Sponge ruling favorites, while Petee Wrack was overlooked, but there was late betting activity on the winner.

The start was good. The Heathen set a fast pace, but the distance was too far for the Sagamore horse. Mr. Sponge was forcing the pacemaker from the first turn to the stretch. Mr. Sponge took the lead and Vanity and Petee Wrack began closing in. At the sixteenth Petee Wrack got in front and finished stoutly to win by a length. Second money went to Vanity by a length and a half over Mr. Sponge, and Inception came up to finish fourth. The winner took down $3,995. A large crowd was out for the third day of racing, 15,000 shivering during the racing hours.

The return of Petee Wrack to good form, coincident with bad weather and heavy tracks, means that a new contender for the later stakes here and at Bowie must be reckoned with. It was in the mud two years ago that the Macomber horse defeated both Victorian and Reigh Count in the Travers at Saratoga, just as Jim Dandy beat Gallant Fox and Whichone in the same stake this year.

Robin's Egg Best of Juvenile Fillies.

The Greentree Stable's filly Robin's Egg, overhauling the Lone Star Stable's Polly Play at the sixteenth, won the first race, for 2-year-old fillies, by a length. Polly Play held the place safe from Timely, the favorite. Garner put up a well-judged ride on Robin's Egg. While Polly Play and Timely were running first and second for half a mile, the Greentree filly was third, and at the turn moved up to second, and gradually improved her position. The winner paid $8.70. Time, 1:14 2-5.

Bridegroom Outruns Paula L.

Mrs. J. W. Smith's Bridegroom proved best in the second race, Madeley up. Paula L. was second and Mullah third. The time was 1:48 for the mile and 70 yards. Paula L. came from last to be second, beaten 1½ lengths. Adams had the mount. Paula L. was the favorite in the early showing, but Bridegroom was backed heavily just before the closing.

The start was good. Macil had a good lead after the first turn, with Bridegroom in striking distance. Eleusagon was close up in the early running. When Macil quit, Bridegroom moved into the lead and Adams began his attempt on Paula L. to catch the pacemaker. The gap was too wide to be bridged in the heavy going and, with all of Paula L.'s rush in the stretch, she was beaten two open lengths. The winner paid $5.90.

Sun Eclipse Closes Fast To Win Chase.

The Hareford Steeplechase, for maiden jumpers, with a purse of $2,000, the secondary feature, was won by Sun Eclipse, which carried the colors of the Rolling Plains Stable and was ridden by R. Albright. The Sanford Stud's filly, Jesirah, was second and Mrs. Robert McKim's Messmate II third. Joe Marshall was fourth. The winner paid $16.60. Messmate II set a fast pace until Sun Eclipse took the lead. Joe Marshall, owned by Rigan McKinney, ran a good race. Jesirah was probably best, but was poorly ridden. J. E. Widener's Prowler fell with Jockey Ball. Bo Ballot lost his rider.

The Spare Wins by Head In 3-Year-Old Race.

The Sagamore Stable's filly, The Spare, had too much speed for her company in the Wicomico Purse, for 3-year-olds, fourth race. Under a good ride by Renick and a poor ride by Robertson on C. V. Whitney's Murky Cloud.

The Spare won the decision by a head. The Lemar Stock Farm's Morsel was third. The favorite, Con Amore, was a bad fourth. Hilaria, second choice, was virtually left. The winner, repeating her good race at Laurel, led all the way, running the 6 furlongs in 1:14. The winner paid $11.10, while Murky Cloud paid $10 to place.

Avalan Too Fast for Whitney Pair.

Howard Bruce's Avalon made the C. V. Whitney pair of 2-year-olds look cheap in the Caswell Purse, for 2-year-olds, the sixth race. The son of Dunlin led all the way, to win by a length from Pennate, of the Whitney entry. Khorasan was third. The Whitney entry was odds-on. The winner, Steffen up, paid $11.20. The Whitney colts were away poorly and poorly ridden by Robertson on Pennate and Hebert on Rideaway. The time was 1:13 4-5.

School Drops 9 Gridmen For Keeping Late Hours

South Orange, N. J., Nov. 6 (A.P.). Nine members of the unbeaten Columbia High School Football Team have been dropped from the eleven by school authorities after an inquiry into reports that they stayed out after 10 o'clock at night, ate ice cream and sipped wine before last Saturday's game with New Brunswick. The team was a contender for the State title until it was tied Saturday, 6 to 6.

WONDRACK CARDS PRACTICE.

Coach Wondrack has announced that the Northern Preps will practice tonight at 7:30 o'clock on the Georgia avenue and Piney Branch road gridiron. A drill is also booked for tomorrow night at the same place, starting at 6 o'clock.

G. P. O. FEDS VS. MERCURY JRS.

Fairlawn Field will be the scene of the game next Sunday between the G. P. O. Federals and the Mercury Juniors. The attraction will get under way at 1 o'clock. The Feds will practice tonight at 7:30 sharp on the Seventeenth and B streets gridiron.

SAYS PEGLER

nois man took it on the bounce and stepped off about two strides to another touchdown.

Mr. Zuppke explained that he had coached his boys very patiently for both of these plays, and, while it did seem weird that he could have foreseen them, no magic is incredible in a wizard mentor, and Maj. Sasse undoubtedly understands this.

The Army will have to play without Cy Letzelter, the old Carnegie Tech back field man; Carl Carlmark, one of the regular ends, and Jack Malloy, the best of the alternate ends, who are ailing. Letzelter has an infection in his throat and the other two were pulled somewhat apart in the tugging and hauling of the Yale and North Dakota games. However, the Stecker boy, who bunted Kilday in the trousers and nudged him over the goal with the Army's touchdown against Yale, will be Letzelter's ghost, and, as sometimes happens in football as well as in literary and comic strip art, the spook may be quite as good as his principal. The substitute end will be a boy named King, undistinguished but a pretty good end.

It seems unlikely that the scouts of the two teams have overlooked any peculiarities or tricks on either side, so the only possibility of a surprise lies in the department of clairvoyance. Some one may know even now when some one else is due to foul off a punt and the game may turn on just such a play, but, of course, on a comparison of experience and success to date, the Army is a leading football team in a game with a luckless tag-along.

D. C. Football Officials Plan Local Association

A movement to organize a permanent body of football officials for Washington and vicinity to be known as the District of Columbia Football Officials Association, will come to a head November 17, next, when the 38 local members of the present central board meet to draw up a constitution, elect officers, and appoint an examining board to pass on new applicants.

The central board will be dissolved at the end of the current season by Walter R. Okeson, commissioner of Eastern football. Okeson will divide the entire Eastern section, which at present is covered by the central board, into a score or more of local associations such as the proposed Washington body.

The main object of the new District association is to furnish local schools with a certified list of available Capital officials. In addition, regular meetings will be held to keep the members posted on interpretations of rules and plays.

Local officials who are not affiliated with the central board at the present time will be encouraged to join the proposed association.

SEVEN BOGUS TICKETS AT LAUREL

Counterfeiters Cash Perfect Duplicates for Show Money.

Special to The Washington Post.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6.—Despite extreme precautions taken at Maryland race tracks to eliminate the possibility of counterfeit tickets, seven bogus $2 tickets to show, valued at $3.60 apiece, were cashed at Laurel last Saturday, the last day of the meet, it became known today.

The counterfeit tickets were discovered when the books were balanced at the end of the day's racing, Mort Shaw, of the parimutuel department of the track, said today.

Jervis Spencer, jr., a member of the Maryland Racing Commission, said that the counterfeits were perfect.

When he was shown one next to a regular ticket he picked the counterfeit as the perfect ticket, he said.

Both Mr. Shaw and Mr. Spencer were unable to tell how the counterfeit was effected or how the counterfeiter got the symbols which are changed on the tickets each day.

Very seldom are race tickets counterfeited effectively enough to deceive track officials, it was said today, and it is not often that the books at the track do not check up at the close of each racing day.

C. U. Harriers Oppose Hopkins Here Today

Catholic University's cross-country team under the coaching of Dorsey Griffith makes its debut tomorrow in a dual meet with Johns Hopkins over a course lying near the Brookland school. Meets with Maryland and St. John's of Annapolis also have been scheduled. The Catholic University Team will be picked from Capt. Hickey, McGuigan, Montavon, Reges, Rinaudot, Bourne, Casper, Scully, Kruger, Ondrick, O'Loughlin and De Bettencourt.

CENTENNIALS TO DRILL.

The Centennials will practice tonight at the Terminal. All players are asked to meet at New York avenue and North Capitol street by 7 o'clock.

SEAT PLEASANTS, ATTENTION!

A picture will be taken of the entire Seat Pleasant squad at 8:30 tonight at the firehouse. All players are urged to be present in uniform. A short signal drill will be held afterward.

APACHE FANS WELCOME RAUBER

Debut of Star Sunday Against Irvington Awaited.

WITH the players available on whom they are pinning their hopes of successfully defending their District championship, the Apaches will meet the strong Irvington gridmen of Baltimore Sunday at Griffith Stadium.

To the Apache fans the game will be something of a "homecoming" celebration because it will mark the return to action of Ty Rauber, former Washington and Lee star, who led the Apaches to their first District championship in 1927. Rauber, who is spending a busy week getting acquainted with the Apache plays, will be Coach Jerry Carroll's choice for quarter back.

DuFour Adds Strength To Line.

Another new face in the Little Indians' line-up will be that of Ray DuFour, former Catholic U. line star, who was with the Mohawks last year. DuFour will add strength to a line which has already performed capably this year.

It is expected that the Apaches will start with Rauber, McCann, Hudak and Birthright in the backfield.

The Apaches are particularly anxious to make a good showing in this contest. Irvington earned a scoreless tie with the Mohawks earlier in the season and the Apaches will be satisfied with nothing but a decisive victory.

TUNNEY TELLS COURT OF POLITICAL EFFORTS

letters and telegrams brought many highly colorful quotations.

One letter, from Gibson in New York, to Tunney in Hollywood, told of a conversation Rickard had with Bill McCormick, who had resigned as a member of the license committee, and adjunct of the Boxing Commission.

"Tex told me today in the Garden," Gibson wrote, "that he met Bill McCormick and that Bill told him he advised Jim Farley to look out for the little man at City Hall and Johnson, as he claims they were the two that put him on the bum and forced him to lose the friendship of the gentleman in Albany. He advised Farley not to be a fool."

Farley, chairman of the Boxing Commission, opposed the sidetracking of Wills to the end. The "Johnson" was not identified, although Jimmy Johnston, manager of Phil Scott and former promoter, is known as a close personal friend of Mayor James J. Walker. At another point Gibson wrote: "All the Bronx politicians are on the job and working hard."

The letters revealed that Tunney finally was shunted in as the challenger, through the winning of George Brewer, one Commissioner, over to the side of William Muldoon, another commissioner, to out-vote Farley 2 to 1 after the challenge of Tunney to "fight any heavyweight, preferably Dempsey," was accepted over that of Wills.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—ROBIN'S EGG, $8.70, $4.70, $2.80; POLLY PLAY, $4.40, $2.60; TIMELY, $2.40.

ROBIN'S EGG, outfooted in run down the back stretch, was taken to the outside rounding far turn, where she went wide, wore down the tiring POLLY PLAY in stretch run to win going away last fifty yards. POLLY PLAY, used up racing TIMELY into submission, had nothing left when winner challenged. TIMELY broke fast, showed early speed, but collapsed in stretch run.

SECOND RACE—One mile and seventy yards. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won easily; place, same. Went to post at 1:45. Off at 1:47. Winner, Mrs. J. W. Smith's blk. or br. h. (5), by Hapsburg—Welsh Bride. Trained by D. D. Bogert. Value to winner, $900; second, $250; third, $150. Time, 0:24 2-5, 0:49 3-5, 1:16 2-5, 1:42 3-5, 1:48.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—BRIDEGROOM, $5.90, $2.70, $2.40; PAULA L., $2.60, $2.70; MULLAH, $11.50.

BRIDEGROOM, at home in the going, went to the leaders with a rush, went into a good lead and held PAULA L. safe in the final issue. Latter dropped out of contention early, worked her way up on the outside when moving up and closed with good courage. MULLAH, outrun early, finished with good speed. HERNAN CORTES was held safe. BAGPIPER weakened. MACIL and ELEUSAGON stopped badly.

THIRD RACE—Two miles. Purse, $2,000. Harford Steeplechase. For maiden 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 2:14. Off at 2:15. Winner, Rolling Plains Stable's b. g. (4), by Sun Briar—Turbulent. Trained by J. Healy. Value to winner, $1,400; second, $400; third, $200. Time, 3:51 2-5. (13 jumps).

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SUN ECLIPSE, $16.60, $6.90, $5.50; JESIRAH, $3.60, $3.00; MESSMATE II, $3.60.

SUN ECLIPSE, under a pull for the first mile, challenged stubbornly through the last half mile, wore MESSMATE II down gradually, took command after the last fence and withstood JESIRAH. Latter, reserved for a mile and one-half, almost lost her rider when moving to the leaders at the twelfth fence, recovered and finished stoutly. MESSMATE II showed good fencing ability and continued with good energy after setting the pace. JOE MARSHALL tired. KING'S OWN was never a factor. PROWLER fell at the last jump. GIANT STRIDE fell at the ninth and BO BALLOT at the first.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,500. For 3-year-olds. Start good from gates for all but Hilaria. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 2:45. Off at 2:46. Winner, Sagamore Stable's ch. f. (3), by John P. Grier—Mill Maid. Trained by J. H. Stotler. Value to winner, $1,000; second, $300; third, $200. Time, 0:23 3-5, 0:48 2-5, 1:14.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—THE SPARE, $11.10, $5.80, $3.60; MURKY CLOUD, $10.00, $4.80; MORSEL, $3.90.

THE SPARE, hustled into a good lead at once, saved ground when entering the home stretch, continued gamely after losing command and was up again in the last stride. MURKY CLOUD entered contention with a rush, assumed a brief lead, but Robertson was of little help when it came to a drive. MORSEL weakened during the stretch run. CON AMORE was in the deepest footing the entire trip. HILARIA was away poorly and had no chance with the start.

FIFTH RACE—One mile and seventy yards. Purse; $3,500 added. Baltimore Handicap. For all ages. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:15. Off at 3:15½. Winner, J. R. Macomber's b. h. (5), by Wrack—Marguerite. Trained by W. Booth. Value to winner, $3,995; second, $500; third, $250; fourth, $125. Time, 0:23 4-5, 0:48 3-5, 1:14 2-5, 1:41 2-5, 1:46.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—PETEE WRACK, $18.00, $7.60, $4.30; VANITY, $3.40, $2.60; MR. SPONGE, 3.20.

PETEE WRACK, avoiding interference at the first turn and, racing in his best form, raced along in contention, displaced MR. SPONGE when entering the home stretch and, holding on tenaciously, outstayed VANITY. Latter, badly bumped by WILLIAM T. at the first turn and knocked back, regained her stride and, coming to the outside, closed stoutly. MR. SPONGE shook off THE HEATHEN when ready and held on well. INCEPTION showed a good test. WILLIAM T. was held safe. MOLASSES JANE tired. THE HEATHEN stopped badly.

SIXTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,300. For 2-year-olds. Start good from gates. Won driving: place easily. Went to post at 3:45. Off at 3:48½. Winner, Howard Bruce's lt. ch. c. (2), by Dunlin—Effort. Trained by E. Trueman. Value to winner, $900; second, $250; third, $125. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:48, 1:13 4-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—AVALON, $11.20, $3.40, $2.60; PENNATE, $2.20, $2.10; KHORASSAN, $2.80.

AVALON, outrunning his field from the break and displaying good speed, shook off KHORASSAN and, under stout urging, resisted PENNATE. Latter, a slow breaker, entered contention with a rush at the far turn, drew alongside the winner, but hung nearing the finish. KHORASSAN, going forwardly early, weakened steadily in the final issue. WEATHERPROOF was unable to improve his position. RIDEAWAY was never a factor. BEDFORD BOY showed a flash of early speed.

SEVENTH RACE—One mile and seventy yards. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:14½. Off at 4:15. Winner, C. V. Two-dollar mutuels paid—VIMONT, $5.90, $3.10, $2.30; CANDY PIG, $2.90, $2.40; BELMONA, $3.00.

VIMONT worked his way up on the outside and, closing in courageous fashion, wore the leaders down to get up in the last sixteenth. CANDY PIG, rushed along from the start, had something taken out of him racing CAROLER into defeat and weakened. BELMONA was made too much use of going to the front and tired. CAROLER and NAE BREEKS stopped.

Maybe, 9 to 2, Scores In Empire Feature

Empire City Race Track, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—The attendance at the Hill Top track today was the smallest of the year due to the cold weather. The track was heavy and along the inner rail it was muddy. The fourth race, a gallop of a mile and 70 yards, was the chief attraction of a very poor card. It was won by Maybe, 9-to-2 shot.

Irish Marine, favorite, at 5 to 2, was second, and Rundale third.

Maybe got away on top at the start and Ellis let him rate along. He was kept out in the best going and at the end won by a length and a half. Irish Marine beat Rundale five lengths.

The time was 1:50 1-5.

Pimlico Notes

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, Md., Nov. 6.—Edward R. Bradley, master of Idle Hour Farm in Kentucky, has purchased the contract which Guy Bedwell held on Jockey W. Cannon. Cannon will go to New Orleans with the Bradley string at the conclusion of this meeting.

R. P. Watts claimed Essare out of yesterday's seventh race for $3,000, while J. Bunch claimed Transformation out of yesterday's opener for $3,500.

Herman P. Conklin, of Baltimore, clerk of the scales here, suffered body injuries when his automobile was run into and smashed on Belvedere avenue this morning.

Fair Beth and Gigantic have been added to the ever-growing schooling list.

O. F. Woodward will ship five horses to St. John's Park, Fla., in charge of Trainer Jimmy Jones at the conclusion of Maryland's fall season.

Ray Bryson, of Baltimore, has sold the 2-year-old May Alton at private terms to Dr. E. E. Watson. The latter will take the filly to winter racing at New Orleans.

Walter J. Salmon's Dr. Freeland, a candidate for the $10,000 Bowie, a mile and one-half test on Tuesday, splashed a mile and one quarter through the mud in 2:15 this morning in preparation for next week's stake.

The sum of $105,838 was wagered on the Pimlico Futurity yesterday. Of that amount $25,984 was on Equipoise to win.

James Butler will ship Questionnaire to Pimlico for the Gold Cup November 15.

Charles Ulbig will handle the engagements of Jockey R. Wolverton during the New Orleans meeting. Wolverton is an apprentice under contract to Preston Burch.

Blackwood Pays $36 After Latonia Victory

Latonia, Ky., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Showing great improvement, Mrs. E. Denemark's 5-year-old Blackwood easily captured the Evanston purse, the featured number on today's card. J. W. Parrish's 6-year-old Rolled Stocking was next under the wire with C. W. Whitney's 3-year-old Rueful, third.

The race was an allowance affair for 3-year-olds and upward over the mile and 70 yards journey and was worth $900 to the winner. The son of Black Toney was clocked at 1:43 3-5 over a track rated as fast. Overlooked in the wagering, Blackwood rewarded his backers at $36.18 to $2 in the mutuels.

Blackwood, away well and racing under wraps while close up, went into command when straightened out in the home stretch and drew rapidly away from the field to win by four lengths. Rolled Stocking took the lead after passing the 3-furlong pole, but weakened when headed, but managed to outstay Rueful to take the place money by a nose. Rueful was third by a like distance over the heavily played favorite Quiver.

—Pimlico Selections—

By J. B. SNODGRASS

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, Md., Nov. 6.—The Helpful, $2,500 added, for 2-year-old maidens at the time entries were closed, features tomorrow's card at Pimlico and has attracted seven very high-class juveniles, three of which, ST. BRIDEAUX, HALCYON and THAIS, compose the C. V. Whitney entry. FOLLOW THRU, by Epinard—Mary Belle, belonging to Mary L. Crawford, and which cost $30,000, won his last race by ten lengths at Empire City, beating Friar Bacon and others.

The Whitney star is ST. BRIDEAUX, and has won three races, one at Jamacia and two at Empire City. ALBAZANO is a fast one, which was beaten a neck by Rip Van Winkle at Laurel, and is from the Nevada Stock Farm. HALCYON won over Soupcon at Laurel and THAIS turned in a fast winning race at Saratoga. ST. BRIDEAUX is selected to win and will be materially strengthened by his stable mates. FOLLOW THRU should be the contender, and ALBAZANO looks best of the others.

FIRST RACE—AMSTERDAM should win the first race at a mile and a sixteenth for platers. He has been looking for a spot for a month in Maryland, and while usually coming close, has failed to get the brackets. His last race should be convincing proof that he can win this event, for he was beaten barely by a head by Candy Pig. DADDY NELSON, third to Dolan at Laurel, sizes up as the contender. MERRY MACK should cut a figure in the race, and may be in the money. ARTIE KAY on New York races, has a chance at the short end of the purse.

SECOND RACE—The second race is a $2,500 purse, called Maryland's Own, which is for 2-year-olds bred and foaled in Maryland. J. A. Morris' SPIRIT RIVER, which has been out of the money only once, and has beaten Gay Bird, looks like a standout. He was second to AVALON in his last start. DANCING MACK, which whipped Bronco at Laurel, and has run some good races since, is rated the contender by a small margin over BABOO, which has beaten DANCING MACK, but takes up weight. The last named should hold third money, and his second to Portcodine gives him a big chance in the contest.

THIRD RACE—BOUNDING DEEP is selected for the third race. He won his last over Vimont, and this makes him look much the best. TORCH won his first start at Pimlico in the mud, but the track has dried up fast, and mud horses will not have the advantage they had Futurity day. But TORCH, on several of his more recent races, will have a good chance for place in this event. DOLAN, by his good mile and a half race at Laurel, should hold the others safe.

FOURTH RACE — MONTANARO, third to Voltear recently, is selected to win the fourth race. He should wake up, like Yankee Doodle and others. A change of tracks makes a difference. MY SIS made Chatover go to a drive to beat her a neck in her last race and she should be the contender in this. CRAZY COOT has a chance and should be no worse than third. He won his last race from Lampblack, which gives him a chance for the important money in this event.

SIXTH RACE—Platers that go in the sixth race are somewhat above the run of the mine variety, and the field is well balanced. SYRIAC was good enough to beat Solace, a stake horse, in his last race, and should come back in this claiming event with another victory. BERBER won his last out, beating Raccoon, and is tabbed for the place horse here. FRUMPER, second to Voltear last out, probably can hold the others safe. NICOTINE, on her Jamaica race in which she beat Moine, may be dangerous. The favorite in this race should be four to one.

SEVENTH RACE — GEORGE DE MAR, shipped here from Empire City fresh from winning, should repeat in the seventh race if he does not find the track drying too fast for him, for his forte is on a heavy track. He is picked to beat BARITONE, a horse overdue, and which was second to Candy Pig in his last start, evidently the contender here. FAIR BILL should show improvement. He has a chance here if some of his more recent races are thrown out.

NAVY READY FOR OHIO STATE

Middies Expecting to Use Air Attack at Baltimore.

Special to The Washington Post.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 6.—While a cold northwest wind swept the field, Navy gridders engaged in a long dummy scrimmage this afternoon which was virtually the final limbering-off for the hard battle expected with Ohio State in Baltimore Stadium Saturday.

All of the players are in splendid physical condition. A greater portion of the drill was devoted to putting the final polish to the offensive, featuring Bullet Lou Kirn and Joe Tschirgi, back field aces, in running plays, and passing also was stressed. It is not unlikely that the battle with the Buckeyes will sparkle with aerial plays as far as Navy is concerned, as the local mentors hold due respect for the strength of the Ohioians' forward wall.

Ingram to Use Best Team at Start.

Coach Bill Ingram expects to throw his full strength into the breach at the start of the game. This will mean that Dale Bauer will be at quarter on the offensive and Kirn playing safety on defense, Tschirgi as the other half back and Hagberg at full. The line from left to right flank would be as follows: Steffanides, Capt. Bowstrom, Gray, Black, Underwood, Bryan and Byng.

Davis, a fleet half back, who has been on the crippled list most of the season, again is in good trim and was the principal ball carrier in today's workout. Officials for the game have been announced as follows: Referee, Very, of Penn State; umpire, Ryan, of Duquesne; head linesman, Bennis, University of Pennsylvania, and field judge, Maginnes, Lehigh.

unexpected, and it is just the unexpected that everybody like in football.

Unorthodox G. U. Defense Stopped Syracuse.

In the fall of '26, Georgetown was to meet Syracuse and Syracuse up till that date had lost only to the U. S. Military Academy in a most hectic game of football. Georgetown was represented with a good football team but was hardly given a chance to beat Syracuse. However, during the week previous to this football game the Georgetown freshmen had practiced very diligently the Syracuse plays and had faced the varsity day in and day out in both scrimmage and dummy scrimmage.

Various defenses were tried against the Syracuse attack and finally the coaches agreed on a plan which they hoped would stop the Orange team. The style of defense that was used was rather unorthodox and was hardly looked for by Syracuse, but it so happened that the plan worked out very nicely, disconcerted Syracuse's attack and Georgetown was fortunate enough to win this game by the margin of a touchdown.

Another similar case to the above mentioned was in the same year, 1926, when the U. S. Naval Academy had her undefeated eleven. It was from a suggestion that a player offered to the Georgetown coaches that they were able to change their defense in order to stop Navy's famous shortside buck. This buck had given teams a great deal of trouble and in fact was causing anxiety to the players and coaches of the Hilltoppers' squad. But this suggestion which was offered at a blackboard meeting by one of the players resulted in the Navy being unable to gain at any time during the day with their favorite buck.

WHEATON SOCCER CHAMP.

The Wheaton School junior soccer team won the Sixth Division championship yesterday at Rosedale Playground when Kingford School's team failed to appear.

In previous games Capt. Barron Colton had led his team to victories over Benning, Pierce and Webb.

G. W. REGULARS START AGAINST N. Y. AGGIES TONIGHT

Pixlee Takes No Chances In Game

Reserves See Action When Victory Is Assured.

Coach Names Felton to Start in G. W. Back Field.

By JACK ESPEY.

WITH bright prospects of pushing their victory record above the .500 mark, the George Washington Colonials tonight will meet the New York Aggies in Griffith Stadium, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. If comparative records mean anything, and in this case it seems they will, the Colonials should win by a big margin.

While the Aggies are comparatively weak for a college eleven, George Washington will take no chances on being upset. Coach Pixlee's regulars will do the battling for the first quarter at least. After that, Pixlee hopes to give all of the reserves a chance to show their wares.

The Aggies have won two games and lost three in a class of competition far below that in which G. W. has been operating. Victories were scored over the Aggies' Alumni and Cooper Union. Defeats were suffered at the hands of Montclair, Long Island and Trinity.

Colonials Have Won Two, Lost Two, Tied One.

George Washington has won two, lost two and tied one. Delaware and Dickinson were defeated, South Dakota was tied and the decisions were dropped to Rutgers and Tulsa.

Johnny Fenlon, hitherto a substitute back, will appear as a Colonial end tonight for the first time. He fills the job of Fred Mulvey, who was injured in the Tulsa game. Fenlon is a promising player and Coach Pixlee wants to give him as much experience as possible.

Beginning Saturday, November 15, the Colonials will strike a road littered with obstacles. On that day they will engage Albright at Reading, Pa., in a game that is expected to prove as hard as any they have played. Then follow in succession Catholic U. and Navy. A grueling struggle with Catholic is traditional. Navy obviously is a tough opponent.

Albright Beaten Only By Bucknell.

Albright does not campaign in select football circles and its fame therefore is not widespread, but it annually gives a good account of itself. This year the Reading eleven has scored four victories in five starts, losing only to the powerful Bucknell Team. Connecticut Aggies, Mount St. Mary's, Penn Military and St. Joseph were the Albright victims. Penn Military, which was tied by Dickinson, a team G. W. sunk by 27-6, was smothered by Albright, 42-7.

The George Washington-Catholic contest will be held on Friday, November 21, at night if the weather is favorable. Otherwise it will be played in the afternoon of the next day.

Virginia Cub Gridmen Play Young Generals

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 6.—After suffering a disastrous defeat at the hands of the Washington and Lee Freshmen last week, Virginia's yearling football squad will attempt to redeem itself tomorrow afternoon when it faces the first-year team of Virginia Polytechnic Institute in the Miles Stadium at Blacksburg.

Although the Cubs were trounced, 25 to 0, last Friday, they put up a better game than the score implies. During the last half their play was better than it had been all season and proved that they had an abundance of fighting spirit. Although Coaches McConnell and Randall are not overoptimistic in regard to tomorrow's contest, it is expected that the young Cavaliers will put up a good battle in an effort to break their recent losing streak. Last year the Virginia Yearlings defeated the V. P. I. Rats in a hard-fought contest.

Coles, a promising linesman, who has been kept out of action due to injuries, will probably start in tomorrow's game.

Shepherd College Team Primes for Gallaudet

Special to The Washington Post.

Shepherdstown, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Two Shepherd College full teams have been hard at work here this week in preparation for the game Saturday with Gallaudet College in Washington. The team has had a breathing spell of one open Saturday, taken last week because of illness of some of the players resulting from vaccination against smallpox here.

Bergdoll, who injured his knee in the Potomac State game at Keyser two weeks ago, will be back in play against Gallaudet.

The locals have run into some bad breaks this year, they contend. They have not been able to put their entire first-string team into any game because of injuries or illness. Bankine, their quarter back and field general, has been incapacitated with injuries since the second game of the season.

Bridgewater (Va.) College is the only game remaining for Shepherd after the Gallaudet contest.

CONGRESS HEIGHTS TO DRILL.

A short practice session will be held at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon by the Congress Heights A. C. griders on the field at Eleventh and Savannah streets.

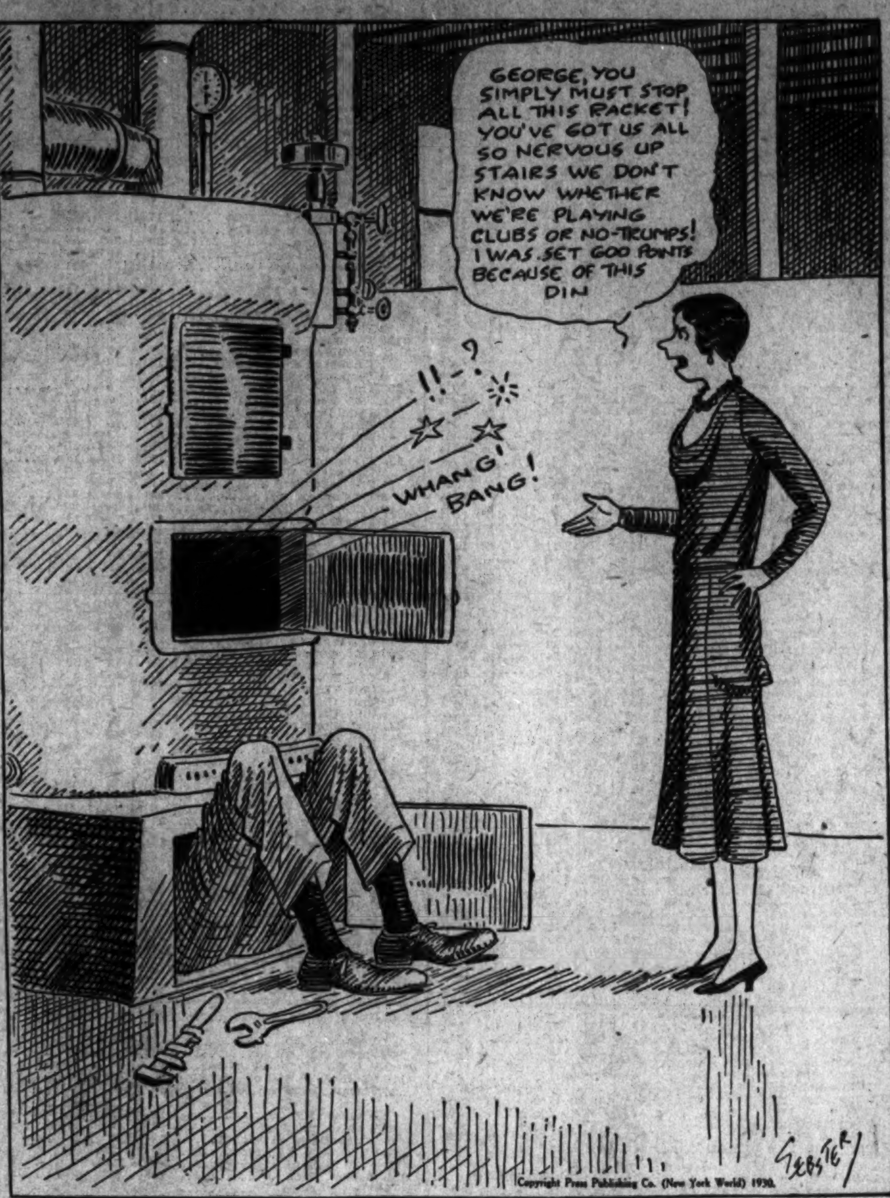

MARIONS TO MEET.

Coach Walter Townsend requests all Marion players to attend a special meeting and practice scheduled for tonight at the clubhouse. The session will start at 7 o'clock.

WALLACES WANT GAME.

Manager Dick Sargeant of the Wallace Memorial Cagers would like to schedule a game for tomorrow night with some 145-pound basket ball team having a gym. He can be reached at Shepherd 3113-R.

V. M. I. BACKS SHIFTED FOR CLEMSON

Move Aims to Increase Power at Sacrifice of Speed.

LEXINGTON, Va., Nov. 6.—When The V. M. I. Cadets face the Clemson Tigers at Norfolk Saturday, Coach Bill Raftery expects to send in a revised set of ball carriers.

Speed will be sacrificed for power against the husky Clemson machine, and the chances are that Doc Bailey, rugged Norfolk boy, who has played in several games this season, will be teamed up at half back with Louis Siegel, hard-hitting sophomore, who will be getting his first opportunity to show his wares against a major opponent. Lefty Williams and Stumpy Travers, the speed boys of the back field, may get in the game, but probably not as starters.

As a result of a grueling workout Tuesday, blocking, charging and tackling live targets as well as the dummies, and a hard scrimmage Wednesday, the Cadet coaches have in mind other possible shake-ups in their starting eleven. Jim Rea, aggressive 160-pound center, is counted on to add defensive strength to the Flying Squadron, and it would cause no surprise if he were to take Buddy Shell's place in the opening line-up.

More Line-Up Changes May Be Ordered.

Other shifts designed to stop Capt. John Justus and Maxey Welch, stars of the Clemson back field, may be made by Bill Raftery and Ed Hess at the last minute.

Thirty-two players will make the trip to Norfolk by bus, leaving Lexington after breakfast Friday morning. Coaches Raftery and Hess, Athletic Director Blandy Clarkson, Cadet Manager Gillespie, Cadet Representative Britton, Trainer Herb Patchin and others will accompany the team.

V. P. I. Varsity Frosh Harriers Are Winners

Special to The Washington Post.

Blacksburg, Va., Nov. 6.—Running on a cold windswept course Virginia Polytechnic varsity and freshman cross country teams raced to a double triumph over Virginia Military Institute harriers here today. The varsity nosed out the Cadets, 26 to 29, and Tech freshmen romped away to an easy 22 to 38 victory. Capt. Smith, blond ace of the Cadets, continued his undefeated career on Old Dominion courses by nosing out Capt. Miles, V. P. I., by 13 seconds, timed at 28:36.5 for 5.2 miles. Hudgins, V. P. I. freshman star, ran away from the field to win over 3-mile route in 17:37.1. Polytech freshmen placed five men in first seven to finish.

Varsity scoring: Smith, V. M. I.; Miles, Tech; Bond, V. M. I.; Fisher, Tech; Carter, Tech; Wise, V. M. I.; White, Tech; Elder, Tech; Baumgardner, V. M. I.; Romma, V. M. I.

Freshman scoring: Hudgins, Tech; Turner, V. M. I.; Foltz, Tech; Neidengard, V. M. I.; Pennington, Tech; Barnes, Tech; Minnich, Tech; Lyne, Tech; Riddle, V. M. I.; Webster, Tech; Walker, V. M. I.; Potts, V. M. I.

Duke Blue Devils Confident Of Setting Back Kentucky

Coach DeHart Has Wealth of Capable Ball Carriers; Duke Fans Predict Duel for Starring Honors Between Murray, Kelly.

Special to The Washington Post.

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 6.—While the Blue Devils are pointing for nothing but a win in their game with Kentucky here Saturday, they are not underestimating the strength of the Blue Grass Wildcats. Instead of the defeat at the hands of Wade's Alabamians ruining the spirit of the Kentucky Team, Coach DeHart points out that it will probably imbue Coach Gammage's boys with a still greater spirit.

Fans Regard Murray as Kelly's Equal.

Eddie Cameron, assistant Duke coach, who scouted the Alabama-Kentucky game at Lexington last week, said that the newspapers did not give Kentucky full credit. Two of their regular linesmen were out. "Shipwreck" Kelly, he said, although held down from making any of his sensational sprints for touchdowns, gained plenty of ground during the game.

Duke will place a half back on the field in Bill Murray that fans believe will equal any of Kelly's performances. Murray was acclaimed by Philadelphia sports writers as one of the greatest backs ever to appear in that city.

Football followers in this section will not commit themselves as to which team has the best chance in this game. They all agree that Kentucky has a powerful eleven, but, on the other hand, the results of Duke's games since the South Carolina tilt have left them speechless.

Those who have seen Bill Murray and Kid Brewer, Duke's half backs, in action say that they are two of the greatest backs ever seen on the same club. Murray is being prominently picked for all-Southern, and sports writers who saw him against Villanova and Navy may even go further than that.

DeHart has a wealth of backs. Ershler, full, played brilliantly against Villanova. Sink, Lexington, N. C., boy, is a powerful full. Mullen plays the quarter back interference position, and Half Backs Lemons, Mason, Abbott, Brownlee and Hicks are able substitutes.

Injuries Hampering Major Gridiron Teams in South

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Several major Southern football teams will be severely hampered by injuries in Saturday's gridiron battles, if bear stories are to be accepted.

From all points dispatches come telling of hurts to star players that dim prospects for week-end encounters.

Word from Kentucky is that Shipwreck Kelly, half back, may not play in the Duke game because of injuries received in scrimmage and that Williams, center, and Johnson, quarter back, also are on the shelf this week with hurts.

Kentucky's Wildcats left Lexington yesterday and worked out today in Asheville, N. C. Tomorrow they reach Durham for a final drill.

From Alabama came reports that Sington, tackle, had hurt his knee in the Kentucky game last week; that Boykin, half back, had a bad ankle, and that Howard, guard, and Cain, full back, had injured shoulders.

Florida Loses McRae, Guard.

Florida, which faces Alabama at Gainesville Saturday, announced that Bill McRae, guard, would be out and that Don Forsyth would start in his position.

Beasley, regular guard, and Roberts and Lockett, reserves, will not be able to play for Vanderbilt against Georgia Tech. Foster may take Beasley's guard post. Injuries to key men in the back field may lead Coach W. A. Alexander to start a sophomore ball-carrying quartet for Tech.

Scafide, Tulane guard, is out and both of Alabama Polytechnic's first string guards will be unavailable.

Several thousand Carolina football fans were converging on Chapel Hill tonight where the University of North Carolina and North Carolina State will meet in their annual State battle tomorrow. This game, originally set for Saturday, was moved up to Friday so as not to conflict with the Duke-Kentucky contest Saturday at nearby Durham.

The University Tarheels have a decided edge in the State Wolfpack in the rivalry dating back more than 21-odd years and are heavily favored to win again tomorrow.

Georgia En Route to Meet N. Y. U.

Georgia's second advance on the East started at Athens early today. This afternoon the Bulldogs practiced at Spartanburg, S. C., before resuming their train trip to New York to meet the Violets of N. Y. U.

The team will arrive in the metropolis Friday and hold a final drill on the Polo Grounds that afternoon. Mehere reported his squad in top shape.

Vanderbilt planned to eliminate the usual night train ride to Atlanta and make the trip during the day. The Commodores will arrive late Friday afternoon and stage their last workout under the floodlights on Grant Field.

OWENS GIVEN NEW ROLE BY V. P. I.

Will Be Interfering Back Against Va. Tomorrow.

BLACKSBURG, Va., Nov. 6.—A new gridiron role awaits Mit Owens, Virginia Tech full back, in the home-coming game with Virginia here Saturday. The big Tidewater lad will run as an interfering back in place of Bird Hooper, who will bark signals from a wing back position.

The new role for Mit Owens is part of a general shake-up of Tech back field talent this week. The coaches are out to put new drive into the Gobbler attack. They know that better interference for the man with the ball is the main hope of the Techmen in the absence of a real threat among the back field talent. The new combination of Capt. Hooper, Owens, Howard and Spear showed drive in scrimmage this week and will probably be the quartet selected to go into battle with the Cavaliers.

Howard is certain to be at full back, where he stood out last week both on offense and defense. With Hooper barking signals from one of the half back positions, the other is still open to four men. Bus Hall, Phil Spear, Sam Hardwick and perhaps Bunt Ottley, who may have recovered enough from injuries to play Saturday.

Ritter Only New Man In Forward Wall.

Only one change is likely in the line. Mark Ritter will be at right tackle in place of Bill Grinus, who is still in the institute infirmary after injuries received in the W. and L. game.

Mit Owens has had a checkered career on Tech gridirons. He was the fullback mainstay of the freshmen in 1927, became one of the sensational sophomores on Old Dominion football fields the following year, dropped back to utility roles last fall, and has alternated with Frank Howard for first team honors this season. Owens led the Tech ground gainers in the early games by virtue of terrific drives through Roanoke College and North Carolina, but gave way to Frank Howard against Davidson and Washington and Lee. He is back on the first team now, not only to clear the way for other ball toters, but to drive at the Cavalier defenses.

Navy Oarsmen Plan To Continue Practice

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 6.—Although the varsity and plebe rowing squads of the Naval Academy ended fall rowing Saturday, a number of 150-pounders are still rowing on the Severn.

A shell of upper classmen under Buck Walsh and two shells of plebes under Lieut. Sherman Clark are working daily and will continu until conditions make it impracticable.

Richard A. Glendon, varsity coach, will return to Annapolis about January 15, when indoor work preparatory to the season of 1931 will start.

UNIVERSITY SHOP PLAYS.

The University Shop 100-pound basketers will meet the Knights Store Midgets, of Alexandria, tonight in the Macfarland Gynasium at 7 o'clock. For games with the University boys, call Adams 8433-W.

G. U. REGAINS BORDEAU, ALENTY

Backs Likely to Start in Boston College Fray Tomorrow.

EQUIPPED with some new plays and having regained the services of several injured players, Georgetown's football squad departed last night for Boston where tomorrow afternoon it meets Boston College, a Jesuit rival, in the first game between the two teams since 1927, when the Hilltop won the decision, 47-0.

Boston College this year is a much more capable eleven than the one the Hoyas met three years ago and, according to Head Coach Tommy Mills, Georgetown will find itself up against as tough an opponent as it has played this season.

New aerial plays have been learned by the Hoyas this week in practice and the overhead route may be the only avenue of advance for Georgetown if reports of a strong Boston ground defense are correct.

Bordeau and Alenty Likely to Start.

Prominent among those whom Georgetown will use tomorrow following their enforced idleness are Leroy Bordeau, line-splitting full back, and Joe Alenty, a right half back, whose forte is blocking. Bordeau was rested in the Michigan State game although he could have played in an emergency despite a Charley horse. Alenty has just fully recovered from a spinal injury.

Mills may start Alenty in place of Russ Danieu tomorrow. Bordeau probably will start in place of Mancell Gillis, who received a severe bruising in the Hoyas' last game.

Thirty-three players, Coaches Mills, Colrick and Smith, Trainer Harry Crowley, Father Masterson, faculty advisor, and H Gabriel Murphy composed the Hilltop traveling party. A practice has been scheduled in Boston this afternoon. The Westminster Hotel is the squad's headquarters.

33 Players Invade Boston.

Following is a list of the players:

Grid-Graph at Hilltop To Show G. U. Game

The Georgetown-Boston College football game tomorrow will be recorded play by play on the grid-graph in Ryan Gymnasium at the Hilltop. Play will commence at 2 p. m. A nominal charge will be made for admission.

Detroit Freshmen Score With Fordham Plays

Detroit, Nov. 6.—The University of Detroit's football team settled down to hard labor yesterday afternoon in prepaartion for the game with Fordham Saturday.

The freshman team devoted a couple of hours yesterday practicing Fordham plays as given to them by scouts who looked over the Maroon in its 18-to-2 victory over West Virginia. These plays were used in scrimmage with the regulars, and the freshmen romped over with a touchdown.

Alexandria Sports

ALEXANDRIA, Nov. 6.—The Alexandria High School gridders will make a supreme bid for honors in the Third District Friday, when they oppose the crack Fredericksburg High School Team, leaders of the conference, in Baggett's Stadium here at 3:15 o'clock.

Coaches Given and Wilson report the "Twins" in great shape and look to upset the dope. A record-breaking crowd is expected.

Washington and Lee High School gridders will meet the Warrenton High Team, of Warrenton, Va., on their home field at Ballston tomorrow afternoon. The Generals are in second place in the conference race.

Manager Ruocco, of the Iroquois Athletic Club, has scheduled a game with the Fort Myer Post Team at Fort Myer Sunday. He has called an important practice for all players tomorrow night.

On Saturday, the Episcopal High School gridders will meet an old rival, Virginia Episcopal of Lynchburg, on Hoxton Field at 3:30 o'clock.

Del Ray Athletic Club will oppose the Columbia A. C., of Washington, Sunday on Duncan Field at 3 o'clock.

Coach Slewie Peyton, of Engine Company No. 5, asks all players to report for drill Friday night on Haydon's Field at 7:30 o'clock. Manager Shaw is trying to arrange a game for Sunday.

TECH SEEKS 3D VICTORY TODAY

Western Meets Series Leaders; Nelson Forced to Idle.

THE appearance of Tech's mighty team in the high school series provides the feature for scholastic grid fans today.

Tech makes its first appearance in the high school series since it clinched first place by defeating Central, October 28. Today's opponents are the red-jacketed huskies representing Western High School. The game starts at 3:45 in Central Stadium.

For a while it appeared that Western had a squad that was going to make a fight against the ruthless trek of Tech to the top of the high school heap. Central barely eked out a victory from Coach Ahern's Redmen, who yielded at 14 to 7. In this game Western presented an aerial game of first-rate caliber. Tom Webb, well-made Western full back, exhibited the surest passing arm in the series.

But the showing of Western against Eastern, in which Kelley's squad completely routed Western's airworks and held them to a 0-to-0 tie in a game which was doped to go to Western, argues that Tech will rule as an odds-on favorite of the Reds today.

Western Should Do Well.

But Western very probably will do well against Tech. That underdog feeling works wonders with Ahern's men. Besides, the line has been greatly aided by the return to the fold of eligible gridders of "Big" Buscher, a mountainous guard, who performed well all last season for Western.

It was all skull work yesterday at Tech. Capt. Sid Kolker and George Sachs, Hardell's mainstays, tuned up their kicking legs, but the rest of the squad assembled in famous Room 104 to listen to the words of their wise coach.

Tech is hit in a couple of important spots. Dick Nelson, Hardell's quiet mannered tyro, will not be in the game today, a bad hand from the Central game being the cause. Luther Goldman, early season bulwart of Hardell's line—with Kolker—is out for the year on the charge of over age.

Carleton Edwards and Sam Lank have been nominated by Coach Hardell to replace Nelson and Goldman.

VA. HOLDING THREAT IN GRAVATT

Converted End Promises V. P. I. Trouble on Saturday.

Special to The Washington Post.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 6.—Segar Gravatt, a half back turned into an end, has been giving a fine performance on the flanks of the Virginia varsity. Gravatt will be holding down one of the wing positions against V. P. I. in Blacksburg on Saturday.

Virginia was faced with the loss of three veteran ends, Dick Turner, Bill Byrd and Bill Paxton, at the start of the season. The coaches of the Cavaliers tried many men on the flanks during the first few weeks.

Gravatt Started Season In Back Field.

Gravatt was in the back field at the start of the season. He performed well in early games, scoring three touchdowns against Randolph-Macon. Not until after the contest with Duke did his trial as a wingman begin.

In the Pennsylvania game, Gravatt found himself in the starting line-up as an end. He played an outstanding game at end a week later in the victory over V. M. I. Illness kept him at home when the Cavaliers made the trip to Kentucky, but he recovered enough to distinguish himself by his play against Maryland.

Gravatt, whose home is in Blackstone, Va., came to the university by way of Episcopal High School. He is 21 years of age, weighs 166 pounds, and stands 5 feet 9 inches. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity and of other organizations.

This is Gravatt's second year on the football squad. He'd probably be making a name for himself in the back field if the coaches hadn't seen fit to give him a harder job in the line. As it is now he's attracting all the more attention by his rapidly developing skill in a position he has not been used to playing. He has a busy afternoon ahead against the Tech Team.

Gonzaga Host to Swavely; St. John's, G. U. Preps Clash

TWO of the outstanding prep school games of the year will be played today in the environs of Washington when Gonzaga meets Swavely at Gonzaga Field, and Georgetown Prep runs against St. John's at Garrett Park. Both contests get under way at 3:15 o'clock.

Gonzaga has been priming all week for the Swavely tussle and it is regarded as just about the Purples' most important game of the year. Coach Orrel Mitchell has wrought certain changes in the team. Dan Dunan, quarter back, has been shifted to right end. Tom Nolan will do the signal calling.

Big Ernest Viau, Mitchell's crack line bucker, will be out of the game today, leveling any superiority the Squad might have gained by reason of the shift in line-up. Viau and Mulcare, a lineman, were hurt in the Georgetown Prep game last week.

Gonzaga's field is in the best of condition of its career at present, the recent moisture having calmed much of the dust. The stands will seat 3,000.

BUY NOW for BETTER BUSINESS

Buy Bargains and Bank Your Savings

At no time during the last five years has the local buying public been offered bargains in goods and merchandise of every kind and description at prices as low as those which prevail today in Washington.

Furniture, clothing, radios, electrical supplies, labor and expense-saving household equipment, automobiles, house furnishings and a thousand other necessary commodities are offered to you at prices so low as to put them in the investment class.

And speaking of investments, now is the time for real bargains in real estate. If you want to own your own home you can secure a new one or buy and modernize an old one at prices which will never again be equaled.

Faced with this opportunity, every Washington citizen, in his or her buying, has a unique opportunity to make now those long contemplated and long-deferred purchases of necessary articles for the home and for personal comfort and convenience.

By acting now you can buy bargains and bank your savings. This will help to bridge over the present depression and start business forward on the BUYway which is the highway to permanent prosperity.

UTILITY STOCKS SAG TO NEW 1930 LOWS

Oils Soften on Omission of Dividend; Several Rails Hit Year's Bottoms.

GENERAL TREND MIXED

New York, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Irregularity replaced weakness on the stock market today. Generally speaking, prices declined in the morning and rallied in the afternoon, although all of the gain was not held, leaving the market mixed at the close. Turnover of 2,446,690 shares was the largest in about a fortnight.

Wheat firmed after early selling had established new lows—which meant, of course, the lowest levels since 1906—and closed a cent higher. Corn made an even better recovery, but cotton closed 5 to 13 points lower. Bonds eased slightly.

Weakness of the utility stocks seemed the only development that could be called a carry-over from the election. Virtually every important member of the group, including American Telephone, North American and Consolidated Gas, touched a new low. Oils were soft on the omission of a dividend, the large increase in gasoline stocks and some further shading of prices. Standard of New Jersey and Atlantic Refining made new minimums.

Rails turned downward, particularly in the late trading, and there were new lows for Pennsylvania, Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Railway and numerous others.

Industrials Head Rally.

Such industrial favorites as U. S. Steel, Westinghouse and American Can showed quiet firmness and led the rally, although General Electric, Eastman Kodak and Du Pont reached new lows on an early decline.

Lethargy in the steel industry found reflection in the official figures on October ingot production. The daily average last month was the smallest since August, 1924, and the smallest for any October since 1921. Operations averaged 50.32 per cent of rated capacity. Although the story told by these figures was not new, the statistics nevertheless directed attention to the long shadows that overhang the industrial situation, by which the stock market is now so rigidly governed.

Federal Reserve brokers' loans declined for the sixth successive week, dropping $58,000,000 to the lowest aggregate since May 26, 1926. The decrease in these recent weeks amounts to $768,000,000, which is still somewhat short of the June-July deflation.

There were few developments in the business world. Some of the chain stores reported that October sales had risen over September; in the case of Woolworth the gain was 18 per cent, although compared with 1929 that corporation's receipts were off 4½ per cent. Railroad income in September was 22½ per cent below the month last year, an appreciable improvement from the 32½ per cent decline of August.

Net Changes Prove Small.

Net changes in stocks were small. United States Steel, Kennecott, International Nickel, Sears Roebuck, R-K-O Fox, Gillette, National Biscuit and American Tobacco "B" closed up a point or more. American Telephone, Radio, Vanadium, Atchison, Du Pont, General Electric and Westinghouse improved fractionally.

There were declines of a point or less in Bethlehem Steel, Anaconda, American & Foreign Power, Consolidated Gas, Columbia Gas, Public Service of New Jersey, Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Power & Light, Pennsylvania Railroad and Baltimore & Ohio. Southern Railway lost 2½; New York Central, 1¾, and Union Pacific, 2. A few less active rails had larger losses.

Credit rates were unchanged, although call money firmed a trifle in the outside market. The weekly Federal Reserve statements reflected the usual operations for the first of the month requirements. Discounts and bill purchases increased, but holdings of Government securities were stationary.

Foreign exchanges displayed rallying tendencies. Sterling cables were strong in sympathy with the retention of the Bank of England discount rate. The yen sagged on news of a gold shipment from Tokyo.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—A further decline in cotton today was attributed to continued liquidation coupled with some Southern and local selling which may have been promoted by rather indifferent Liverpool cables, the action of the stock market and the apparent absence of any general or aggressive support.

After selling off to 11.22 early, March rallied to 11.30, but eased again, declining to 11.16 in the late trading, or about 78 points below the high price touched on the rally of late last month. March closed at 11.17, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 5 to 13 points.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of 1 to 6 points. Under overnight selling orders prices showed net losses of about 8 to 10 points right after the call with new December selling off to 10.81 and May at 11.44. These prices seemed to bring in a little more trade buying while there was not a great deal of Southern selling and the market steadied up later in the morning on buying which was said to include some replacing of spot sales in the South.

The early losses were just about recovered, but the demand tapered off on the bulge and the market weakened again during the afternoon when there appeared to be some Wall street selling which may have been connected with the unsettled ruling of the early afternoon stock market. The decline led to reselling by some of the early buyers, apparently, and there was a little more Southern selling here during the late trading. December broke to 10.77 and May to 11.41 under the pressure and closing quotations were within a point or two of the lowest.

Two more of the private crop reports were issued today, one of them placing the indicated yield at 14,750,000 bales while the other estimated the crop at 14,574,000 bales and placed the ginnings to November 1 at 11,014,000. Seven of these private crop reports had been published here up to the close of business today, pointing on the average to a crop of 14,468,000 bales. A canvas of New York Cotton Exchange members made during the day showed an average crop expectation of 14,570,000 bales.

Liverpool cables reported hedging and liquidation in that market. Port receipts today, 47,381. U. S. port stocks, 3,734,080. Exports, 64,705, making 2,439,924 so far this season.

LOWER TREND RULES QUIET BOND SESSION

Declines Predominate in All Groups; Legal Carriers' Strength Is Feature.

MONEY AT 2 PER CENT

New York, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—A slightly lower trend dominated the dull session of the bond market today. Selling was moderate but rather widespread and was particularly noticeable in the rail group where liquidation was influenced by the weakness of carrier shares.

While losses were the rule in virtually every class of bonds, the constructive side was the firmness of legal rails and the advance of Liberty 3½s to a new high for the year. In the foreign section where gains and losses were about evenly divided, Continental European Governments stole the center of the stage occupied for several weeks by Latin-Americans. German 5½s and British 5½s were under extensive liquidation. On a turnover almost as large Norwegian 5s of 1963, rose to duplicate their year's high with a ½-point advance.

Weakness in railroad stocks was the only explanation given in bond circles for the liquidation of their obligations, as call money held at 2 per cent, and time money was unchanged.

Van Sweringen issues were generally lower, including Chesapeake & Ohio, Missouri Pacific, Nickel Plate and Pere Marquette. Selling however was moderate except in Pere Marquette 4½s C which dropped one point. International Great Northern adjustment 6s dropped 9 points to 51, compared with a low of 45 and a year's high of 91.

New York Central 4s of 1928, Pennsylvania general 5s and Construction 4s, Reading 4½s, St. Louis San Francisco 4½s were a little lower. On the constructive side Atchison general 4s were a little higher, and St. Paul adjustment 5s of 2000, were accumulated ¼ above the previous close.

A 5-point drop in Pathe warrant 7s was a conspicuous feature of the easy trend of stock privilege issues. Warner Brothers Pictures 6s reached 1¼. Southern Pacific 4½s lost more than a point and Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron 6s dipped 2.

United States Governments were very dull and except for the advance in Liberty 3½s, were a shade lower.

CORRECTION

In your issue of October 25 the following item appeared:

"Briggs Manufacturing Co. had third quarter net profit of $1,001,723, equal to 50 cents a share, against $2,771,066, or $1.38 a share, in the third quarter of 1929."

Permit me to call your attention to the fact that your figures are not correct. The Briggs Manufacturing Co. did report a net profit of $1,001,723, equal to 50 cents a share for the third quarter of 1930, but its earnings for the quarter of 1929 were $887,724, or 44 cents a share, so that the profits for the third quarter were actually $113,999 (about 6 cents per share) more in 1930 than in 1929.

For the nine months ended September 30, 1930, the Briggs Manufacturing Co. reported earnings of $4,533,526, equal to $2.26 per share, which compares with earnings for the nine-month period ended September 30, 1929, of $3,310,421, or $1.65 a share.

While your article states that there was a decrease in profit, the reverse is the case, and the actual increase in profits for the nine-month period of 1930 over the nine months of 1929 is $1,223,105.

Guarded Assets
TWO great institutions typifying American prudence—life insurance companies and savings banks—guard the safety of their assets closely...investing the billions of dollars placed in their custody with the utmost care and regard for security. And what is their choice for a sound and stable investment which assures maximum safety...First Mortgages.
Charged with the great responsibility in paying in full all policies, the leading life insurance companies of the nation this year have placed about fifty per cent of their funds or more than six billions of dollars in First Mortgages. More than five billion dollars, also half of their resources, was invested last year by the 611 mutual savings banks, located in 17 States of the country, in mortgage loans. These investments were made scientifically and painstakingly, solely on the basis of safety of principal and income yield.
The selection of insurance companies and savings banks should also be YOURS. The 6 per cent First Mortgage Notes issued through Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Company, too, with their perfect record of more than 61 years without loss to an investor, demonstrates that investments in these notes are truly GUARDED ASSETS.

Curb Review

New York, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Further heavy selling of the utility shares in today's curb market drove most of the more active members of this group to new low ground, and unsettled the entire list, but the market made irregular recovery during the afternoon, a few shares showing net gains at the close.

Trading expanded further, with turnover of 699,100 shares for the day, against 625,400 yesterday. The utility shares continued to dominate activity, although there was a fair turnover in some of the oils, where further new lows were recorded.

American Gas and Electric dropped 3⅛ points to 82⅛, another new low, then rallied to close steady. Electric Bond and Share sagged a point, but recovered under the influence of short covering to close with a gain of ⅝. Associated Gas A dropped more than 2 points to a new minimum at 20⅛, but closed off only 1⅛.

American Superpower, Commonwealth and Southern warrants, United Corp. warrants, and Electric shareholdings were among others which penetrated their previous resistance points. There is said to have been considerable bear selling of the utility shares, on the theory that they had been selling too high in relation to other stocks.

In the oils, Vacuum was a firm spot, closing up a fraction, on declaration of the usual extra dividend of 25 cents, and announcement that the end of the year should find a balance to be carried to surplus. General Petroleum, formed as a holding company for Vacuum and Standard of New York, dropped 2 points to a new low at 26, however. Imperial was again firm, and Cities Service closed steady, after sagging temporarily.

Standard of Indiana dropped ¾ to a new low at 39⅝, and closed at 40. Cosden was again heavy, dropping 1⅝ to a new low at 3½, which contrasts strangely with the year's high of 74¾. Further piling up of gasoline stocks and unremitting weakness in gasoline and crude prices continued to unsettle these issues.

There were a few firm spots in the industrials. Diamond Match new stock rallied ¾ in a fair turnover. Marconi International sold up ⅜, then lost most of its rise. Novadel Agene gained 1¾ in a few transactions. In the aircraft issues, Detroit Aircraft sold up fractionally on reports of record October sales for this unit, and General Aviation, formerly Fokker, was firm. Glen Alden Coal, and Jaeger Machine, however, tumbled 4 points. Dresser B, Lehigh Coal and Navigation about 2, to new lows.

Some of the investment trusts also reached new minimum levels, including Securities Corp. General, off 2, and American Equities, off fractionally.

ACACIA MUTUAL LIFE BUSINESS REPORTED

Number of Reinstatements Point to Better Outlook, Says Montgomery.

THREE MONTHS' FIGURES

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Evidence of improving conditions and of the success of President William Montgomery's strong conservation policy is reflected in the record of reinstatements made by Acacia Mutual Life Association during the months of August, September and October.

According to official figures just made available, reinstatements for August totaled more than $1,000,000. In September, this figure advanced to more than $1,500,000, and in October the aggregate was well above $1,750,000.

These figures, it is explained, indicate a general improvement in the economic situation, trends of which always are reflected speedily in life insurance statistics, and the successful application by the association of the conservation program of President Montgomery.

Reinstatements Are Stressed.

Ever since he became executive head of the association, more than 35 years ago, he has emphasized the importance of net gain rather than total business written. He has maintained consistently that the principal object is not necessarily a tremendous volume of written business, but the retention of that which was written.

Therefore, conservation has been kept to the fore by the company with the result that it retains in force an unusually high volume of policies written. The foregoing reinstatement figures are regarded by Acacia officials as being a definitely favorable index from all points of view and of outstanding significance.

Chauncey G. Parker, jr., of Auchincloss, Parker & Redpath, was elected to membership in the Washington Stock Exchange at a meeting of the board of governors yesterday. Mr. Parker, who takes the seat formerly owned by James M. Green, was a former manager of the local office of J. A. Y. Iglehart & Co., and was afterward associated with the Washington office of the National City Co.

New Washington Loan Director.

Charles Parker Stone, president of Stone & Fairfax, Inc., has been elected a director of the Washington Loan & Trust Co. Mr. Stone, who has been prominent in real estate circles for many years, is a son of one of the founders of his firm and succeeded to the presidency when his father retired from active business.

Local banks with Christmas savings clubs have decided to make annual payments to club members December 1. This means that about $7,000,000 will be distributed among some thousands of club members. The amount subscribed this year was $7,835,123.50, a new high, but there was a considerable number of withdrawals because of business conditions.

Vice President Edward L. Hillyer, Union Trust Co., has returned from a motor tour of the South, with visits at Blowing Rock, N. C., and Charleston, S. C.

President Kenzie W. Walker, of Standard Collateral Shares Corporation, has returned from vacation in New England and New York.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Indications of unlooked for rapid disappearance of world supplies of wheat did a good deal to bring about upturns today in prices of all grain. The wheat market was further stimulated by disturbing reports that rust was spreading in Argentina. Corn and oats as well as wheat gave evidence of being in a sold-out condition resulting from heavy liquidating sales of late.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, but near the day's top level, ¾@1⅛c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1⅛@2⅛c advanced, oats ¾@1⅛c up, and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 2c.

In some quarters, special significance was attached to figures showing the spread between the world's available supply of wheat this year and that of last year had been reduced 57,000,000 bushels in about six weeks. Today, a shrinkage of 2,009,000 bushels during the last week compared with an increase of 6,446,000 bushels a year ago was announced. Meanwhile, rust complaints from Argentina were most disquieting on account of damp warm weather likely to aggravate the plague and also because extension of rust infected territory was chiefly apparent in Cordoba Province one of Argentina's principal wheat producing areas.

Whether Argentina would have a large or a small yield of wheat this season depended mainly upon crop developments during the next fortnight. The upward swing of wheat values was also promoted by advices of stormy weather in France hindering field work which already is 15 days late. Heavy shipments of wheat from Black Sea ports, 5,568,000 bushels in the last week as compared with 3,648,000 bushels the week previous and 896,000 bushels a year ago, led to something of a price reaction at one stage today, but the bearish effect failed to last, European call for wheat from North America being fairly good.

In corn and oats, traders friendly to higher prices took advantage of light offerings. Favorable weather for field work was without much market influence, husking being now practically complete in many sections of the corn belt.

Provisions averaged lower in price owing to lack of any special demand.

Potato Shipments Showing Decrease

Demand for Apples Appears Light in Most Large Eastern Markets.

Demand for apples appears light in most of the large eastern markets, according to the United States Bureau of Agriculture Economics, but a moderately good export trade has taken care of most of the surplus. Shipments from Virginia and West Virginia are below 100 cars a day.

Carlot shipments of potatoes were reported decreasing. With the crops mostly in storage, shippers are no longer hurrying to market their crops and in many sections are said to be holding for higher pprices.

Little change is noted in the dull onion market, and the price tendency is down. Loadings of cabbage have been heavy, while there is no improvement in the demand for carrots. The celery market is showing more promise in the Eastern producing areas.

Steel Ingot Production Reaches New Low Mark

New York, Nov. 6 (A.P.).—The daily average steel ingot production for October fell to the lowest figure since August, 1924, and the lowest for the month of October since 1921, the American Iron & Steel Institute's monthly statistics, issued today, show.

Daily average production by all companies last month, as calculated from reports of companies which made 94.27 per cent of the open-hearth and Bessemer Steel ingots in 1929, was 100,756 tons, with operations at 50.32 per cent of capacity. This compared with a daily average production of 98,200 tons in August, 1924, and 71,000 tons for October, 1921. The daily average for September this year was 110,307 tons, with operations at 55.10 per cent of capacity, and for October last year was 167,938 tons, with operations at 85.64 per cent of capacity.

Appointments at Loudoun Made to Conform With National Plan.

Special to The Washington Post.

Leesburgh, Va., Nov. 6.—Mobilization plans of Loudoun Post, No. 34, American Legion, were completed with the appointing of eleven members of the post as special officers of the county. This force will be placed at the disposal of county authorities in the event of any emergency. The plan is national in its scope, having been adopted by the American Legion as a means of aiding constituted authorities in the maintenance of law and order, when called upon for help.

Former service men selected for this duty in Loudoun are: S. T. Ish, Aldie; Roy Flippo, Hamilton; Stewart J. Smith, Purcellville; J. G. Carruthers, Round Hill; Ray C. Santmyer, Bluemont; H. Randolph Tillett, Ashburn; R. D. Mercer, Middleburg; Amos Newton, Lucketts; H. S. Potterfield, Lovettsville; E. P. Neer, Hillsboro; F. P. Anderson, Arcola, and J. R. Mays, Waterford.

A similar unit has been sworn in for duty in Leesburg. Its members are J. B. Darcey, in command; Stanley Greene, Lawrence Hutchison, Harry Flippo, J. D. Taylor, J. C. Snipes, R. F. Elmore and J. T. Hirst.

Man's Body, Shot, Burnt, Found in West Virginia

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—A pipeline walker, covering his lonely route in an isolated section of Wetzel County today, came upon the pyre of a man police believed the victim of bootleg warfare.

He had been shot and his body wrapped in oil soaked blankets, which had been fired. Authorities were attempting to establish identification, working on the belief the body had been transported from a distance.

CLAIRVOYANT

THE MAN WHO KNOWS

608 12th St. N.W.

Over Woolworth's 5c & 10c Store

This strange man sees the way and tells it all. Just what your life has been, just what it will be. Tells you when and whom you will marry; whether husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false. Tells as to changes, travel, lost or absent friends, divorce, wills, deeds; whether it is best to buy or sell. He tells the good and the bad. A visit will convince you of his wonderful power.

Something tells you this is the man. You feel the impulse to call. Do not delay.

LEGAL NOTICES

WILLIAM W. BRIDE and THOMAS F. CAMERON, Attorneys.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE District of Columbia, holding a District Court. In re condemnation of the west 21 feet by full depth of lot 814, square 80, for the enlargement of the Grant School grounds, in the District of Columbia. District Court, No. 2061. Order of citation and publication. Upon consideration of the petition of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, filed in the above-entitled cause, and on motion of counsel for the said Commissioners, it is, by the Court, this 3d day of November, A. D. 1930, ordered that the clerk of the court issue citation to all parties in interest in the land to be condemned herein, particularly described in the aforesaid petition, to appear in this court on the 15TH DAY OF DECEMBER, A. D. 1930, at 10 o'clock a. m., to answer the said petition and to show cause, if any they have, why the prayers thereof should not be granted, and why the land in square 80, as shown in the plat filed with the petition in said cause, should not be condemned for the enlargement of the Grant School grounds. It is further ordered that a copy of said citation be served by the United States Marshal for the District of Columbia upon such owners of the land sought to be condemned herein, and found by the said marshal, or his deputies, within the District of Columbia; and it is further ordered that all persons having any interest in these proceedings be, and they are hereby, warned and required to appear in this court on or before the said 15th day of December, 1930, to answer the said petition, and to continue in attendance until the court shall have made its final order ratifying and confirming the award and report of the condemnation jury to be appointed by the court to appraise the value of the respective interests of all persons concerned in the land and premises mentioned and described in the aforesaid petition. It is further ordered that a copy of this order be published once in the Washington Law Reporter, The Washington Post, the Washington Evening Star and the Washington Herald, newspapers published in the said District, before the said 15th day of December, 1930. By the Court: JOSEPH W. COX, Justice. A true copy. Test: (Seal.) FRANK E. CUNNINGHAM, Clerk. By HARRY M. HULL, Assistant Clerk. 7

NEWS OF LATEST HAPPENINGS IN MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA

ALEXANDRIA SCHOOL WILL COST $325,000

City Council to Confer With Board on Suggested Building.

OVERCROWDING IS TOLD

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU,
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The city council received a communication yesterday from the city school board asking for an appropriation of $325,000 for the erection of a new high school building on the lot between the present high school and the Jefferson School. The communication was ordered received, and will be discussed later at a conference between the council and the school board.

This is by far the largest amount ever asked for a single school building in Alexandria. The Jefferson Graded School, which was built in 1922, cost $85,000 for the actual erection, the highest price paid so far. Conditions in the present high school are understood to be greatly overcrowded, and for the last two years the overflow has been handled at the old West End School Building. This will, however, probably be available only for this year.

A member of the council estimated last night that if the new high school is appropriated for, it will mean an added expense to the taxpayers of not less than $50,000 a year for 30 years, the life of bonds which would be necessary, covering interest on the bonds, redemption and maintainance of the school. The city budget for 1930 was approximately $629,000, and the proposed new school would increase this to approximately $680,000 a year. There is already a proposal before the council to increase the taxes, following the recent property assessment, but it is understood that the new school building was not taken into consideration in this proposed increase, as this is the first time it has been officially brought before the council.

An appropriation of $200 was made for the purchase of an additional set of property record sheets for the handling of the recent assessment. The council also directed the city manager to have land record books prepared in duplicate, based on the recent report of the assessors, as these will be necessary before the board of review can do its work. One copy of the land books will be kept in the office of the clerk of the courts, and the other will be for the use of the review board.

The city school board announced that the term of E. E. Lawler as a member of the school board would expire December 1, and the council reelected Mr. Lawler for another term. Dr. John T. Ashton was elected a member of the board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Councilman Arthur Herbert

A communication was received from the Alexandria Hospital board asking for an additional appropriation from the city to help meet its operating expenses, the city now contributing $2,500 a year for this purpose. The communication was ordered received and held over to be considered with the next budget.

A communication was received from Miss Inez Jenkins, withdrawing her petition for a permit for a gasoline filling station in Rosemont, which has been under consideration for several months.

An appropriation of $925 was made for paving Summers drive, the money to become available when the property owners agree to bear their proportion of the cost of the work. Property owners on each side of the street are to pay one-third of the cost, and the city the remaining third.

A number of applications for sewers were received and held over under the rules.

Communications were received from Mrs. Henry B. Soule and Frank W. Noxon relative to the establishment of a public library in Alexandria.

Permission was granted to F. D. Nichol, who will conduct religious services in the Elks' Home, to use the streets for a few minutes preceding each meeting for the purpose of drawing a congregation to his services.

The council ordered $2,500 paid to City Attorney Carl Budwesky for the services in connection with the sale of the city gas plant recently, and his work in preparing the franchise.

Capt. T. M. Hamilton and Charles L. Strickler, the latter a contractor of Cottage Park, appeared before the council in a protest against the proposed increase in rates asked by the Alexandria Water Co. Councilman Ticer offered a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, providing that, whereas the Alexandria Water Co. has made application to the State Corporation Commission for an increase in rates, effective February 1, 1931, the schedule being designated by the commission as S. C. C. Va. No. 2, and whereas a representative of the water company at a conference in the city council chamber with members of the council on September 11, 1930, had stated that the company had knowledge that the property would not pay a fair return on the investment at the present rates, and that the company proposed to apply for an increase, it was resolved that the city council strongly protest any increase in the present rates, and that the city attorney be directed to take steps to inform himself of the actual conditions and to appear before the corporation commission on behalf of the City of Alexandria, protesting the increase. The city attorney, according to members of the council, will be given all possible aid in the way of employment of additional legal counsel, if necessary, in his work, and he is to inform the council of what is necessary to prosecute his protest.

Fire was discovered on the third floor of the St. Agnes Episcopal School for Girls shortly before 9 o'clock yesterday morning, just as the classes were about to assemble for their day's work. A majority of the 100 pupils were in the building at the time the fire was discovered, but Miss Marguerite Chapman, principal of the school, stated that there was no panic, the classes resuming their studies at 9:15 o'clock. The pupils had assembled in a large room on the first floor, and the fire was confined to a third-floor bedroom at the east end of the building.

Engine Cos. No. 2 and 5 responded to the alarm and extinguished the blaze in a few minutes by the use of chemicals. The origin of the fire has not been determined, but Fire Chief James M. Duncan, jr., is of the opinion it was caused by a spark from the chimney, carried by the high wind. There was no one in the room in which the fire was discovered.

The damage to the building was slight and is covered by insurance. The work of repairing the damage will be started at once, it is understood.

J. Randall Caton was the speaker at the luncheon of the Kiwanis Club yesterday, his subject being "Kiwanism," in which he told of the work done by the club in Alexandria.

The annual ladies' night of the club, originally set for November 17, was postponed until November 20, when an elaborate program will be presented.

Funeral services for Mrs. Adelaide Smith, who died Wednesday, will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Cunningham's funeral home, 809 Cameron street, by the Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of Grace Episcopal Church. Interment will be in Bethel Cemetery.

Mrs. Smith, who was the widow of James T. Smith, is survived by these children: J. Leo Smith, Miss Minnie Smith and Winfield Smith, all of Alexandria.

Rites in Manassas For W. P. Larkin

Wellington, Va., Farmer, Leader in Community, Died at Polls.

Special to The Washington Post.

Manassas, Va., Nov. 6.—Funeral services were held this afternoon in Trinity Episcopal Church here for William Peyton Larkin, prominent farmer of Wellington, Prince William County, who died from a heart attack while seated in the polling place at Wellington, where he was one of the judges of election. The Rev. A. Stuart Gibson conducted the rites at the church and the burial service at the grave in the Manassas Cemetery.

Mr. Larkin, a native of Lynchburg, Va., had lived in Prince William County for 40 years, where he had been prominent in the civic and social life of the community.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Lucy Adams Larkin; two sons, Peyton and Lucien; five daughters, Mrs. W. S. Brower, of Catharpin; Mrs. Paul Bieber, of Washington; Misses Natalie, Latetia and Maud, of Wellington; a brother, Norvel Larkin, Manassas; two sisters, Mrs. C. M. Larkin and Mrs. J. I. Ashford, and several nieces and nephews.

BRITAIN TO RESCIND U.S. APPLE EMBARGO

Ban to Be Lifted November 15 Affecting Shipments From Virginia.

MARKET DEMAND IS GOOD

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., Nov. 6.—Commercial apple growers and shippers received word today that the British embargo on certain grades of American apples, which became effective in July, will be lifted November 15, and that on and after that date all grades of apples may be shipped into ports of the United Kingdom, provided they are accompanied by an export form certificate. These are also required by steamship companies before loading.

The embargo was clamped down shortly after passage of the United States tariff bill, but British officials denied it was in the nature of a reprisal. However, it had the effect of keeping out of British markets during the summer and fall seasons all grades of American apples, except fancy and U. S. No. 1 grades. No restrictions were placed on American apples by authorities of Germany and the Scandanavian countries, and although large quantities of the fruit have gone into those countries Virginia growers' fruit has been in much demand in England in recent years.

The weekly market for American apples in Liverpool yesterday closed with improving tendency, according to delayed cable advices last night. The demand was good. Liverpool merchants gave it as their opinion that the market will continue good in the near and distant future for fruit of good quality. That which was offered arrived in good condition.

York Imperial apples from Virginia had a price range of from $4.44 to $6.48 per barrel; Ben Davis, $4.26 to $5.28; Winesaps, $5.28 to $5.76; Staymans, $4.50 to $5.76; Black Twig, $4.68 to $5.40, and Ganos, $4.80 to $5.52.

Convention Held By Music Clubs

Petersburg Host at Fifth Annual Assemblage of Sixth District.

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 6.—The fifth annual convention of the Sixth District, Virginia Federation of Music Clubs, was convened here today in the parish house of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, with 150 delegates present from Petersburg, Portsmouth, Norfolk, Williamsburg, Waverly, Craddock, Suffolk, Smithfield, Franklin and the County of Brunswick.

Among the chairmen attending the convention are Mrs. Lucy K. Wood, of Norfolk, Va., composer; Mrs. Harrington Robertson, of Danville, hymn contest; Mrs. Perkins, county clubs; Mrs. Rawls, of Franklin, young artists; Miss Aycock, of Suffolk, junior contests; Miss Ward, of Norfolk, McDowell fund; Mrs. Pace, of Franklin, and Mrs. John Buchanan, of Marion.

The address of welcome was made by Mrs. F. J. Wright, president of the Wednesday Music Club of Petersburg. Most of the morning session was occupied with reports.

Musicians from all over Virginia, including the composer-pianist, John Powell, are attending the convention. This afternoon Mr. Powell addressed the delegates. His subject was the choral festival to be held next spring at the University of Virginia.

Accident Proves Fatal To West Virginian, 65

Special to the Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Burns suffered Monday about the face and body when he was caught under a fall of hot soot, cement and water while at work at a local cement plant, proved fatal today to Samuel Grant Johnson, 65, at a local hospital. He was a native of Uniontown, Pa., and resided for some years in Jefferson County, W. Va., before coming here.

The widow, formerly Miss Florence Dailey, of Jefferson County; six daughters, two sons and one sister survive. Burial will be Friday here.

INQUEST TO BE HELD IN DEATH OF BOY, 11

Capital Autoist Gives Bond for His Appearance at Bladensburg.

INTERNAL HURTS FATAL

An inquest will be held Tuesday night at Bladensburg, Md., into the death of Robert McKnight, 11 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. McKnight, of that place, who ried at Providence Hospital yesterday of injuries recieved Wednesday when struck by an automobile on the way home from school.

Abe Plisco, giving his address as Pennsylvania avenue northwest near Sixth street, is out on bond for appearance at the inquest. He is alleged to have been the driver of the car which struck the McKnight boy.

According to police reports, the McKnight boy was on his way to his home on the Defense highway from school when the machine approached. The driver saw the youngster and swerved his car to avoid a collision, but the rear of the machine swung to the roadside and knocked the boy to the pavement.

The Prince Georges County Rescue Squad rushed the injured youth to Providence Hospital, where he died yesterday afternoon from internal injuries.

An inquest was scheduled in Bladensburg last night, but was postponed until Tuesday pending further investigation of the accident.

Mrs. E. K. Williams Dies At Home in Winchester

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Elizabeth King Williams, wife of R. Gray Williams, widely-known Virginia lawyer and president of the Shenandoah Valley National Bank and the Handley Fund Foundation, died today after an illness of bronchial pneumonia. She was prominently identified with philanthropic interests. She was a daughter of the late Arthur Trughen and Susan Reid King, o. Norfolk, Va., and Washington, D. C., and a near cousin of Dr. Henry Van Dyke, noted American educator and diplomat. Surviving are her husband, one son, John J. Williams, law student at the University of Virginia; one daughter, Mrs. William Stuart, Newport News, and one brother, Arthur King, Washington. She was a member of Christ Episcopal Church. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon.

Loose-Leaf Sales Set Virginia Mark

Dark Shares in Petersburg 100,000-Pound Offerings of Tobacco.

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 6.—Sales of loose leaf tobacco on the Petersburg tobacco market today were the largest in poundage for a single day this season. Dark tobacco, which has not been in quantity since the official opening of the sales season on the red leaf here November 1, shared in the heavy offerings. Total offerings were estimated at 100,000 pounds.

The market here paid an average price of $17 for 100 pounds, against $17.87 at Kenbridge, which led the State, but more bright tobacco was sold here during the month than at the smaller towns. Leaf tobacco still holds its lead in the agriculture products, centralizing for marketing at Petersburg, with peanuts increasing.

Due to the unfavorable growing season through which Virginia passed this year, the volume at all markets is smaller than the yearly average for the last ten years. Most of the best grades of tobacco are still on the farms and will continue to come to the Petersburg market until January 1, when the market will close.

Rapid Drought Relief Requested in Leesburg

Special to The Washington Post.

Leesburg, Va., Nov. 6.—J. R. Lintner, county drought relief secretary, urges organization for relief throughout the county in order to meet the many problems which must be faced during the coming winter. He suggests that individuals in the large centers in the county get together to discuss the situation in their section in order to have specific information for a county meeting of community delegates which will be held November 19. At this time, Prof. Hummel, of V. P. I., will be present to assist in planning the work for the coming winter and spring.

It is suggested that the school leagues be used as a nucleus and that each center may appoint as one committee, three men for farm information, and three men and women for Red Cross or similar activities.

West Virginia Declines Further Inquiry by Nye

Charlestown, W. Va., Nov. 6 (A.P.). R. Finley Dunlap, organization chairman for the Democratic State executive committee, said today he had received a call from I. G. Mack, Washington, investigator for the Nye Senate campaign funds committee, asking him if he felt there was any need for the committee to continue its study of the West Virginia election.

Mr. Dunlap said Mr. Mack had been in West Virginia prior to the election and that Mr. Mack informed him the committee had had representatives in several West Virginia cities on election day. The organization chairman said he told Mr. Mack he did not think a further investigation was necessary.

Capital-Greensboro Air Service Started

Special to The Washington Post.

Danville, Va., Nov. 6.—Air passenger service between Greensboro, N. C., and Washington was initiated here today by a corporation which sent a cabin plane and a full complement of six passengers over the course in an elapsed flying time of 2 hours and 36 minutes.

Stops were made at Danville, Lynchburg and Charlottesville, connection being made at Washington with other air services, making it possible to reach Chicago at 7:30 p. m. after leaving Danville at 9:20 a. m. One round trip over the route will be made each day until demands for service necessitate more frequent schedules.

NONUNION EMPLOYE SHOT AT IN DANVILLE

400 STRIKERS IN PARADE

Special to The Washington Post.

Danville, Va., Nov. 6.—W. E. Dodson, nonunion textile worker whose home has three times within ten days been attacked by unidentified persons, laid a trap last night for his assailants. Chief of Police Cole, of Schoolfield, placed two deputies in the house to be prepared for the night riders. At 2:50 o'clock this morning a shot entered the home and lodged in the wall a few inches from Dodson's head as he lay in bed. Two more followed. Dodson leaped from his bed and sought the deputies. They were fast asleep, he said, stretched on the kitchen floor. Awakened, they dashed outside, but there was no sign of the gunmen.

Commonwealth's Attorney J. W. Carter was accused today by Buford F. Nash, president of the local union, with "injecting himself unnecessarily" into the strike. "We all know Mr. Carter has passed no compliments on the union, despite the fact that law observance has been unusual," he said.

Mr. Carter took issue last night with a resolution adopted by the union resolutions committee, in which he was quoted as saying that he was satisfied with the conduct of the strike. In an extended reply Carter said he was "far from satisfied with it" and went on to recite a number of outrages recently committed.

Last night 400 strikers paraded through Schoolfield, shouting and cheering. State police were called but they took no action when they found the parade in good humor.

Marvin Mahoney, who came to Danville soon after the strike began and who was arrested for making incendiary utterances, by suggesting that labor might accomplish its ends by the use of dynamite, was sentenced to serve 40 days in the city jail. He had appealed from a magistrate's decision sentencing him to 60 days.

Trial Is Opened In Youth's Death

Dorsey Taylor Facing First-Degree Murder Charge in West Virginia.

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Dorsey Taylor, alias Dorsey Lamb, went on trial here today for the slaying of Alonzo Marino, 18-year-old only son of Constable and Mrs. Louis Marino, of Blairton, a quarry community, near here, September 6. The State asked a verdict of murder in the first degree. The youth was killed while rounding up cows near his home.

The State charged deliberate shooting at the youth, but intimated Taylor might have mistaken the youth for his father. The State says quarry authorities had asked that liquor selling by Taylor be stopped and the youth's father, as constable, would have been the one to act. The defense, in an opening statement, indicated it would claim the shooting was accidental, the shot being intended for a bird in a tree at the scene.

The jury was taken to the scene to view the lay of the land at the opening of the hearing. Judge D. H. Rodgers refused a motion to have "open court" on the spot where the slaying occurred.

TYPHOID FEVER CUT IN PRINCE GEORGES

Only Two New Cases Develop During Month, Health Report Shows.

BIRTH RATE DECLINES

One case of typhoid fever in Prince Georges County last month possibly was due to the collection of sewage in a partially dried stream, according to the report of the health officer issued yesterday. Only two new cases of the disease developed during the month, which shows that it is being stamped out. There was a small epidemic during the summer.

A mild epidemic of scarlet fever was also reported during October in the north end of the county, where there were fifteen cases in a small area. These are believed to have been the result of contact with unrecognized cases.

Out of eighteen cases of diptheria reported, eleven occurred in the lower end of the county, in closely settled communities. These, too, are thought to be the result of the spread of the disease from unrecognized cases. All persons known to have been in contact with the illness have been warned, and are being watched for symptoms.

Births outnumbered deaths by 14, there being 60 of the former and 46 of the latter. The number of births has dropped from last year, however, and the number of deaths has increased from 29 during October, 1929.

John Stickler, of Greater Capitol Heights, was sentenced to serve six months in the Maryland House of Correction yesterday by Judge J. Chew Sheriff, sitting in county police court in Capitol Heights. Stickler was charged with assault and battery on his wife, Virginia.

The woman testified that the man struck her with his fist and threatened her with a knife and an axe. The couple have been married ten years and have one child.

Overruling the Park and Planning Commission when its representative failed to appear at a hearing, the Board of County Commissioners yesterday changed the zoning of four lots in Ducat Town. Lots numbered 4, 5, 6 and 7, belonging to J. Ridley Shields, were changed from residential to commercial.

The commission had refused to approve the change, as it would make for "spotted" zoning, and Mr. Shields took an appeal to the commissioners He appeared at a meeting last week and action was postponed to allow a man from the park commission to appear and state its side of the case. He did not put in an appearance at the hearing yesterday, however, and the case was decided against his body.

A letter from residents of Berwyn to the board was also read, asking that the bridge over the Northeast branch on the Metzerott road be raised three feet at one end to reduce the grade of the road. This request was referred to the State roads engineer for a report on the feasibility of the plan.

The bridge is near the intersection of the road and the Baltimore boulevard, and the recent widening of the latter road has neccessitated making the approach to the highway too steep for safety. Raising one end of the bridge will enable the road between the highway and the bridge to be raised correspondingly, and will reduce the hazard, it is believed.

A coroner's jury last night viewed the body of Robert McKnight, 11, of Decatur Heights, who died at Providence Hospital yesterday as the result of an automobile accident. The jury will meet again tonight to determine the responsibility for the boy's death.

Abe Plisco, living on Pennsylvania avenue near Sixth street, said to be driver of the car which hit the lad, has been released on $500 bond on a charge of reckless driving. McKnight was struck on the Defense highway near his home, although witnesses said that Plisco ran off the road and nearly overturned his machine in attempting to avoid the crash.

Funeral Services Held For Kin of Gov. Ritchie

Special to The Washington Post.

Culpeper, Va., Nov. 6.—Funeral services for Dr. James M. Caskie, a cousin of Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, were held at Remington, near here, today. Dr. Caskie, who was 73 years old, died Tuesday from internal injuries received several weeks ago when he was struck by an automobile.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Olivia Rixey Caskie, and four children, Mrs. Marvin Bowen and Mrs. Harry Stinnette, of Remington; Mrs. Basil Bennett, of Culpeper, and Marion Caskie, of New York. A brother and sister, Clarence Caskie and Miss Alice Caskie, live in Baltimore. Another brother, Kennon Caskie, lives in Roanoke.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

JUST A TRIFLE CURIOUS.

A METROPOLITAN bank and trust company has requested its employes to fill out a questionnaire embracing the following questions:

1. Is your married life harmonious? If not, explain the circumstances.

2. Are both parents living? If so, are they living together? Where?

3. What is your religious faith? What church do you attend? What is the name of your pastor, priest or rabbi? What is his address?

4. Who is your family doctor? His address?

5. Who is your dentist? His address?

6. Does your wife work? Occupation? Salary? By whom is she employed?

7. Do you own an automobile? Did you buy it for cash or on the instalment plan? Is it fully paid for? If not, how much is still owing?

8. Do you belong to a golf club? Name of club, location, initiation fee and yearly dues.

9. Have you any savings bank account? In what banks? In whose name do they stand? Do you have a checking account? In what banks?

10. Do you owe any money to any relative, friend or acquaintance? If so, give details.

* * * *

Answers to the questions in the order given are hereby suggested:

1. No, the wife and I get along like cats and dogs. I can't explain it all in writing. Couldn't you come over some night and see for yourself? I could hide you in the cedar chest or some place.

2. Yes, both parents are living. I'm sorry you brought the other matter up. They are not, since you must know it, living together. Mother, who is 72, ran off last Candelmas Day with a left tackle on Yale's 1929 eleven. Father, who is 69, went to Paris to forget it all and is now the man referred to by all those American tourists who get back and say, "In my entire trip through Europe I only saw one intoxicated man."

3. I'm a Baptist. I'll have the pastor send you his address and a sketch of his life. You'll like him, I'm sure.

4. My family doctor is Dr. Lucius P. Plutzhauf. He lives at 317 Riverside Drive, apartment 8-H. Hours 3 to 5 by appointment only. He's pretty good for asthma.

5. I haven't any dentist just now. Is it compulsory that employes of your bank have a dentist? If so, I think I know where I can get one. The one I had last was Dr. Max Klipp. He hurt like anything and I wouldn't recommend him.

6. I was afraid you would come to this. Yes, my wife works. Steel riveter. Top of Chrysler tower except Saturday afternoons and Sundays. Her employer asks that I keep his name out of this.

7. I have six more payments before the old peanut roadster is mine. What do you drive?

8. My golf club is the Hollyhocks Manor Club. You go through Goose Village and take the second left past the gas station. $300 initiation fee. Dues $200 a year. The caddies get $1 for 18 holes. I use repaints entirely and always look five minutes for a lost tee.

9. Yes, I'm sorry if I have kept you in the dark about my private business like this and am having the bank send you full details.

10. Now that you remind me of it, I borrowed $4 from my Aunt Arabella over a year ago. I forget the details. (If she remembers the details maybe it was $10.)

MAYBE IT SHOULD BE SPRINTS.

ANNE ARUNDEL VOTE GOES TO DEMOCRATS

Revell Has Close Contest in Race Against Monroe for Clerkship.

SCHOOL BOND IS CARRIED

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 6.—Complete returns from the vote cast in Tuesday's election put Anne Arundel County in the wave of Democratic success that swept Maryland and many other States of the Nation. Every candidate on the State and county ticket was returned elected after a clear-cut party battle, but with widely varying majorities in some cases, indicating breaks in the Democratic lines here and there.

The referred law, or million-dollar school bond bill, where party lines did not figure, but was a stand-off fight between taxpayers, came through with flying colors, the figures showing a majority of more than 3,000 for it.

But the outstanding contest, as far as closeness of the result is concerned, was waged around the county clerkship, in which Frank S. Revell, recognized leader of the organization Democratic force, was given the greatest scare of his political career. Frank A. Munroe, retired merchant of Annapolis, his Republican opponent, received a flattering vote in every section of the county, and was holding a very encouraging lead until the vote from the Third and Fifth Districts was received. Meanwhile, Mr. Revell's friends were plainly alarmed. It was realized that these two districts are normally heavily Democratic, but fear was entertained because of the lead of over 1,000 Mr. Munroe had amassed from the other districts. However, the Third and Fifth overcame that to give Mr. Revell a majority of 274.

Other Democratic candidates came through by majorities ranging from 1,300 to more than 4,999. The returns show that Representative Stephen W. Gambrill, reelected to Congress, led the whole ticket. Mr. Gambrill undoubtedly gathered much support from the Republican ranks, as indicated by his total poll of more than 9,000, which gave him a majority of approximately 5,000 over A. Kingsley Love, Republican.

Miss Aldridge was a native of Prince George County but most of her life was spent in this city. She is survived by two brothers, X. F. Aldridge, of Colonial Heights, and C. C. Aldridge, of Prince George County.

Girls Making Boat Trip To Florida Storm-Bound

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 6.—Miss Maude Hughes, of New York City, and Miss Peggy Radcliffe, of Philadelphia, motorboat enthusiasts who left New York Monday for a trip to Miami, Fla., in a 22-foot craft, were stormbound here today. They reached Annapolis yesterday and planned to resume their journey this morning, but deemed it advisable to wait until the high northwest winds abate.

Miss Hughes, as winner of one of the speed boat races held here in connection with the President's Cup regatta in September, received a silver loving cup, presented by Mayor Walter E. Quenstedt, for her skill at the helm.

EYESORES ON ROADS TO CAPITAL DOOMED

Civic Association to End Ugly Hot-Dog Stands and Billboards.

CLEAN-UP BY 1932 IS AIM

The knell of the old-fashioned gas station or hot dog stand reconstructed out of a discarded corn crib or hog pen was sounded yesterday by the American Ivic Association, which has decided that the approaches to the Capital are to be beautified.

Billboards, too, are doomed by the organization which urges a boycott against vendors who cut in on the scenery to advertise their wares. It was proposed at a meeting yesterday at which Frederick A. Delano, chairman of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, presided, that a clean-up campaign be undertaken to rid the highways to Washington of all blemishes and eyesores before the start of the Washington Bicentennial celebration in 1932.

Prizes to Be Offered.

One way to arouse the artistic instincts of filling station and hot-dog stand proprietors was brought out by D. L. Metzler, of the American Automobile Association, who reported that the organization would offer prizes for the most attractive stands and stations.

A possible solution of the billboard menace was suggested by F. W. Besley, Maryland State forester, who urged that trees be planted along the highways so as to obstruct the view to the boards, thus destroying their values as advertising media. Mrs. Edward H. McKeon, State chairman of the committee on billboard restriction of the Garden Clubs of Maryland, advocated radio addresses advising women not to buy from billboard advertisers.

The billboard situation in the District has been checked, according to Maj. D. A. Davison, Assistant Engineer Commissioner, by refusing to grant permits for additional signs.

Law Last Resource.

What to do about the billboards now standing in the District is a problem, he remarked, unless the march of progress be relied upon to oust the boards to make room for new architectural developments.

Reference was made to the action of some communities in forbidding billboards as traffic menaces, such as the zoning ordinance now being worked out by Alexandria, Va., banning signs on curves or within 200 feet of intersections. Mr. Delano said, however, that legislation would be only a last resort after other clean-up plans had failed.

Dr. Howe Delivers Chi Sigma Lecture

Chemistry in Competition Subject of 1930 University of Virginia Talk.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Dr. Harrison E. Howe, of Washington, tonight delivered the 1930 Chi Sigma public lecture on chemistry, on the subject, "Chemistry in the Modern Competition," before an audience of students and residents in the main hall of the Chemical Building.

As has been the custom of the lectures, which have been delivered annually, Dr. Howe, who is editor of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, devoted his address to the popular exposition of recent outstanding contributions of chemistry to mankind.

The lectures are sponsored by the University of Virginia chapter of the national fraternity, Alpha Chi Sigma, for the purpose of advancing the general understanding of chemical science and promoting interest in its progress. Dr. Howe has been editor of the official technical publication of the American Chemical Society since 1922.

VOCATIONAL WORK WILL BE STARTED

School Board for Fairfax County Names Group to Study Project.

COSTS TO BE KEPT DOWN

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST,
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Clarendon 2324-W-2.

The Fairfax County School Board, at its meeting yesterday, took another step in the establishment of vocational guidance. A committee composed of Divisional Superintendent Wilbert T. Woodson and Trustees Herbert Williams, of the Providence district, and F. Shield McCandlish, of Fairfax, was appointed to investigate the feasibility of inaugurating at least a limited program of vocational education.

When making up the budget for the coming year, the board contemplated establishment of a centrally located vocational high school. This was abandoned temporarily and now the plan appears to be for teaching this work in all the schools, on a part-time basis, pending erection of the central school.

The board received numerous requests from school leagues and parents for assistance in redecorating and making certain improvements to buildings and for transportation of children to school. Supt. Woodson was instructed to advise all making such requests that the board is not able to undertake any added expense, because of the uncertainty over this year's tax collections by the county treasurer.

The board also refused to employ janitors for school buildings which lack large furnaces. It authorized payment of bills totaling $7,747.59, a literary bond out of the Providence special levy amounting to $452.88 and renewal of the Dranesville special loan note, with interest amounting to $4,160.

On the recommendation of Trustee Vernon Lynch, of the Falls Church district, the board appropriated an amount not exceeding $500 for grading the school grounds at Baileys Cross Roads out of the Falls Church district special levy. Expenditure of $300 on furniture and equipment for the recently completed vocational building at Herndon was authorized.

Capt. F. R. Lyons, of Fort Humphreys, addressed the board concerning the school condition and facilities of the military reservation.

The official returns from Tuesday's election, as certified yesterday by the Fairfax County election canvass board, composed of Samuel H. Styles, Herbert O. Blunt, B. W. Middleton, H. J. Kidwell and J. C. Hunter, were announced as follows: For senator, Carter Glass, Democratic candidate, received 1,664 votes; J. Cloyd Byars, Independent, 739, and Joe C. Morgan, Socialist, 142. For representative, Howard W. Smith, Democrat, had 1,800; Dr. F. W. Brooks, Republican, 872; John M. Daniel, Independent, 14, and R. Walton Moore 1.

The final vote on the water bond issue in the town of Fairfax was certified as follows: 171 cast, of which 137 were for the issue, 33 against and 1 void.

In accordance with the order issued by Judge Walter T. McCarthy, of the Fairfax County Circuit Court, County Clerk F. W. Richardson certified a list containing 30 names to Sheriff Eppa P. Kirby, of which he is to summon 26 for felony jury duty at the November term of court, which will open November 18.

These names were certified:

W. B. Davison, Vienna; C. C. Carr, Fairfax; E. Ernest Gibson, Herndon; John Middleton, Herndon; J. L. Burke, Clifton; H. L. Collier, Clifton; B. F. Kerns, Fairfax; L. C. Anderson, Tyson's Cross Roads; W. H. Norton, Mount Vernon; Mason P. Smith, Floris; G. W. Craig, Chantilly; J. W. Day, Kenmore; Holden H. Harrison, Herndon; Marshall Davis, Lorton; Frank W. Rice, Burke; B. H. Hinton, Gum Springs; M. D. McLean, Franconia; Harvey M. Cross, Fairfax; Allan Bradley, Floris; F. B. Whitacre, Forestville; J. W. Murphey, Herndon; Henry A. Hollins, Leesburg Pike; Robert L. Herman, Falls Church; Charles P. Arnold, Merrifield; Irving L. Kenyon, Oakton; U. S. Blair, Lewinsville; John Briar, Mount Vernon; E. G. Hirst, Falls Church, and Wilbur Bowman, Oakton.

Those summoned for civil jury duty, to appear November 19, are as follows: R. E. Wagstaff, Pleasant Valley; A. B. Glover, Forestville; F. S. Edwards, Oakton; James R. Taylor, Fairfax Station; George W. Mock and A. H. Buell, Herndon; C. M. Royer, Jermantown road; E. C. Riggles, Butts Corner, and A. D. Donohue, Little River Pike.

The three organizations of St. Timothy's Episcopal Church at Herndon, the Woman's Auxiliary, the Fellowship Club and the Rector's Aid Society, will give a joint oyster and chicken pie supper this evening in the basement of the Herndon Methodist Episcopal Church. The proceeds will be used to purchase a new carpet for the church and to pay off the indebtedness on the furnace.

Members of the Southern Methodist Church at Andrew Chapel are planning to serve an oyster supper tomorrow evening in the Andrew Chapel School. The proceeds will be used to pay the church's share of installing running water in the Southern Methodist Church parsonage at Fairfax.

The ways and means committee of the Parent-Teacher Association of Falls Church, with Mrs. J. W. Garner as chairman, will present a moving picture program this evening and tomorrow evening in the auditorium of the Presbyterian Church on Broad street, in Falls Church. The proceeds will go for the purchase of reference books, athletic equipment and violins for the Madison School.

The Students' Mission Crusade Union of the St. James' Catholic Church at West Falls Church will hold its rally meeting this evening at the home of Miss Anne Crimmins.

Confederate States Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will give a card party tomorrow evening at the home of Miss Hazel Davis in Burke, for the benefit of the chapter.

The Falls Church Chapter of Kings Daughters met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Henry Coward on Brown avenue and elected Mrs. R. D. Rollinson as leader. Mrs. A. L. Hough becomes vice leader; Mrs. Marshall Boone secretary, and Mrs. John S. Trabold treasurer. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hough in the Ontario apartments, Washington.

The School and Community League at Andrew Chapel will meet this evening in the schoolhouse. Pupils will present an entertainment program after the business meeting.
